"How delicious is the winning
Of a kiss at love's beginning,"—

sings the poet, and his sentiment is true with one possible exception. If either party has the catarrh, even love's kiss loses its sweetness. Dr. Sage's Catarrh remedy is a sure cure for this repulsive and distressing affliction. By its mild, soothing, antiseptic, cleansing and healing properties, it cures the worst cases. $500 reward offered for an incurable case.

Suicide of Mr Hart.

The non-appearance of W. H. Hart at his dinner at the Ashland hotel at noon of last Thursday created some surprise which gradually became worked up until it turned into an excitement later in the afternoon and evening, at which time search parties began scouring the country up Ashland creek canyon and down Ashland creek towards Bear creek, parties having seen him in both places in the morning. But night closed on the searchers before any clue even was discovered.

Friday morning the search was again commenced and kept up all day. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon a man camping in the Ashland creek canyon reported having passed a man answering his description the afternoon before about 4 o'clock above the electric light company's works. This clue led to renewed energy on the part of the searchers, as they had some hope then that he had probably merely wandered off. But no further clues were found.

At 7:30 Friday evening David King, who was out with Marshal Smith, found the missing man in a thicket of brush half way between the summit of Hargadine hill and the Ashland Roller Mills and only a short distance from the center of town. Marshal Smith heralded the discovery by discharging his pistol several times, which soon brought a crowd to the scene.

Mr. Hart was found cold in death. He had evidently seated himself on a little bank alongside of a squirrel trail in the brush, the location giving him a broad view of the whole city beneath him. Here is where the deadly work of the morphine he had swallowed had just tilted him over, his hat remaining partially on his head. His body was a trifle hunched up and one hand had a slight grip on some pine leaves, his face and hands presenting a dark blue color. He presented the quiet, peaceful appearance that has ever characterized his life and looked like a person asleep.

Justice of the Peace Berry ordered the remains taken to the city hall until the coroner arrived from Gold Hill to hold the inquest Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff W. H. Brunk summoned a coroner's jury of the following men: E. J. Farlow, Avery Johnson, J. M. McCall, R. M. Garrett R. Beswick and P. Dunn. Coroner B. Porter of Gold Hill, took the evidence of David King, Marshal Smith, Frank Hansen, E. K. Brightman, Mayor Granger, Jesse Houck and Justice Berry, after which the jury rendered their verdict that Wm. H. Hart had came to his death by his own hands by taking morphine.

William H. Hart was born and raised in Morgan County, Missouri, and was in the Union army during the war, being lieutenant in his company. A younger brother of his was in the Confederate service under Price, and they both met and recognized each other in the battle of Wilosnville and Pea Ridge; W. H. Hart being in Lyon and Siegel's division.

He came to Colusa county, Cal., in 1867, and made that place his permanent residence until coming to Ashland about five years ago.

The deceased while visiting his brother's family in Oaklond several years ago, expressed a desire to live the remainder of his days, die and be buried in Ashland. Mrs. Jackson Hart and daughter will come up in a few months and have a tomb-stone erected over his grave.

The funeral took place from the undertaker's rooms at 9:30 p. m. Sunday, Rev. G. J. Webster of the Congregational Church conducting the religious services there. Followed by a large concourse of the numerous friends of the deceased the remains were taken to and buried in the Ashland cemetery.

Wm. H. Hart was a very quiet, intelligent and dignified gentleman who said not a word against any man and never spoke to any of his friends or acquaintances about his business or personal affairs. He lived at the Ashland House and took life easy in a quiet way, seldom going any great distance from the hotel.

His close-mouthedness about his business and his living a retired life got the impression abroad that he was worth thousands of dollars and was living off the interest of his money. He had been living this retired life for about ten years.

Naturally the motive for this act was discussed and reasons conjectured. One of the presumptions was that his money had gone up in a wheat speculation of his brothers.

But the truth is his brother never used a cent of his money in any speculation whatever.

The whole erroneous impression grew out of the mistaken idea of Wm. H Hart's wealth. It never was large and he had evidently expended it before this, as since last fall his brother, Jackson Hart of Oakland, Cal., has sent him remittances amounting in all to $50, and would of cheerfully sent him more if he knew he needed it, but the last letter he received from William (about three months ago) stated that he was getting along all right and expected to go to work. William Hart was as close-mouthed in regard to his business affairs with his brother and his family as he was with his friends and acquaintances.

