Ira B. Chandler, the enterprising stock man of Bonanza, was in Ashland on business during the past week. This is his first visit in Ashland for two years and his first ride on the cars in his life, having kept ahead of the railroad in his westward travels.

Fred Denny, the Postal Telegraph Co.'s operator, is enjoying a vacation and left Friday for a visit to Sisson, Redding and other points. Fred has a very striking figure and we will doubtless hear of him making some heavy impressions on the lady operators along the line.

Rev. H. H. Fairall, D. D., editor of the Iowa Methodist, says editorially, "We have tested the merits of Ely's Cream Balm, and believe that, by a thorough course of treatment, it will cure almost every case of catarrh. Ministers, as a class are afflicted with head and throat troubles, and catarrh seems more prevalent than ever. We cannot recommend Ely's Cream Balm too highly."

Grants Pass has fixed the salaries of its officials as follows: City attorney, $150; city surveyor, 40 cents per hour; city treasurer, per annum $150; city marshal, per annum, $780; street superintendent and policeman, $600; police judge, already fixed, $300. The total amount of salaries per annum, exclusive of city surveyor and city assessor, aggregate $1980.

Wool Product of This Valley.

Julius Goldsmith was in town Monday receiving Van Dyke's wool clip. He informs us that he has purchased 20,000 lbs. of wool this spring, principally from the clips of the Van Dykes, P. Donegan's, Thos. W. Whelpley's and others in this county and Wm. Chapman's, the principal sheepman of Josephine county. He puts the wool clip of this valley at 50,000 lbs. Wm. Bybee, who is the largest wool raiser, had 12,000 lbs. which he sold to Koshland Bros., Portland.

Court Business at Linkville.

Josh Buckmaster, who turned state's evidence in Northern California, which sent Elery Dixon to the penitentiary, was discharged from the Redding jail recently and returned to Linkville last week where he gave himself up to Sheriff Gowen on other charges, his case being on trial now. D. P. Royce was convicted, and not yet sentenced. Henry Goodlow is still in jail, to be tried next. They will all three go the Oregon penitentiary.

Big Ditch Completed.

The irigating ditch enterprise in the Table Rock section is completed. It is three miles long and irrigates about 3000 acres of farming land. C. H. Pickens, who superintended part of its construction informs us that it is a very substantial ditch, built to withstand any of the heavy winter raises of Rogue river. The head of the ditch is a flume 4x5 feet boxed in like a drift and in solid surroundings. E. P. Pickens, R. E. Drum, Wm. Bybee and E. B. Hunsaker are the owners of the ditch, and some twenty-five men were employed in its construction.

Council Doings.

Liquor license ordinance was amended so that council could grant license on 30 day's notice at any meeting.

Bill of W. N. Luckey for acknowledgements taken in 1889; referred to finance committee to report.

J. T. Bowditch, E. J. Farlow and mayor appointed a committee to examine books and accounts of W. R. Mayfield, deceased, as city marshal since January 1, 1891, and to report at next meeting.

G. W. Smith was appointed to act as city marshal until next regular meeting.

Adjourned to June 24th.

Passed Away.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rush Erb died Sunday morning at her home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Burriss on Pine street, aged 80 years, 6 months and 4 days. A large concourse of people attended the funeral, the interment being in the Ashland cemetery Monday afternoon, Rev. G. J. Webster preaching the sermon. The deceased came to the coast in 1864, and was the mother of Mrs. I. W. Burriss, Mrs. Henry Smith, Mrs. John Wells, Mrs. Levi Broadsword, W. W. Erb and other children in the Eastern states. A more extended notice will be printed hereafter.

Ashland Celebration.

The 4th of July will be celebrated in Ashland grand style, as will be seen by the program in advertisement on the editorial page. More money has been subscribed than ever before. The committee were indeed fortunate in securing as orator of the day Hon. Geo. B. Robertson, the Yreka lawyer. Mr. Robertson is an eloquent and flowery orator and was a conspicuous figure in the last legislature as assemblyman from Siskiyou and Del Norte. Besides being a pleasing orator Mr. Robertson will be a great drawing card for our celebration. He is a fine looking man, with the grace and dignity of a thoroughbred Georgian, has few equals as a conversationalist with ladies and can kiss more babies (big girls, too) in a day than the late Gen. Sherman.

