

VALLEY RECORD.

ASHLAND, OR., THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1889.

It is said the Pope is thinking of moving to Spain to live.

Philadelphia expects to negotiate a large loan for public improvements at 2 per cent on long-time bonds.

The telegraph says another cabinet crisis is impending in France. It is about time. The present cabinet is nearly six months old.

Miss Mildred Fuller, fourth daughter of the chief justice, is going to study law under the direction of her father after her graduation from Wells college.

Dr. Talmage is now on his summer vacation, but will combine business with pleasure. His summer agent is noted as the coast arranging dates for lectures by the great sensationist.

Miss Francis E. Willard evidently expects to live to a green old age. She says she believes that she will live to see Chicago without a saloon in it. She will be the only one in town if she does.

The democracy made a clean sweep at the city election in the progressive city of Fort Townsend, W. T., Tuesday. Both sides contested it vigorously and the democrats came off with a majority of 125. The town has heretofore been republican.

The greenback party is not all dead yet, it seems. A notice from Washington announces that one Geo. O. Jones, chairman of the national committee, has issued an invitation for state conventions Sept. 4th next, to elect delegates to a national convention at Cincinnati Sept. 17.

Mrs. Wamsucker has just returned from Europe. One of the court journal announcements: "Her long residence abroad, chiefly in Paris, was for the purpose of educating her daughter, Miss Wamsucker, in an education used to be good enough, and has to be yet for common folks who don't sell 'gent's pants cheap'."

An Ashland minister thinks these floods, fires, and general devastation that has alighted on the people lately is a "visitation of Providence" heaped on the people for their sinfulness. "Golly! Providence must be awful mad. Wonder if us democrats hadn't better lay it onto the change of administration."

San Francisco dispatch July 7th: Seth Low, a prominent young republican, who was recently mayor of Brooklyn, N. Y., and who created something of a sensation in the Empire state during the last campaign by deserting to the standard of Harrison, is at the Palace hotel, with Mrs. Low. They will leave for the North in a few days, en route to Alaska.

The announcement of a royal wedding in England is not received with the manifestation of joy that should be expected. The reason for this is the taxpayers know that a dowry will be expected, and the national treasury will be depleted to the extent of the settlement made. The queen's family is a large one, and it takes a good deal of money to go round.

It is stated that many women who could have easily escaped in the Cone-maugh valley flood refused to do so because it was impossible to rescue their husbands. Scarcely that any of these women, in scores calmly permitted the rush of waters to sweep them away. Instances after instance of the sublime heroism will crowd the annals of that ill-fated valley.

General Simon Cameron died at his home in Lancaster, Pa., last week, aged 90 years. Simon Cameron was very wealthy and has been variously estimated to be worth all the way from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000. Left an orphan, as he was, at the age of 9 years, beginning life as a printer, his rapid rise in later years to wealth and power, his career was a striking illustration of rapid advancement.

Land sells cheaper on Long Island, N. Y., virtually an outlying suburb of New York and Brooklyn. The real estate trades are held at this time the same distance from Portland in either direction. The New York papers of last month report a sale of 400 acres of Long Island, a locality called "Great South Bay," for $80,000, which is at the rate of $200 per acre, adjoining a country seat of Wm. K. Vanderbilt, suburban Portland property of an distant relative vicinity, is rated at more than double the Long Island valuation.—[W.C.]

General Gordon, now governor of Georgia, whose soldierly appearance and superb horsemanship were so universally admired during the great centennial parade, was the recipient of much hospitality from the New York people during his stay in that city. At a dinner, to which he was invited, a young Englishman, a lieutenant of the "guards," possessed with the idea that he was a great orator of great outside of England, informed him that he did not think the soldiers in that parade presented a military appearance. "Perhaps not," courteously replied Governor Gordon, "but when it comes to fighting there was more desperate fighting and there were more men killed and wounded in our late war than there have been in all the wars of England from the time of William the Conqueror." The Englishman did not get much by presuming upon the want of love of General Gordon for the soldiers of the north.

Below we give that portion of Louis S. Fiske & Co's circular on the wool market that will, we think, be of interest to our wool growers: The market throughout is strong and tending upward. Prices of most descriptions are advanced in this week's table of quotations fully one cent per pound, although the figures in many cases are at a great extent nominal, in absence of supplies. Demand, locally, is not active, but it is improving and trade is probably as good as could be expected in view of the state of the market and limited stocks. Manufacturers prefer the advanced prices gradually and only for such amounts as are imperatively required for near wants, but the market is steadily strengthening and buyers are compelled to submit to the rising prices of holders, or go without supplies. Dealers themselves are in the market for such lots of desirable wools as can be picked up at any better advantage than similar wools can be bought in the west.

