Potatoes for the East.

Last year about this time carload upon carload of potatoes were shipped from Iowa and Nebraska to supply the home market. The crop has changed hands and last week W. T. S. Patton of this city shipped five carloads of Burbanks and Kings potatoes to the St. Louis, Mo., market. T. Shattuck of Grants Pass left Saturday for that city to dispose of them.

The President's Tour.

President Harrison has spent over a week traveling through the southern states and every community has been striving to entertain him. While working alone, he spilled a rope used to hoist gravel out of a pit and reset it on a large drum which he started to revolving, when his leg became entangled in a coil of rope and he was drawn up to the drum. The leg was completely pulled off near the knee, while the other was crushed to a jelly. Both legs have been amputated, but little hopes are entertained for his life.

Probably a Cannery.

John Bays and Charley Yen went to San Francisco Friday to figure on a railroad contract in Santa Barbara county, Cal. Should they fail to get this contract, Charley Yen, the Chinese broker of this city, will return and start a cannery in Ashland. Yen is a shrewd and intelligent man and sees the benefit such an enterprise will be to the country as well as to the owner, and he is determined to coin to make the enterprise a success. In answer to an inquiry he said the cannery will be a plant, sufficiently large enough to consume the fruit crop of this year, and will be enlarged next season. Asked if he will ask a bonus of the citizens of Ashland he said no, he only asks the good will and patronage of the public. Yen will return from San Francisco soon, when it will be learned definitely whether the thing is a go or not.

Central Point Notes.

Jas. Park has gone to California.

Chas. Bippy is laid up for repairs.

Central Point is gradually getting lively.

There is a prospect for a match race here the last of September. Fredenburg's imported stallion and Rippey's Grey Cup for $100 a side.

The entertainment given here last Saturday night was a decided success and the parties interested acquired themselves decidedly.

Central Point will have a full-fledged newspaper this week and no doubt it will be subscribed for by the West.

Great preparations are being made for the May Day ball. It will be held in the St. Cloud hotel. Everyone is sure to have a good time that attends as the best music has been furnished and Fredenburg never fails to give a good supper.

Dr. T. P. Frye, Geo. W. and Fred are attending Mrs. Baker's adopted child, which has an attack of pseudo membrane croup. A hole was cut in its windpipe in order to save its life. The temperature of the room is kept at 72 degrees and the little fellow is getting along finely.

I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to My's Cream Balm, and I do so entirely without solicitation. I have used it more or less for a year, and have found it a most efficacious remedy for all the ailments of the worst kind ever since I was a little boy, and I never hoped for a cure, but it cured me. I have used it with excellent results. I bear Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The trip has been supported by the populace. There are quite a number of cases. Our constable and a postmaster are among the afflicted.

Sam Matthews of Birley creek is the guest of W. V. Jones this week. Sam's health is very poor.

E. L. Farna and wife, of Rock Point precinct, had the misfortune to lose their only child after a brief illness on the 10th inst. The child was a bright and promising child aged 1 year, 4 months and 13 days, and was the joy and pride of his parents. His untimely death has claimed him. His parents have the sincere sympathy of the whole community.

The friend of his is spoken of as "The little son has had."

And fond ones look upon him.

And say, "He's dead."

Nay, he's not dead, there is no death.

To be with those who love him.

To that bright eternal shore.

Mr. Stevenson is a citizen of Medford and has many testimonials as to his reliability. The works he is canvassing for need no comment.

Lost Both of His Legs.

Yreka, Cal., April 20.—A Portuguese miner on the Klamath river some distance from here met with a terrible accident yesterday. While working alone, he spilled a rope used to hoist gravel out of a pit and reset it on a large drum which he started to revolving, when his leg became entangled in a coil of rope and he was drawn up to the drum. The leg was completely pulled off near the knee, while the other was crushed to a jelly. Both legs have been amputated, but little hopes are entertained for his life.

Death of Mrs. D. Rice.

Mrs. Mary M. Rice was born in Erie, Pa., Feb. 29, 1824, and was married to Dr. D. B. Rice in Monmouth, Ill., September 29, 1846. They removed to Albany, Or., twenty-six years ago, and Dr. Rice died in 1880. Two children survive her, Dr. Lyle Rice and Miss Nellie Rice, who came from a prominent Presbyterian family of Pennsylvania, and early converted faith in Christ, was consistent Christian and died a peaceful death. The funeral from her late residence Monday afternoon, was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, and religious exercises being conducted by Rev. F. G. Strange of the Presbyterian church.

Klamath Indian Blood Spilled.

