VALLEY RECORD.

ASHLAND OR.... THURSDAY, May 21 1891

The People's Paper.

With last week's issue the VALLEY RECORD commenced Vol. 1 of its fourth year.

The president got home to the White House Friday, having traveled 10,000 miles on a single train, and made 140 speeches.

The good people who are agitated over keeping the world's fair open on Sunday are worrying themselves unnecessarily. They can go to church on Sunday and let the sinful go to the fair.

The railroad blockade that kept the wheat crop of the Columbia valley and Palouse country from getting to market is not so bad since wheat has gone up to nearly $1 a bushel —Salem Journal.

An Ontario man proposes to exterminate coyotes with sponges boiled in lard. The boiling condenses the sponge and the lard makes it toothsome to the coyote. He eats it, it swells and—good-by, Mr. Coyote.

The emperor of Germany seems to be bossing the Faderland without the assistance of the old-timers. His name and doings are under discussion in the press of the world as much as any of the earth's statesmen,

There are 2000 crazy people in Iowa—500 more than in 1889. The Iowa doctors say it is because the people in Iowa work too hard and never have any fun, and there is a great deal of truth in what the doctors say, too.

New York is in the same boat with Oregon. The legislature adjourned without making an appropriation for the world's fair. The politicians are absolutely disgusted because they expected to be delegated to spend the money.

The Oregon state officials, despaired of aid from the federal government, have commenced to build the portage road around the Cascades of the Columbia. Gov. Pennoyer says it will be completed in four months with the $60,000 appropriated by the legislature.

The Delaware peach growers are already counting up their profits from what promises to be an enormous peach crop. They are reckoning on a yield of 7,000,000 baskets, for which they will get 60 cents a basket, delivered at the local stations. This would bring them $4,200,000.—Ex.

A Texas stockman says the cattle exportation from that state this year will fall far short of any previous year. The cattle are there but are being fattened at home instead of shipped to northern ranges. The cattle are also being improved by crossing with thoroughbreds.

Thomas C. Wilkins, of Independence, Or., who died on the 23d ult., was National Alliance organizer for the state. He began the work and organized the first alliance. The question is, will he one day have a monument erected therefor to his memory by Oregon.—Salem Journal.

In the case of Tatum Bowen vs. Hugh Glenn, in the United States circuit court, Judge Deady held that a surviving partner may be sued for the debts of the firm, it not appearing that he had relinquished the administration of the effects of the firm, and that plaintiff might join a claim against him individually in the same action as against him as surviving partner.

The Cathlamet Gazette has it on good authority that the government intends before any more of the unsurveyed public domain is thrown open to the public, to have the lands carefully cruised over by a government agent, and the different qualities classed as timber and agricultural land. Hence the endless dispute regarding the question of timber vs. agricultural land will be entirely obviated.

Ex-Sheriff A. W. Charlton of Lake county is a straight out democrat whose unselfish devotion to a fine sense of honor and principle is not generally found in this avaricious age. He has given his note to that county for $300—33⅓ per cent fees collected while in office, which the supreme court has since declared unconstitutional. He refunded the amount voluntarily, and was under no legal obligation to do so.

The codlin moth is now ready for business. The miller that lays the egg is now winged and flitting about industriously depositing eggs on the young fruit. Bring out the spray guns and go after them in earnest. If you do not know the innocent looking marauder of orchards, lose no time in learning to recognize it at sight. Call on some neighbor who does know the mother of the codlin moth and get him to show the little terror to you.

Some one suggests that the belief of Bismarck, who has been one of the most ardent supporters of the divine right of kings to rule, has probably received some modification since the Emperor William has so persistently and thoroughly sat down upon him, metaphorically speaking. There is no cure so thorough and perfect as a personal application, well laid on.

Wanamaker kicked over the good opinion he created here by referring in Portland to this city as the "little town of Salem on the boundary of the state." He got got things horribly mixed.—Salem Statesman. Perhaps he insinuates that Ashland is a "little town." The postmaster-general's joints are loose when he refers to the Granite city in such flippant terms.

President Harrison says, "Every dollar we issue must be as good as any other dollar." We should like to know which is the dollar, and which is the other dollar. The president's statement that he is in favor of "hon st money" would have been of value if he had explained what he considers honest money. Perhaps he wished, however, to allay an impression that he is in favor of dishonest money.

A sure cure for the whisky habit: Dr. Livingstone's Antidote for Drunkenness will cure any case of the liquor habit in from ten to thirty days, from drinker to the drunkard. The Antidote can be given in a cup of coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. The Antidote will not injure the health in any way. Manufactured by the Livingstone Chemical Co., San Francisco, Cal., and for sale by T. K. Bolton.

Klamath County Items.

Judge Smith is in San Francisco.

A. M. Peterman, the contractor and builder, is fitting up the new law office of Cogswell & Hale.

J. H. Russell, of the Ashland marble works, is in the county with his agent, Ed. Blakeman, who is selling his artistically fashioned marbles, gravestones and monuments.

It is rumored that a party of railroad surveyors of five taciturn men are surveying in Tule lake valley, running the grades down to the lake and setting stakes. Real estate values have risen greatly within the last few days.

We understand that the Little Klamath ditch is to be 30 feet wide, in order to accommodate a small, flat-bottomed steamer, which the company propose to put on for freight and passenger service. This would bring Tule lake to the front and increase the value of property up there 75 per cent in one year.—Linkville Star.