Hevo and Heroine. Ellensburg dispatch: The hero of the fire here is D. A. Holbrook, who made his way to the third story of the burning Ashler house to save a sick stranger. Finding the man had been rescued, he tried to save himself, but smoke nearly overpowered him and he fell down. Picking himself up, he made his way to a window and fell out of it onto a balcony twelve feet below. The balcony was burning and flames were hissing all around him. He escaped by the side of a door, and was rescued by a fireman who was passing by. He was painfully burned about the face and neck.

The heroine of the day is Mrs. A. Mires, wife of one of the delegates to the constitutional convention. When she saw her home was threatened by the fire, she single handed and alone, and carried her children and clothing to a safe place. Her shoulder was dislocated by the fall of a piece of furniture, but she set it herself and got a horse and played a stream on the fire for four hours.

Primeville papers quote: In this market wool brings 12 cents to 14 cents per pound. Flour is worth $1.10 per barrel. Oats 60 cents per bushel, barley 75 cents, potatoes 50 cents. Beans 15 cents, shoulders 11 cents. Hay is worth $10 to $15 per ton, better 20 cents per pound, and eggs 30 cents per dozen.

Is a soldier's life worth living? It depends on the liver.

When an officer is out seeking a man it is like a ghost. It starts every body.

The work of building the 1,600,000 bushel grain elevator at Portland has commenced.

Manilla county has spent over $10,000 for a set of abstract books prepared by J. H. Robinson.

The board of inquiry has prepared an estimate of the losses by the Johnstown flood, and make the total in excess of eight million dollars.

A general understanding exists among senators and representatives that an extra session of Congress will be called to meet about the first of November.

George Lewis, the celebrated English criminal lawyer, has charge of two libel suits located by the Portland press. One is "Bonanza" King, against London papers.

What's the name of your typographic pen? The Anarchist. It's an appropriate name. Why? Because it won't work more than one day in a month.

As might have been expected, the notorious Mrs. Judge Sarah, Althea, Hill, Sharon, Terry, is announced for the lecture platform at the Laura D. Fair, Stokes, Tilton et al.

The last legislature changed the time of making the abstract of mortgages from the first of August to the first of July, and all mortgages which have been paid and not satisfied will be listed for assessment.

The advantage of the Pedagogic Merritt—if you keep it. You will soon know as much as your teacher. Little John—Did you know that if I had the book before me like she does.—[Harper's Bazar.]

Mrs. Deshabille (to old Blunt)—Are you interested in this dressed neck question, Mr. Blunt? Old Blunt—Well, Mrs. Deshabille, I suppose I am. I'm in favor of dressed loins.—[EX.]

Photographer—My dear sir, can't you assume a more smiling countenance and throw off your camera? Rev. V. V. Heighon—Take me as I am. I have a camera in my stomach, and these pictures are for distribution among my parishioners.

Portland citizens are trying to clean out the harbor of the "Herald." They are going to right under the nose of its most fashionable church, the Taylor-street M. One of the old things is that some of the bondsmen of these soiled doves are men prominent in business, society and religion of that city.

Sullivan says he will not accept Fox's bet either for himself or his building. It is estimated that Sullivan will realize twenty thousand dollars as a result of the fight. Sullivan will make Kilrain a present of five hundred dollars. Kilrain lost eight and Sullivan six and one-half pounds during the battle.

The Chinaman Enquirer says: Does every one remember the intense indignation in Charleston, S. C., over the murder of Editor Dawson? Ah, well, the jury has acquitted his murderer. This everything is made satisfactory. The indignation was quite needless to those who loved Dawson, and the acquittal is eminently satisfactory to the man who killed him.

We notice that all the defunct cashiers, book-keepers, treasurers, confidential clerks, etc., seem to be splendid fellows, generous, unselfish, pious men, devoted to their families and friends. All they lack is honesty. If they had just enough honesty to sit down and save their other good qualities, they would be invaluable to their employes and to society.—[EX.]

The first car of plums this season was shipped Saturday night by Levy & Spigel, on the N. P. passenger train via the Chicago & Northwestern through to Chicago. The fruit came from Dr. J. H. Cardwell's orchard and was picked from the trees wrapped, packed, loaded and shipped in fourteen hours—the quickest time ever made in the fruit business in the N. W.—[Oregonian.]