Good Indians Unearthed.

C. H. Pickens, while engaged last week digging the Table Rock irrigating ditch unearthed the remains of five Indians, three bucks and two squaws of the Rogue river tribe who belonged to the "royal family" in this country probably a hundred years ago, and undoubtedly died before the feet of white men trod the soil of this section of Oregon. The Hudson Bay Co.'s traders did not make their appearance in this country until 1832, when they began trading to the natives beads and other articles so attractive and dear to their untutored minds that they were always thereafter buried with them. The siwashes unearthed by Mr. Pickens the other day were not surrounded by a single item of beads or other ornaments made by civilized hands, but sea shells and other crude emblems surrounded them. They were all buried in a crouched-up position, and both the females were placed deeper in than the three males.

Death of Marshal Mayfield.

William R. Mayfield, son of Rev. J. H. Mayfield, died Monday morning after a severe illness of six weeks, commencing with la grippe and afterward running into an attack of erysipelas, rheumatism and stomach troubles. The funeral on Tuesday afternoon was largely attended, Rev. G. J. Webster preaching the funeral sermon at the grave in Ashland cemetery. Mr. Mayfield was 43 years old and has been a well known resident of Ashland and Southern Oregon for many years. All men are born for a calling in life and the deceased was born for a policeman. Strong, brave, fearless and conscientious in the performance of his duty, he made many friends in Ashland who elected him city marshal and chief of police in 1889 and again in 1890, which office he held with distinguished ability at the time of his death. Besides numerous friends he leaves an estimabte wife and two children to mourn his departure.

Lumber! Lumber!

James Norris at his lumber yards on the north side of the railroad track, near the depot, Ashland, can sell you sash, doors, windows, mouldings and all kinds of finishing lumber. Leave your orders at Luckey's real estate office, and they will be promptly attended to.

Mrs J. D. Crocker, secretary of the O. E. S. of Oregon, returned Sunday from the meeting at Portland.

Henry Siebel, R. P. Neil's former butcher, was here yesterday en route to New Orleans to settle up an estate.

C. M. Osborn, who has been lingering with consumption died this morning, at an advanced age. The funeral will be to-morrow.

R. H. Gilham, the blue gravel orator and philosopher, came over from Hornbrook last evening with Messrs. Hampton and Lewis.

Mrs. John Wells arrived Monday from Sprague river, being called by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Erb, but arrived too late to see her alive.

C. J. Borgstedt, superintendent of the Siskiyou Stone Co., has returned from Portland where the company have secured another big contract for 16,000 feet of stone.

Stephen J. Field, associate justice of the United States supreme court, was on Friday's train with his family for California. The train men report that David Neagle, his bodyguard, who murdered the late Judge Terry, was also on the same train.

The horticultural editor (especially on cherries) of the RECORD took in Mayor G. M. Grainger's cherry orchard on Bush street yesterday. It is just loaded to the brim with a choice lot of the finest kind of big, fat, juicy cherries.

Engineer Frank McDonald was laying off several days the past week, Engineer Joe Poore running in his place. Engineer Jack Rochford is also on a vacation and left this morning with his family for the Bay city, Engineer W. E. Van Vacter handling the throttle during his absence.

D. G. Waldron, representing the H. S. Crocker Co.'s Railroad Gazetteer, was in the city Saturday gathering data. He owned a half interest in an express business between Yreka and Jacksonville in the early days. His wife being a sister of H. A. Packard of Talent, he spent Sunday there.

The Southern Oregon pioneer association at Jacksonville last week elected the following officers: President, General J. C. Tolman; vice-presidents, E. D. Foudray, Thos. Wright; treasurer, W. H. Parker; secretary, Judge S. J. Day; committee on Pioneer memorial resolutions, Mrs. W. J. Plymale, Mrs. Jane McCully and Mrs. J. M. McCall.