MAX PRACHT'S CASE.

The Alaskan of Sitka says: The cause of the removal as given in the dispatch from Washington, is the alleged violation of the law regulating the importation of liquors into the territory, for sale under the provisions of the organic act of 1884, which provide for the sale of such for "medicinal, mechanical, and scientific purposes:" some "temperance people" in the territory having complained to the president of the issuance of licenses by the governor, and the granting of permits to such as had the governor's licenses, by the collector, It is claimed by the collector that both the governor and himself, proceeded in strict conformity with the intent of the law, in the interests of good morals and the crushing out of the large and influential band of whiskey smugglers who infest this section of the territory.

When President Harrison removed Mr. Pracht it was said, with an intimation that Pracht, the governor and U. S. marshal were feathering their own nests with the proceeds, that there are between 200 and 300 saloons doing an open business under these licenses, each having paid $250 (per annum).

The Alaskan says the bald facts are that "only five licenses were issued, three in Juneau, and two in Wrangell, and not one of them had (to exceed) two permits each from the collector—that is to say, one each per month during the time of the experiment."

The board of United States general appraisers has recently rendered a decision sustaining the protest of F. Muhlhauser & Co. against the rate of duty charged by the collector of customs at Cleveland, O., upon a shipment of "wool waste," made under the old law.

The firm here named is the largest firm of shoddy manufacturers in the country. Nearly a year ago a description of the company's plant at Cleveland appeared in The American Wool Reporter, and in this article the establishment was referred to as "the most extensive shoddy mills in this country, and probably the largest in the world."

These mills were further described by the correspondent of The Reporter as follows:

"The production of these mills is very large, and since the new addition has been in operation 20,000 pounds per day has been turned out, yielding an annual product of about 5,000,000 pounds. Their last pay roll shows over 480 hands employed; their help are mostly Bohemians. They have 300 sorters to keep the material ready for the machinery. This plant was first established in 1871.

The shoddy business has grown to look upon itself as one of the legitimate industries of the country, entitled to a voice in shaping legislation and influencing elections. Last summer the shoddy men were clamorous for the passage of the McKinley bill, with its high duties on wool and woolen goods, and in the last presidential election they ranged themselves upon the side of protection and aided in the agitation to defeat the Mills bill, which they said was a free trade measure to them.

Now that the McKinley law is in force it is more difficult than ever for our manufacturers to get the grades of foreign wools suitable for mixing with the natural article, and the hopes and prospects of the shoddy men are correspondingly brightened. A recent number of a prominent protectionist trade paper, The Commercial Bulletin of Boston, prints the following in its market report:

"The shoddy and extract manufacturers and dealers are sanguine of a very good year's business for 1891. Last year was a very prosperous one, and as the consumption of clothing increases the shoddy and extract trade improves. Better machinery and more thorough knowledge of the art of woolen manufacturing enables the greater use of these goods, insuring for them a larger market than ever before. Several mills find it necessary to increase their plant capacity to fill their orders."

We become wearers of shoddy in proportion as the tariff shuts our woolen manufacturers out of the wool markets of the world. The tariff cost of foreign wool also prevents our woolen industry from having constant and profitable employment, as well as from developing along with the growth of the country. In no department of manufacturing have there been so many failures and shut downs as in the woolen industry. The same issue of The American Wool Reporter, already quoted, contained the following:

"Careful estimates place a number of idle woolen looms as high as 60 per cent. of the whole number. These figures seem excessive at first glance, but careful consideration of the woolen situation will remove all doubt as to their correctness. The present heavy weight season has been meager in results, and some weeks since, in The Wool Reporter's Review of the New York goods market, it was stated that the business for the present season would be from one-third to one-half of that accomplished in an average season. It is a dreary subject to contemplate."

WHAT SHALL IT PROFIT?

If I lay waste and wither up with doubt
The blessed fields of heaven where once my faith
Possessed itself serenely safe from death;
If I deny the things past finding out,
Or if I orphan my own soul of One
That seemed a Father, and make void the place
Within me where He dwelt in power and grace,
What do I gain, that am myself undone?
—William Dean Howells in Harper's.

It is stated that in the penitentiary at Columbus, O., there are, among 1,600 criminals, thirteen ministers and one actor, on remarking which a theatrical man asks, "Isn't it time some one wrote a play to show up the temptations and evil influences of life in the pulpit?"

You Can't Have

Perfect health, unless your blood is pure and rich in elements necessary to repair the waste of the system. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful medicine to purify the blood, to restore good circulation and to give vitality and health to the whole body. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, boils, and all humors and weaknesses caused or promoted by impure blood.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by Chitwood Bros.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing, through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidney or urinary organs of either sex.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

United States Land Office, Roseburg, Or., March 28th, 1891.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT in compliance with the provisions of the act of congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the states of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," James F. Anderson, of Henley, County of Siskiyou, State of California, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement for the purchase of the S W ¼ of sec No. 28, in tp No. 39, S R No. 5 E, and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber stone than for agricultural purposes, and establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Roseburg, Oregon, on Friday the 12th day of June, 1891.

He names as witnesses: Wm. C. Ross of Cadillac, Siskiyou county, Cal., Chas. Clawson of Henley, Siskiyou county, Cal., Jacob Casey of Ager, Siskiyou county, Cal., Marcus G. Heiney of Henley, Siskiyou county, Cal.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 12th day of June, 1891.

JOHN H. SHUPE, Register.