The only writing he left was a note in his room that he owed Jesse Houck $50 borrowed money and E. K. Brightman $70 for board, and another note found on his person addressed to his brother to the same effect and asking him to pay them.

The only reasonable solution that can be found in the premises is that he was out of money and a trifle behind, and having already received several hundred from his brother was too proud to ask for more.

RECOMMEND ROYAL EXCLUSIVELY.

The State Chemist of California, Prof. Rising; the San Francisco Board of Health; Prof. Wenzell, of the University of California; Dr. McGowan, Health Officer of Los Angeles, unanimously commend in their reports the great qualities of the Royal Baking Powder, which they agree is the highest in strength, the purest in quality of any of the baking compounds in the market. They recommend its use exclusively.

Gold Hill Items.

John and Riley Hammersley have purchased a placer mine on Evans creek which prospects well.

W. J. Rodgers of Grants Pass, the Postal Telegraph lineman, spent Wednesday making necessary repairs near Gold Hill.

Some low-down scrubs, who are too lazy to work and too honest to steal, have been killing fish in the river by blasting with giant powder. Hundreds of dead fish can be seen floating down the river, many of which are not six inches long. Parties are now on watch for the miscreants and the law will be enforced when they are found.

Lucky Bart, the famous prospector is preparing to run in a tunuel at his mine 500 feet below the surface.

One Walker, an old Jackson county pioneer skipped the country and left many creditors to mourn his loss.

Morton Lindley of Sacramento returned to Gold Hill Tuesday eve. Mr. L. contemplates investing in some mines near Gold Hill.

Misses Ada Parker and Nellie Vrooman will take a course in the commercial school at Medford this fall.

W. P. Jacoby sees the handwriting on the wall and is as mute as a frog in dogdays concerning politics. He says he will let Barlow do all the blowing.

Joe Hammersley had an adventure last night. A festive tramp undertook to stand him up, but Joe whipped out a pistol and the tramp made space between them in great haste.

E. Ray the butcher does some solid "cussin" once in awhile on account of some of his female customers demanding choice beef without any bone. He says just as soon as boneless cattle can be found he will buy a whole band of them.

Jerry Kinney and A. J. Barlow had an animated discussion as to which could cast a line the farthest in fishing. A small wager was made and the two individuals wended their way to the river. Barlow made a successful cast. Then came Kinney's turn who made a hop, step and jump reminding one of a cannibal and payed out his line. He then swayed to and fro and made the cast. A second after Kinney's contortions began, Barlow was called upon to cut the hook out of the back of Kinney's head. B.

The dental rooms of Dr. Caldwell, will be closed during next week.

Edw. Hildreth was over this week from the logging camp on Klamath river.

Mrs. David Brower and daughter Miss Lou Brower of Grants Pass are in town today.

A. Gilty, of the Earl Fruit Co., arrived in the valley last week to size up the apple crop.

W. S. Crowell, Dan Waldroop and R. M. Garrett leave to-morrow for their Jenny creek claims.

Carnegie ought to be good for a $25,000 contribution to the republican campaign fund this year. The party cannot afford to bear the burden of his protection experiment for a cent less.

Pracht on Top Again.

The following Washington dispatches explain what the Hon. Max Pracht has been doing in Washington the past three months. Max is the best single-handed political rustler in the country to-day. Hurrah for Pracht.

One of the amendments to the sundry civil bill, which has just been agreed to in conference, is of some importance as affecting the Alaska salmon interests. An appropriation of $5000 is made, to be expended under the direction of the secretary of the treasury, to stop the barricading of the salmon streams of Alaska, and an agent of the treasury department is to be sent there to carry out the instructions. Max Pracht, of Ashland, Or., has already been selected as the special agent, and his appointment will shortly be made. Pracht was collector of customs of Alaska during the early part of the administration, but was removed on account of the charges that were brought against him. These charges have now all been cleared up, and the department is ready to employ him again.

