W. H. Shook arrived Friday from Siler City, Idaho, and is visiting in Ashand at the home of his brother, I. N. Shook, after a siege of several months running down a nest of dangerous stock thieves who have for years been a holy terror to Langell valley, Klamath county. Shook Bros. had about become tired of the idea that the courts as long as they are composed of men whose main object is to draw out all the money there is in of the year to the other to keep themselves in office] would ever take hold of the thieving and bulldozing going on in that section. They proceeded to screw up their nerve, took the matter in their own hands and have now about broken the backbone of this tough gang, though it has cost them considerable money and came within a hair's breadth of the lives of John Shook and Will Shook. But they had plenty of courage, which always wins in the long run. Will Shook will remain here until the index finger shot off, heals up. He will then to to county, were visiting friends at Sterling and Redding, where the trial of Josh Buck- Jacksonville this week.