The Indians down about Oak Bar, on the Klamath river have been making angels out of their "medicine man" and another "good" Indian. The Yreka Journal says the trouble grew out of superstitious notion that an Indian known as Snelling, gave an Indian girl some kind of medicine, under the influence of which she was seduced from the home of her parents. Snelling and another Indian was killed by Sambo and his son, and others who shot the trouble were also seriously wounded. Some Indians from the Oregon reservation made the attack on the Hamlet, Bar Indians, and there is likely to be more trouble unless the Oregon reservation Indians acknowledge, as the Scott valley and Happy Camp Indians, as well as several half-breeds, are coming to settle the difficulty according to Indian regulations, without the necessity of county taking any hand in the affair, an enormous cost to the taxpayers. The Indians who shot the others have fled to the mountains and are no doubt back in Oregon, where they came from.

Concerning Alaska Officials.

Washington, April 21.—A member from one of the Pacific coast states gives a conversation he had with the president a few days before he left for the West. The president was greatly surprised at the action of Governor Knapp, of Alaska. He had known Knapp for years as one of the ablest temperance men of the country, and that he would not be so easily swayed as he had been before either too stupid or lazy to put a cannery in this whole valley, comprising probably the largest fruit country on the coast without such an institution. None have thought of doing it without a bonus of $1500 or $2000.

Common Lumber $12.50 per thousand.

At Eastern prices. Give us a call.

J. J. Owen and Capt. W. A. Bushnell of San Jose were out looking at the mining prospects in the Wagner creek section of the county of Oregon.

The president had great confidence in his man for governor, taking occasion to praise him about the time he was appointed to some Pacific coast office. Lately the president recalled how well pleased he was with Knapp when he appointed him and alluded to his lamentable violation of a law in a way showing that he was greatly astonished at the recent developments. It is believed that several more Alaska officials will be removed shortly.

A Pacific coast senator said today that he had just received a letter from an acquaintance in Alaska, stating that the people of that territory would send long petitions to congress early next session, asking that laws regulating the importation and sale of liquor be so changed as to allow Alaska to have saloons. The senator doubted very much whether congress would favor them with such legislation, and he said that the Alaska people would find it difficult to get anyone to introduce such a bill in congress.

Edward T. Hatch, who was recently appointed collector of customs for the district of Alaska, has promised to appoint an deputy collector at Junction City.

A. Ward, of Astoria, Or. The treasury officials believe that the present deputy collector at Junction City is in violation of the liquor law, for which Pracht was removed. It is believed that he allowed the entry of liquor, well knowing that they were intended for the use of saloons. It is said that in Juneau, a town of about 1500 people, there have been forty-eight saloons in full blast and that what ever was made by the public officials to suppress them. It is also understood at the treasury department that this deputy collector has been in violation of the territorial law, and is to be removed for several reasons. So far no other appointments have been agreed upon. Collector Hatch will be interviewed by the Oregon delegation, all of whom are now in this city, in choosing his deputies. Two additional deputies will be designated by him, to be stationed at the new ports.

Senator Plumb is backing a Kansas man for one of the places, and Representative Lind will secure one appointment from Minnesota.

Lumber! Lumber!

Adam Lettcken of Ashland wanted some information on his own book and sent three copies of the Record to D. B. Savage of Springfield, Mo., one of the magistrates before whom the preliminary examination occurred. The following is Judge Savage's reply to the letter of inquiry:

Springfield, Mo., April 15, 1903. Mr. A. H. Lettcken, Ashland, Or. Dear Sir: Your letter of the 7th inst. at hand and contents noted. Will reply to you as soon as I am prepared to give you a full history of Mrs. Emma Molloy's past life. From all accounts a history of her past life would make a most secure and no doubt very interesting reading. I can only say her reputation here in Springfield and Greene county is of the very worst character. From what I know of her I don't think anything is too low or great for her to do. I don't think the editor of any paper can hurt her by any publications he may see fit to make. All that saved her here from the fate of Graham was her sex. I don't doubt one word of what Charley Graham's testimony. On the other hand I think it is every word true. There is no doubt that Sarah Graham was murdered and thrown into the well, and there is no doubt that Cora Lee fired the fatal shot that killed her. As for Mrs. Molloy, she was present at the trial, she knew all about it after it was done and tried her best to shield the guilty parties. And there is no doubt in my mind that if Geo. Graham had been tried and convicted, he would have developed to your every assertion. I have made and a great many more. Yours,

D. B. SAVAGE.

Justice of the Peace Campbell township.

A singular case of misplaced mutual affection as reported by E. C. Ball, of Little Lake, a town which had her nest in a deep hole in a hovering over and around a pile of pies. She spreads her wings over as much of the litter as they will cover, picks for them, clicks among them and exhibits all other signs of narrow-headed love. When the shadow of a hawk sweeps over the earth she gives the "whir-click-click" but the con-founded pies don't appreciate it, and at such times she is well nigh distracted. She is a spectacle, that has a Linkville star.

Reverend Cantrell was over from Applegate Saturday.

BREVITY BASKET.

The Medford freight car burglars got two years in the penitentiary. It is a kind Providence that tempers the wind to the new straw hat.
