

Jim Boyle went to California Sunday. Mrs. Clarke left Saturday for Tehama county, Cal.

F. B. Fisher, the piano dealer, has gone to Carthage, Mo.

S. H. Holt is out representing the Medford business college.

Wells Benson, of Talent, is attending the Medford business college.

W. A. Baker, of Central Point, was in the city Friday and Saturday.

The 4-stamp mill is in position on the Keel mine on Williams creek.

Mrs. Woodworth, the doom-sealer, is conducting a revival at Portland.

A son was born to the wife of John Robinson at Medford the 28th ult.

A daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell of Medford, Nov. 23d.

C. A. Scott, the south division freight conductor, has been visiting San Francisco.

The Woolf brothers give a masquerade ball at Central Point Friday before Christmas.

Jim Stevens returned to Jacksonville from Nason, the mills being closed by the deep snow.

December 26th is the day set for the 3d annual ball of Tallman lodge, K. of P., of Medford.

Miss Mary Davison, the teacher, leaves soon to attend the Hill business college in the Bay city.

Rev. E. E. Thompson and wife, of Grants Pass, are at Roseburg revivifying with his brother.

John Bays forfeited his bail of $20 in the police court at Portland for lacerating Tom Richardson.

B. F. Cooksey is the name of the Kanawha people who have leased Husnaker's table top farm.

Conductor Ed. Mann is at the railroad hospital in San Francisco, rapidly recovering from a broken leg.

Jos. Rader, J. B. and Aaron Wyland, the Butte creek stockmen, were in Ashland last week.

The southern Oregon Chautauque circle has 145 members and expects 1000 for the year comes around in July.

The Redding Democrat says a Thorn polisher is being put up on the Twin Sister's Co's quartz mine in that section.

Geo. W. Maczore, of Woodville, and Miss Lisa M. Heckathorn, of Eagle Point, were married at Grants Pass on the 20th ult.

Rev. H. S. Shanley, presiding elder of the Southern Methodist church, is making a quarterly meeting tour through the valley.

Willis H. Fountain and brother of Missouri, were on Friday's train moving to California. They are cousins of J. D. Fountain.

J. A. Louden's residence on Applegate was destroyed by fire on Monday night, including the furniture, etc., of L. Louden. No insurance.

The Eagle Point amateurs have been presenting the question, "Am I my Brother's Keeper?" in several towns in the valley with good success.

The old soldiers of the people's party are organizing a fraternal order to be known as the "Boys in Blue." It will be a national organization.

At the Christmas ball at Gold Hill December 23rd, two gold rings will be given as prizes to the lady and gentleman coming nearest guessing the number of peas in bottles.

James Brown committed suicide at Philomath, while temporarily insane. He was a brother of Clint Brown, who murdered John Walker in Klamath county several years ago.

In the numerous candidates mentioned for state railroad commissioner, succeeded the present board, the Henry Stearns has the name of Salem Klippel of Gray county.

Frank S. Gray, a smart newspaper man who was in Portland for while less than two years ago, was just received judgment against Col. Shepard, of the N. W. Mail and Express, for $19,135.

Thos. Alford, who died at Harriburg, Nov. 23rd at the advanced age of 91 years, was the father of Ex-Gov. C. C. Alford, the son of M. L. Alford of Ashland.

Gen. E. L. Applegate and wife were given a surprise party at their Josephine home on Monday night, by a host of friends from the General's absence in stopping the state in the interest of the popular party in the late campaign.

The next two years will see great changes in Oregon politics.—Salem Journal. Right, you are. The changes are likely to be as great as those that have occurred in the nation since the passage of the McKinley bill. Let 'em come.—Albany Democrat.

Miles Orton, proprietor of a circus who exhibited in Chattanooga, Tenn., but a few days ago, has been arrested for sheep-stealing $500 that Harrison won be re-elected. A young democrat named Devine won the elephant, and after the big contest, marched in the democratic procession.

Grants Pass has a social science club. Robert McLean, H. B. Miller, W. W. Fiddler, T. Syron Cundy, W. C. Edwards and Geo. Hart being the leading members. They are all students of political economy all the way from populists down through democrats to republicans.

The Star Mining & Reduction Co., of Wood Creek, was incorporated with Ed. Smith, C. W. Fennell, G. E. Howe and D. Voss as incorporators—capital stock, $75,000. Ed. Smith is president; C. B. DeWitt, secretary; and C. W. Fennell, general manager. The company has bought a site and will put up reduction works soon at Wolf creek.