FRUIT ITEMS.

Interesting Reports From the Eastern Fields.—Local Notes.

Jos. W. Hockersmith went to Grants Pass Monday to arrange with the S. P. D. & L. Co. for the shipment of a carload of fruit boxes for a starter on his fruit packing business. He is expecting the arrival in a few days of a carload of peach wrapping paper.

The Salem cannery will put up 2,000,000 cans of fruit this year.

This season's abundant fruit yield makes a fruit cannery for Ashland next year an imperative necessity. In fact it should have been in operation this season.

The Salem Canning Co. have offered to put in a branch cannery at Medford next year for a $2000 bonus.

The ripening of peaches this year is about ten days later than last and the work of picking Early Alexanders will commence about the 10th of July. Raspberries will be picked in about a week.

Mr. Hockersmith is having the mammoth warehouse at the depot cleaned up and whitewashed, preparatory to handling Page & Son's fruit shipments. W. A. Patrick will be in charge of the packing again this year.

D. H. Stearns commences the publication of a horticultural and floricultural monthly in Portland July 5th with E. R. Lake as editor.

Dover, Del., June 11.—The season is now so far advanced that estimates of the peach crop may be made with some reasonable hope of their being realized. The weather has been remarkably cool for this time of the year, in fact there have been few warm days so far. Frosts have occurred at intervals all spring, and there was one as late as May 13th but they have not been of a killing character. Most of the peach producing section lies in Kent county. This was not formerly the case. For many years New Castle led in peach raising but of late she has fallen off largely and continually and peach interests instead of being the largest and most profitable have ceased to be important.

The yellows have nearly destroyed the orchards in Sussex. The crop will also be small. Peach raising is comparatively a new industry and the orchards are neither so numerous nor so large as in Kent county, but the land is lighter and more forward. In consequence of this the trees bloomed earlier than in Kent county and the young germ was caught and nipped by the frosts that did little damage to the buds not so well developed.

The great bulk of Delaware peaches will come from Kent county. In the southern part of the county where the soil is lighter and where the buds were more advanced, the crop will be light, perhaps about a third of what is called a full crop. In the central part of the state there will not be over half a crop, while in the northern part there will be but two thirds crop. A general review of the crop prospects of the state shows that the crops will not be near sufficient to meet the ordinary demands of trade. Advices received from the peach growing centers of New Jersey also show a falling off in the crops of nearly fifty per cent.

New York, June 11.—Fruit dealers in this city who have carefully canvassed the prospects for the New Jersey and Delaware peach crops state that there will be a great shortage for dried and canned peaches. They state that a large proportion will have to come from California. Many orders have already been placed with California growers at prices above last year. Advices received here state that the Delaware peach crop will not exceed a half million baskets.

Chicago, June 11.—Fruit dealers here assert that the Eastern peach crop is far below the expectation and at the utmost will be but a two thirds crop. California will have to be depended upon for a goodly supply to meet the demands. The scarcity of peaches has increased the demand for apricots and French prunes, which of course will be expected to come from California. Several leading dealers here have already dispatched buyers to the west to make contracts for fruit.

Francis Fitch has been seriously ill for several days past, at the residence of Mrs. Cardwell. Doctors Geary and Robinson are in attendance. The patient is reported as improving at this writing.

Grand Master Daley of the A. O. U. W. and his wife were in Jacksonville Friday. They were accompanied to Medford by several members of the lodge of this place and were tendered a banquet by the members of Medford lodge.

A Suggestion.

If you are troubled with rheumatism or a lame back, allow us to suggest that you try the following simple remedy: Take a piece of flannel the size of the two hands, saturated with Chamberlain's Pain-Balm and bind it on over the seat of the pain. It will produce a pleasant warmth and relieve you of all pain. Many severe cases have been cured in this way. The Pain Balm can be obtained from all druggists.