The secretary of the treasury to-day appointed Max Pracht, of Ashland, Or., special agent in charge of the Alaska salmon fisheries. Pracht will have a clerk for the first three months of his service. Pracht is thus made a disbursing officer, and now comes the question of securing bonds, which he must do before he gets away. He will try and find sureties here, but, if he fails, he will have to delay until he can go to Oregon. Pracht has been here for several months working up this matter, and he will be disappointed if he cannot go at once to Alaska.

Oregon Weather and Crops.

For week ending Tuesday, August 9, 1892.]

WESTERN OREGON—WEATHER.

The temperature during the past week has been about normal, the extremes ranging between 46 and 95 degrees. Generally speaking the weather conditions have been favorable.

There has been almost an entire absence of rain.

Crops—Fall wheat threshing continues unabated. The berry is of fair quality in most sections.

Oats are doing tolerably well, though needing a little rain in some places.

Spring wheat continues to improve. Reports from Marion county indicate a yield of from 18 to 20 bushels to the acre.

Hops are blossoming and but little damage from lice is reported so far.

Haymaking is progressing nicely. The timothy and clover varieties are yielding largely, and stock is in excellent condition.

Corn and melons are ripening fast and being shipped to the markets in goodly quantities.

The onion crop in Washington county will fall short of the average.

In Douglas county blackberries are so plentiful that large quantities are drying up on the vine for went of pickers.

Gardens in general are a bit late, though in some localities pears are almost ripe.

EASTERN OREGON—WEATHER

There has been no rain during the week except a few local showers in portions of Baker and Union counties. The temperature has been about normal; the extremes ranging from 36 to 105 degrees. Hot winds are reported from stations in the northeastern portion.

Crops—Wheat is being harvested steadily and will be a fairly good crop except in some portions of the northeastern counties.

Spring wheat has not improved any since last reports; but continues to suffer from drought to some extent.

Oats are doing well enough. Corn would be improved somewhat by a little rain.

The fruit crop will be light in most sections owing to early frosts.

Crops in Gilliam county have almost perished from the effects of the hot winds and the potato crop is said to be a total failure.

The weather conditions that have obtained during the past seven days have been, as a rule, favorable to vegetation in nearly all sections of the state and were all that could be desired for harvesting purposes.

He purchased a Cornelius internal roller system plant from Todd & Stanley, of St. Louis, for $4.500 It has a capacity of 50 bushels per day, and will be delivered the 15th. The work on the building at Central Point commenced Monday.

Jackson Hart, of the firm of Hulme & Hart, commission merchants, San Francisco, was telegraphed to and took the first train for Ashland, arriving Saturday afternoon. After settling up all the accounts in his late brother's misfortune he returned home Tuesday The affair was a terrible and unexpected shock to himself and family. He has the sincere sympathy of the people of Ashland, who hold both brothers in high esteem.

Have you tried the Detroit Free Press? Its a 5-center.

N. Ahlstrom reports that the circus that exhibited back of the new depot in Ashland three years ago, introduced the Canada thistle in that neighborhood, and that notwithstanding that he has cut it down several times it keeps on increasing every year and will soon threaten to overrun the whole county if some effort is not made to wipe it out. The authorities should see that this dangerous nest is nipped in its incipiency.

Best line of baking powders in the city at Winter's.

Dr. Geo. W. McDonald, the Yreka horseman came over yesterday with his string of horses for the Central Point fair. The list is headed by Allegretto, the trotter, and Scampaway, the runner; Manwood, a three year old trotting stallion, (Haine's colt;) Tilden, a trotter and runner eight years old from Klamath county; two well-bred green colts, two and three years old. The two-year old is by Roscoe, by Brigadier, dam by Kerby Smith. James Thomas and George Baker are assisting him.

