The "Brooklyn Daily Union" speaks as follows of these artists: * * The principal and greatest attraction at these concerts is the superb playing of M. and Mme. Heine, who, if it is possible, grow nightly greater favorites with the public. In looking over Josef Heine's repertoire, which he is a perfect marvel. His solo last evening provoked a deafening encore and when he commenced selections from Scottish airs the enthusiasm of the very large audience knew no bounds. Heine's playing is pronounced by all to be extraordinary, while competent musical authorities assert that he is equal to any of the great masters.