ED. VALLEY RECORD:

J. A. Jonas has men at work on his barn.

Peter Simon is in a very low state of health.

J. J. Fryer has gone to California to the bedside of his son-in-law, J. K. Green.

H. J. Burrell, a gentleman from Portland, has been here on business for some days.

A. Pool is repairing the old barber shop and putting it in shape for an office for our new M. D., Dr. Rohr.

George Jackson has had eleven men at work for some time past thinning the fruit on his trees and one of the men, Frank Lewis, told me that he picked off ten peaches at one handfull. How does that do for the fruit prospect?

The farmers are all busy cutting hay and cultivating their corn. The late rains have brought out the hay crop as well as the grain. The grain crop will not be as good as some have antiupated, but better than the two preceding years.

Since my last, we have had a regular treat in the way of a musical entertainment. The brass band from Medford came out, according to previous arrangements, bringing their dinners with them, and a number of our citizens met with them at the grove on Butte creek and we had a splendid time. The universal verdict was that they played splendidly for a newly organized band. Come again, boys, and the next time bring the girls with you. DICK.

Eagle Point, June 16th, 1891.

Capt. O. C. Applegate is to deliver the oration at Tule lake's celebration, S. B. Cranston being too ill.

James W. Massie, the brakeman, got his thumb between two cars last week and is now wearing his good clothes in Ashland.

The trainload cattle shipments from the south for Portland and Puget sound have ceased, E. Mays taking the last one up yesterday.

The spring run of the Raymond excursion parties through this route has quit. It will commence in September for the summer run.

Jas. Quinn is putting in an electric light plant at Yreka which is to be operated by a dynamo located at Shasta river, four miles from the town.

George H. Currey has sold the Grants Pass Courier to Jerry Nunan, a newspaper man formerly of eastern Oregon. Mr. Currey has gone to La Grande.

Prof. J. S. Diller of the U. S. geological survey passed through last week for San Francisco. He will arrive here soon again to do some more work in this valley.

Some villain entered Harris & Murphy Bros. meat market over the bridge last Friday night and stole a quarter of fine beef, besides rifling the till of $2.15 in change.

Wm. Quigley now runs a saddle animal passenger line connecting the Cinnabar mines and Garretson's medical springs with the daily express to Oak Bar. The fare is $3.

A tourist carload of Indians from the Hoopa valley, Humboldt county, Cal., reservation passed through Monday evening for the Chemawa Indian training school near Salem.

The Baptist church played the Waldrop children, Arkansas prodigies, at the Ganiard opera house Friday and Saturday evenings. The performance by the children was highly appreciated.

The superb crop outlook for southern Oregon will make the district fair a monstrous success, both in the way of extraordinary products and in the increased circulating medium for red lemonade and etceteras.

The first carload of mineral water that ever left Southern Oregon was shipped from Ashland to Portland Monday by Parkinson & Walker. It was a carload of soda water from Wagner springs. Mr. Walker handles the soda water in Portland.

J. W. O. Gregory was over this week from the Scott valley mine, bringing along several fine specimens of coarse gold. Wm. Patterson and Pat Haraghay will have it ready for piping this week. He returned this morning with C. W. Ayers, Frank Lennart and a Mr. Armet of Portland.

H. S. Emery, the universal combination fence manufacturer, has made a sweeping reduction in the price of this popular fence which is taking the lead of all others. See the items of reduction in his ad. in this issue of the RECORD and govern yourself accordingly.

Henry Wilson's son, with a crowd of men, passed Alturas last Thursday with a band of 12,000 sheep, which they are taking to Warner valley. Wilson and Alexander are going to try the sheep business evidently, as the cattle didn't turn out very profitably. —Alturas New Era.

Eastern syrup, codfish, chipped beef, mince meat, at The C. G. Co.'s store.

A. M. Ruddeck was in this week for the first time since fall from his stock ranch at Buck lake. He reports the grass growing fine, but heavy frosts have killed the huckleberry crop. The Dead Indian country is so muddy that he will return on horseback, not being able to take his wagon through loaded.