The timber-land boomers up Rogue river are taking of anti-trust money to make a survey in the spring for a rail road from the west side of Rogue river falls and following the river five miles, then crossing and going down the south side and going down to some place on the O. & C. railroad about Tolo or Centerville Point, the distance being about 35 miles. The survey will be given by S. P. K. R. and all other companies who are liable to become interested in the matter of building a road up there and opening up the country.

W. S. McMurty, representing $20,000 of the $30,000 bonds of the W. L. & P. Co., came up last week to foreclose the mortgage which secures the bonds, as interest for the past year had not been paid. When he arrived he found that the assets would hardly cover the liabilities in the present state of things, he concluded not to foreclose until he had attempted to compromise with parties holding time checks in this city. The principal holders of these checks are J. W. Howard, D. Dixon, P. H. Harb, T. P. Johnson, W. R. Walker and A. A. Wright, and the amount amounts to between $7000 and $8000. Wm. Knox has surrendered his interest in the concern for the sum of $1 and is therefore entirely out of it. McMurty proposes to let the check-holders run it if they will agree to pay the interest on the bonds amounting to $175 a month. They have not decided yet what they will do.—Grants Pass Courier.

Cornelius Vanderhill's summer residence at Newport, R. I., burned to the ground recently. None of the costly furniture or bric-a-brac was saved.

Wells Benson, of Talent, is attending the Medford business college.

W. A. Baker, of Central Point, was in the city Friday and Saturday.

The 4-stamp mill is in position on the Keel mine on Williams creek.

Mrs. Woodworth, the doom-sealer, is conducting a revival at Portland.

A son was born to the wife of John Robinson at Medford the 28th ult.

A daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell of Medford, Nov. 23d.

C. A. Scott, the south division freight conductor, has been visiting San Francisco.

The Woolf brothers give a masquerade ball at Central Point Friday before Christmas.

Jim Stevens returned to Jacksonville from Nason, the mills being closed by the deep snow.

December 26th is the day set for the 3d annual ball of Tallman lodge, K. of P., of Medford.

Miss Mary Davison, the teacher, leaves soon to attend the Hill business college in the Bay city.

Rev. E. E. Thompson and wife, of Grants Pass, are at Roseburg revivifying with his brother.

John Bays forfeited his bail of $20 in the police court at Portland for lacerating Tom Richardson.

B. F. Cooksey is the name of the Kanawha people who have leased Husnaker's table top farm.

Conductor Ed. Mann is at the railroad hospital in San Francisco, rapidly recovering from a broken leg.

Jos. Rader, J. B. and Aaron Wyland, the Butte creek stockmen, were in Ashland last week.

The southern Oregon Chautauque circle has 145 members and expects 1000 for the year comes around in July.

The Redding Democrat says a Thorn polisher is being put up on the Twin Sister's Co's quartz mine in that section.

Geo. W. Maczore, of Woodville, and Miss Lisa M. Heckathorn, of Eagle Point, were married at Grants Pass on the 20th ult.

Rev. H. S. Shanley, presiding elder of the Southern Methodist church, is making a quarterly meeting tour through the valley.

Willis H. Fountain and brother of Missouri, were on Friday's train moving to California. They are cousins of J. D. Fountain.

J. A. Louden's residence on Applegate was destroyed by fire on Monday night, including the furniture, etc., of L. Louden. No insurance.

The Eagle Point amateurs have been presenting the question, "Am I my Brother's Keeper?" in several towns in the valley with good success.

The old soldiers of the people's party are organizing a fraternal order to be known as the "Boys in Blue." It will be a national organization.

At the Christmas ball at Gold Hill December 23rd, two gold rings will be given as prizes to the lady and gentleman coming nearest guessing the number of peas in bottles.

James Brown committed suicide at Philomath, while temporarily insane. He was a brother of Clint Brown, who murdered John Walker in Klamath county several years ago.

In the numerous candidates mentioned for state railroad commissioner, succeeded the present board, the Henry Stearns has the name of Salem Klippel of Gray county.

Frank S. Gray, a smart newspaper man who was in Portland for while less than two years ago, was just received judgment against Col. Shepard, of the N. W. Mail and Express, for $19,135.

Thos. Alford, who died at Harriburg, Nov. 23rd at the advanced age of 91 years, was the father of Ex-Gov. C. C. Alford, the son of M. L. Alford of Ashland.

Gen. E. L. Applegate and wife were given a surprise party at their Josephine home on Monday night, by a host of friends from the General's absence in stopping the state in the interest of the popular party in the late campaign.

The next two years will see great changes in Oregon politics.—Salem Journal. Right, you are. The changes are likely to be as great as those that have occurred in the nation since the passage of the McKinley bill. Let 'em come.—Albany Democrat.