Spring in Union which were thought to be never failing, are now dried up. Warner lake is lower than ever known before. Lakewick, in Lake county, which was located several years ago on the shore of Goose lake is now five miles distant from that body of water.—[EX.]

The new York World states that Mrs. S. P. Pierce, a daughter of the late Hon. Chas. G. Faulkner, of Martinsburg, W. Va., who is now slowly recovering under the treatment of Dr. Lewis Sayre, has sustained with fortitude one of the most wonderful operations ever attempted. Every bone in her body was broken, as a means of relief from the ossification produced by virulent inflammatory rheumatism.

New potatoes were sold for five cents a pound on Tuesday. Saturday, the estate of Mrs. Rehart and her attorney left for San Francisco Monday, the testimony in divorce case having been concluded.

A. L. Smith, an Albatross teamster, Monday took the largest load of wool to Red Bluffs lake in his own wagon, a load of 10,000 lbs. of wool, on the road below. Although, unless buyers have left about $50,000 in Lake county this season.

Harry Cattle, helping to drive 100 head of horses belonging to Allen Henry of Chico, Cal., has been laying over to spend the 4th of July here. The animals were with the idea that he was a great orator of great outside of England, informed him that he did not think the soldiers in that parade presented a military appearance. "Perhaps not," courteously replied Governor Gordon, "but when it comes to fighting there was more desperate fighting and there were more men killed and wounded in our late war than there have been in all the wars of England from the time of William the Conqueror." The Englishman did not get much by presuming upon the want of love of General Gordon for the soldiers of the north.

The amount of building now in progress in Josephine county, this shows an increase over last year of 227.

Several parties have built new skills this season and are having fine sport weaving running up and down the river, as well as the catching of them. One party mentioned some weeks ago, has sent about seventy-five pounds of his wool to San Francisco to have its quality tested.

Mr. Frank T. Shepherd, recently editor of the Courier, started with his family for California last Friday. His many friends here wish him success wherever he may cast his lot.

Messrs. Hackett and Schilde, of southern Kansas, were in town the latter part of last week, with a view of starting a bank, they were very favorably impressed with our city, and have not made up their minds in regard to the matter.—[Grant's Pass Courier, July 9th.]

Reports from all parts of the country indicate that the north winds did not do as much damage as was expected. The rains may be short, but there is grain enough now in the county to last another year, even if no grain at all is raised this season.—[Oregonian.]

The latest rumors for the future, whisper of a bank, a railroad and a period of general advancement for Klamath county at no distant day. We now hope that the valley will receive a new impetus, and non-progression into the broad, full light of civilization and progress.

Chas. S. Moore, Simpson Wilson and J. W. Hanaker, visited the road from Keno to the state line last week. They say that the road will be changed in some places, in order to get a easier grade. They will go over the road between here and Lakewick probably next week.—[Linkville Star.]

New Web-Winding Machine. Lodge Bros., the well known of Ashland, whose work has extended all over the valley, will receive a new improved web-winding machine in a few weeks, that will surely supply the wants of their business. Its capacity will be a depth of one hundred feet.

ASHLAND BOOT & SHOE STORE.

There are Two Ways of Doing Business!

One, the deadly trap—buying tax-laden credit goods and selling them at every cent they will bring. The other Fair (Gold 22 karat), for SPOT CASH at the lowest margin.

The old idea of extracting the last drop of blood has lived its day and done its worst, modern aggressive ideas demand a change from ancient usages that dwarfed and shriveled and destroyed.

There is many a level-headed, hard working fellow who, from the snatches of slumber in the dreams of Fairyland, comes many a fitful vision of a better and brighter day; who knows that buying on credit is disastrous, but with the hard, cold cash is looking for a place where he can get the best and most goods for the least money. Not by force, but by merit alone have we gained an enviable trade; each week sees more goods arrive and each week sees them sold, all on account of buying and selling for cash at the smallest possible margin.

We carry TINWARE, CUTLERY, Ratchet Braces, Hand Saws, Hatchets, Files, etc.

Gent's Underwear, Overshirts, White Shirts, Pants, Coats, Sox, Straw Hats, Linen and Zylonite Collars and Cuffs, fine line of Neckties.

Ladies' elegant skirts, chemise, vests, veils, hose, etc.

Laces, Embroidery, Corsets, kid, cotton and Lisle three gloves, Silk, linen and cotton handkerchiefs and stationery.

WE INVITE A REPEATED AND EARLY INSPECTION and if there is virtue in good goods and low prices, we mean to be masters of the situation.

Yours very truly, G. E. DEAN, MAIN STREET, ASHLAND, - - - OREGON.