Fine candies received this week at the C. G. Co.'s store.

There will be a greater amount of hay raised in this valley this year than ever before, and as there will be such a surplus larger quantities will have to be shipped. Wm. Butler gives notice in the advertising columns of this week's RECORD that he will have his Lightning hay baler in operation this year.

Bargains in hosiery and underwear at C. O. D. Emporium.

Pearl Bean of Jenny creek, who with Billy Wright killed "Old Reelfoot," the giant grizzly of the Siskiyous about a year ago, was in town the other day. The stuffed remains of this monster will be exhibited in Yreka on the 4th. Last 4th it was exhibited in Ashland, and then afterwards through other parts of Oregon.

See those new shoes for $2.50 at O. H. Blount's.

Thunderstorms prevailed quite generally on the Pacific coast last week. A Redding dispatch of the 12th says: Several cloudbursts in the mountains west and north of Redding yesterday evening destroyed the roads, washed out bridges, wrecked mining arastras, etc. Houses situated near the waterways were demolished.

Ask for mackerel at C. G. Co.'s store.

The S. P. company needs coal on its route the worst kind, and M. H. Burckhalter, roadmaster, D. B. Wilkinson, agent at Montague and David Horn of Hornbrook are negotiating for the purchase of the coal mine near Ager, Siskiyou county. Should they succeed it will be operated on an enterprising, extensive scale.

B. C. Towne, C. H. Gove and Robert Brooke, young business men of Portland, were on Sunday's train for Sisson to ascend Mt. Shasta. Mr. Gove has made the ascent before. Photographic apparatus will be carried by Mr. Towne, and efforts made to secure good pictures of the grand old mountain from various positions, and also of the hot spring at the summit.

See the Crocker Grocery Co. for a bargain on a ton of dairy salt.

Melvin Emery, son of H. S. Emery of the Ashland Fence Works, last Friday took a tumble backward from off the porch of his father's factory near the Ashland creek bridge on Main street, and met the creek seventeen feet down, on his shoulder and the back of his head. Some boys would have also met a nice big rock, which was just a trifle to one side of his head, but Melvin was born luckier and is still numbered among the living kids.

A choice line of summer dress goods at C. O. D. Emporium.

Wm. Huntley Hampton, the mineralogist and assayer of Portland, came out Monday with John C. Lewis, son of C. H. Lewis of the big firm of Allen & Lewis. They went over to the blue gravel mining district at Hornbrook. Mr. Lewis is already interested in one mine in Southern Oregon, located in Josephine county, and his trip to Hornbrook with Mr. Hampton undoubtedly means that he intends purchasing another there. They returned to Ashland last evening.

Buy a can of shrimps at the C. G. store.

Crescent City Record: From Colonel Yates, who returned from Grants Pass Tuesday, we learn that the question of building a railroad to Crescent City is the all absorbing topic in that portion of Southern Oregon. A citizens meeting was to be held at Grants Pass Thursday night, to which the represetative men of Jacksonville, Medford and the surrounding country had agreed to attend. The colonel says the people over there are enthusiastic over the subject and say that the road will certainly be built inside of three years.

C. B Jillson & Co. are cleaning up in their blue gravel mine at Hornbrook with very satisfactory results. They will be through this week. Mr. Jillson favored the Journal correspondent with an inspection of last week's clean-up. There were about twenty pounds of it, including many pretty nuggets, weighing from $1 to $60. This is one of the best mines in the county. From accurate count (by hours) they have piped one month this season. For ten days in March they had half a head of water, which was the biggest flow for the season. The tunnel will soon be on bedrock; then they will employ more men, as it will not require a very large head of water to wash the gravel from the drifts.

Catarrh is not a local but constitutional disease, and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla to effect a cure.

MARRIED.

CORDELL-GREGORY—In Ashland, June 17, 1891, at the residence of the bride's brother, J. W. O. Gregory, by Rev. C. A. Lewis, W. A. Cordell and Miss Marrabella Gregory.