G. I. Sargent of Portland, secretary of the Oregon State Horticultural Society, was here Friday endeavoring to get Jackson county interested in making an exhibit of fruits, etc., at the Portland exposition, the best of which will be taken to the World's Fair. The horticultural society will offer the following prizes: Diploma and cash premium for county making the finest and largest display. The same for the county making the finest display, and for the county making the most artistic display, a cash premium. Mr. Sargent has talked with the people in other towns in the county, and they should soon arrive at some means of getting the ball rolling toward getting a Jackson county display there.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

The Temptation

To go out of doors in rough weather is not strong, but we are, many of us, compelled to face rough weather frequently. Diseases which arise from a chill are peculiar to no season of the year. This is true, therefore there should be in the closet of every household—what? Not an unmedicated stimulant, absolutely devoin of anything but an excitive action, but a tonic combining, in the effective form of on invigorant and an alterative, the quality of defence against changes of weather. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has three or four properties that no other article of its class possesses. Not only does it relieve the complaints which it eventually cures, it fortifies the system against the bad effects of changes of temperature, fatally and too often, shown in the deadly form of "la grippe;" it produces a radical change in the weakened condition of a system peculiarly liable to be attacked by it, and it tends to provide against the danger resulting from an impoverished condition of the blood and a disordered state of the liver or bowels.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies, but none did me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me. M. J. Lally, 39 Woodward Ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Allotments on Klamath Reservation.

Washington dispatch, 8th inst: The commissioner of Indian affairs to-day considered the application of Representative Hermann to prepare for allotments among the Klamath Indians in Oregon, preparatory to opening the excess lands to settlement, and an order was given requiring the agent to notify the Indians to make selections, and as soon as the surveys, which the interior department sanctioned last week, are completed, commissioners will be appointed to oversee the final allotments as provided for in the general law on the subject.

Mrs. D. H. Churchill and five children of Great Falls, Mon., have arrived and taken possession of their property, purchased from A. T. Kyle. While visiting in the Willamette one of the children had its leg broke. Mrs. Lard of the Willamette, mother of Mrs. Churchill, is visiting them.

REV. SAM P. JONES.

Rev. Sam Jones, the Great Evangelist, writes: 'My wife, who was an invalid from NERVOUS SICK HEADACHE has been entirely cured by six week's use of Dr. King's Royal Germetuer. Her health is perfect. In three weeks two of my children were completely cured of nasal CATARRH. IT IS TRULY A GREAT REMEDY."

Germetuer presents an array of testimonials absolutely without a parallel in the history of medicines, both as to CHARACTER and NUMBER. It is endorsed by THOUSANDS of our best known men and we are authorized in saying that it will permanently cure CATARRH, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, ASTHMA, BOWEL, LIVER, BLADDER and KIDNEY TROUBLES, PARALYSIS, EPILEPSY, ERYSIPELAS, INSOMNIA, GENERAL DEBILITY and SKIN DISEASES, such as SCROFULA, ECZEMA, &c. It cleanses and purifies the blood, invigorates the stomach, tones up the general system and thus brings health and happiness. It is no nauseous compound, but is as pleasant to take as a glass of lemonade.

DIED.

HUBBARD—In Eagle Point, Aug, 7th, 1892. Mrs. Lois W. Hubbard, wife of B. B. Hubbard; aged 64 years, 6 months and 15 days.

The subject of the above notice was born in Windsen, Ashtabula County, Ohio, Jan. 22, 1828, where she lived until she arrived at maturity, when she was married and in a short time was called upon to follow the remains of her husband to his last resting place, the grave. In the course of time she married a man by the name of Ranney, after which they moved to Kansas, where they reared two children—a boy and a girl. But she was destined to drink of the bitter cup of afflictions, and when her children were about thirteen and fifteen respectively, her son was killed by the falling of a tree; and just one year from that time her husband was killed in the same manner.

On the 31st of December, 1878, she was married to B. B. Hubbard, and in 1887 moved with her husband and daughter to Jackson County, Oregon, settling in Eagle Point, where she lived until the day of her death. She became religious at about thirty years of age and spent the remainder of her days in God's service, being an active worker in the Sabbath school, exemplifying a true Christian character. She leaves a long list of friends who sympathize with her husband and daughter in their sad bereavment; but they feel that their loss is her eternal gain.

One less on earth:
Its pains, its sorrows, and its toils to share,
One less the pilgrims daily cross to bear,
One the crown of ransomed souls to ware,
At home in herven.

One more in heaven,
Another thought to brighten cloudy days.
Another theme of thankfulness and praise,
Another link on high, our souls to raise,
To home in heaven.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. E. E. Winchester & Co., Druggists. 1