Miles Orton, proprietor of a circus who exhibited in Chattanooga, Tenn., but a few days ago, has been arrested for sheep-stealing $500 that Harrison won be re-elected. A young democrat named Devine won the elephant, and after the big contest, marched in the democratic procession.

Grants Pass has a social science club. Robert McLean, H. B. Miller, W. W. Fiddler, T. Syron Cundy, W. C. Edwards and Geo. Hart being the leading members. They are all students of political economy all the way from populists down through democrats to republicans.

The Star Mining & Reduction Co., of Wood Creek, was incorporated with Ed. Smith, C. W. Fennell, G. E. Howe and D. Voss as incorporators—capital stock, $75,000. Ed. Smith is president; C. B. DeWitt, secretary; and C. W. Fennell, general manager. The company has bought a site and will put up reduction works soon at Wolf creek.

The timber-land boomers up Rogue river are taking of anti-trust money to make a survey in the spring for a rail road from the west side of Rogue river falls and following the river five miles, then crossing and going down the south side and going down to some place on the O. & C. railroad about Tolo or Centerville Point, the distance being about 35 miles. The survey will be given by S. P. K. R. and all other companies who are liable to become interested in the matter of building a road up there and opening up the country.

W. S. McMurty, representing $20,000 of the $30,000 bonds of the W. L. & P. Co., came up last week to foreclose the mortgage which secures the bonds, as interest for the past year had not been paid. When he arrived he found that the assets would hardly cover the liabilities in the present state of things, he concluded not to foreclose until he had attempted to compromise with parties holding time checks in this city. The principal holders of these checks are J. W. Howard, D. Dixon, P. H. Harb, T. P. Johnson, W. R. Walker and A. A. Wright, and the amount amounts to between $7000 and $8000. Wm. Knox has surrendered his interest in the concern for the sum of $1 and is therefore entirely out of it. McMurty proposes to let the check-holders run it if they will agree to pay the interest on the bonds amounting to $175 a month. They have not decided yet what they will do.—Grants Pass Courier.

Cornelius Vanderhill's summer residence at Newport, R. I., burned to the ground recently. None of the costly furniture or bric-a-brac was saved.

Wells Benson, of Talent, is attending the Medford business college.

W. A. Baker, of Central Point, was in the city Friday and Saturday.

The 4-stamp mill is in position on the Keel mine on Williams creek.

Mrs. Woodworth, the doom-sealer, is conducting a revival at Portland.

A son was born to the wife of John Robinson at Medford the 28th ult.

A daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell of Medford, Nov. 23d.

C. A. Scott, the south division freight conductor, has been visiting San Francisco.

The Woolf brothers give a masquerade ball at Central Point Friday before Christmas.

Jim Stevens returned to Jacksonville from Nason, the mills being closed by the deep snow.

December 26th is the day set for the 3d annual ball of Tallman lodge, K. of P., of Medford.

Miss Mary Davison, the teacher, leaves soon to attend the Hill business college in the Bay city.

Rev. E. E. Thompson and wife, of Grants Pass, are at Roseburg revivifying with his brother.

John Bays forfeited his bail of $20 in the police court at Portland for lacerating Tom Richardson.

B. F. Cooksey is the name of the Kanawha people who have leased Husnaker's table top farm.

Conductor Ed. Mann is at the railroad hospital in San Francisco, rapidly recovering from a broken leg.

Jos. Rader, J. B. and Aaron Wyland, the Butte creek stockmen, were in Ashland last week.

The southern Oregon Chautauque circle has 145 members and expects 1000 for the year comes around in July.

The Redding Democrat says a Thorn polisher is being put up on the Twin Sister's Co's quartz mine in that section.

Geo. W. Maczore, of Woodville, and Miss Lisa M. Heckathorn, of Eagle Point, were married at Grants Pass on the 20th ult.

Rev. H. S. Shanley, presiding elder of the Southern Methodist church, is making a quarterly meeting tour through the valley.

Willis H. Fountain and brother of Missouri, were on Friday's train moving to California. They are cousins of J. D. Fountain.

J. A. Louden's residence on Applegate was destroyed by fire on Monday night, including the furniture, etc., of L. Louden. No insurance.

The Eagle Point amateurs have been presenting the question, "Am I my Brother's Keeper?" in several towns in the valley with good success.

The old soldiers of the people's party are organizing a fraternal order to be known as the "Boys in Blue." It will be a national organization.

At the Christmas ball at Gold Hill December 23rd, two gold rings will be given as prizes to the lady and gentleman coming nearest guessing the number of peas in bottles.

James Brown committed suicide at Philomath, while temporarily insane. He was a brother of Clint Brown, who murdered John Walker in Klamath county several years ago.

In the numerous candidates mentioned for state railroad commissioner, succeeded the present board, the Henry Stearns has the name of Salem Klippel of Gray county.