They have commenced housekeeping at Mr. Cordell's residence on Bush street. Two of this city's most respected and estimable citizens, a large circle of friends and acquaintances wish them much prosperity and happiness.

BORN.

KING—In Ashland precinct, June 10, 1891, to the wife of Rufus King, a son.

CLOPTON—At Bonanza, June 7, 1891, to the wife of T. J. Clopton, a son.

TAYLOR—In Ashland precinct, June 13, 1891, to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Taylor, a son.

COLE—In Ashland, June 18, 1891, to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cole, a son.

DIED.

HAYMOND—At Rock Point, June 15, 1891, Mrs. Hattie Haymond, wife of County Commissioner Ben Haymond, aged 46 years.

Mrs. Haymond was a daughter of Mrs. J. B White, a pioneer of Southern Oregon, who now resides in Oakland, Cal., and a sister of Jay Beach, of Vancouver. She was an exemplary woman, of many excellent traits of character, and her death will be mourned by a large circle of friends. Her funeral took place at Rock Point Tuesday, Rev. M. A. Williams conducting the services.

Fruit Trees Affected.

Eugene Guard.]

We are informed that a pest has made its appearance on the young trees in Chesher precinct, and that it is quite fatal to the trees, nearly one-half of them dying in some of the orchards. At first the underside of the leaf is attacked with countless numbers of lice, after which an army of large black ants make their appearance on the leaf. The people in that section are in a query whether the lice or the ants do the deadly work, some claiming that the latter feed on the former, and will eventually exterminate them. The matter should be immediately brought before the State Horticultural Commission.

Matilda Whittle, Indian wife of the late Bob Whittle a well-known trader in the early days where Keno now stands, is dead.

The Portland Exposition, which opens Sept. 17th, promises to completely overshadow all its predecessors. If the splendid lithograph which Superintendent Mitchell has sent out to the press, gives us any idea of the scope and merit of the Exposition this year, all doubts of its success are pushed aside. The lithograph received is one of the handsomest and most effective advertisements we have ever seen outside of a newspaper.

Hornbrook cor. Yreka Telegram: I have it from good authority that there is to be a wagon road built from somewhere near Cole's station to the quicksilver mines on Beaver creek; that the company will put up furnaces at the mine, besides numerous other improvements. The road will open up quite a mining camp, and a large amount of valuable timber land; also good mineral springs. There is already a crowd of men working in the quicksilver mines, and they are undoubtedly good mines if properly worked.

The farmers and ranchers of Bogus creek, Willow creek, Little Shasta and Shasta valley are agitating the project of organizing an extensive irrigation district for the purpose of constructing an immense canal from Klamath river, taking the water from some point above Shovel creek. They think a ditch at least twenty feet wide would perform the service required, to carry about 20,000 inches of water. If properly built it will irrigate that whole side of Shasta valley.—Journal.

A sure cure for the whisky habit: Dr. Livingstone's Antidote for Drunkenness will cure any case of the liquor habit in from ten to thirty days, from drinker to the drunkard. The Antidote can be given in a cup of coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. The Antidote will not injure the health in any way. Manufactured by the Livingstone Chemical Co., San Francisco, Cal., and for sale by T. K. Bolton.

YOUR SHIP WILL COME IN!

The newspaper supplies the broad, swift channel of publicity which enters the port of prosperity, and when you float your boats upon it you are sure of quick returns.

Advertising in dull times is an anchor cast to windward.

Strayed or Stolen.

FROM MY RESIDENCE on the opposite side of the railroad from the S. P. D. & L. Co.'s factory, Grants Pass, some time on the night of May 30, 1891, a bright bay horse four years old, slim, rangey built, long tail, star in forehead, some white also white on nose, both hind feet and left forefoot. Shod all round with smooth shoes. When last seen had boot on left hind leg.

A reward of $25 will be given for his return or any information that will lead to his recovery. H. J. CLARK, Grants Pass, Or.