Frank S. Gray, a smart newspaper man who was in Portland for while less than two years ago, was just received judgment against Col. Shepard, of the N. W. Mail and Express, for $19,135.

Thos. Alford, who died at Harriburg, Nov. 23rd at the advanced age of 91 years, was the father of Ex-Gov. C. C. Alford, the son of M. L. Alford of Ashland.

Gen. E. L. Applegate and wife were given a surprise party at their Josephine home on Monday night, by a host of friends from the General's absence in stopping the state in the interest of the popular party in the late campaign.

The next two years will see great changes in Oregon politics.—Salem Journal. Right, you are. The changes are likely to be as great as those that have occurred in the nation since the passage of the McKinley bill. Let 'em come.—Albany Democrat.

Miles Orton, proprietor of a circus who exhibited in Chattanooga, Tenn., but a few days ago, has been arrested for sheep-stealing $500 that Harrison won be re-elected. A young democrat named Devine won the elephant, and after the big contest, marched in the democratic procession.

Grants Pass has a social science club. Robert McLean, H. B. Miller, W. W. Fiddler, T. Syron Cundy, W. C. Edwards and Geo. Hart being the leading members. They are all students of political economy all the way from populists down through democrats to republicans.

The Star Mining & Reduction Co., of Wood Creek, was incorporated with Ed. Smith, C. W. Fennell, G. E. Howe and D. Voss as incorporators—capital stock, $75,000. Ed. Smith is president; C. B. DeWitt, secretary; and C. W. Fennell, general manager. The company has bought a site and will put up reduction works soon at Wolf creek.

The timber-land boomers up Rogue river are taking of anti-trust money to make a survey in the spring for a rail road from the west side of Rogue river falls and following the river five miles, then crossing and going down the south side and going down to some place on the O. & C. railroad about Tolo or Centerville Point, the distance being about 35 miles. The survey will be given by S. P. K. R. and all other companies who are liable to become interested in the matter of building a road up there and opening up the country.

W. S. McMurty, representing $20,000 of the $30,000 bonds of the W. L. & P. Co., came up last week to foreclose the mortgage which secures the bonds, as interest for the past year had not been paid. When he arrived he found that the assets would hardly cover the liabilities in the present state of things, he concluded not to foreclose until he had attempted to compromise with parties holding time checks in this city. The principal holders of these checks are J. W. Howard, D. Dixon, P. H. Harb, T. P. Johnson, W. R. Walker and A. A. Wright, and the amount amounts to between $7000 and $8000. Wm. Knox has surrendered his interest in the concern for the sum of $1 and is therefore entirely out of it. McMurty proposes to let the check-holders run it if they will agree to pay the interest on the bonds amounting to $175 a month. They have not decided yet what they will do.—Grants Pass Courier.

Cornelius Vanderhill's summer residence at Newport, R. I., burned to the ground recently. None of the costly furniture or bric-a-brac was saved.

Wells Benson, of Talent, is attending the Medford business college.

W. A. Baker, of Central Point, was in the city Friday and Saturday.

The 4-stamp mill is in position on the Keel mine on Williams creek.

Mrs. Woodworth, the doom-sealer, is conducting a revival at Portland.

A son was born to the wife of John Robinson at Medford the 28th ult.

A daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell of Medford, Nov. 23d.

C. A. Scott, the south division freight conductor, has been visiting San Francisco.

The Woolf brothers give a masquerade ball at Central Point Friday before Christmas.

Jim Stevens returned to Jacksonville from Nason, the mills being closed by the deep snow.

December 26th is the day set for the 3d annual ball of Tallman lodge, K. of P., of Medford.

Miss Mary Davison, the teacher, leaves soon to attend the Hill business college in the Bay city.

Rev. E. E. Thompson and wife, of Grants Pass, are at Roseburg revivifying with his brother.

John Bays forfeited his bail of $20 in the police court at Portland for lacerating Tom Richardson.

B. F. Cooksey is the name of the Kanawha people who have leased Husnaker's table top farm.

Conductor Ed. Mann is at the railroad hospital in San Francisco, rapidly recovering from a broken leg.

Jos. Rader, J. B. and Aaron Wyland, the Butte creek stockmen, were in Ashland last week.

The southern Oregon Chautauque circle has 145 members and expects 1000 for the year comes around in July.

The Redding Democrat says a Thorn polisher is being put up on the Twin Sister's Co's quartz mine in that section.

Geo. W. Maczore, of Woodville, and Miss Lisa M. Heckathorn, of Eagle Point, were married at Grants Pass on the 20th ult.

Rev. H. S. Shanley, presiding elder of the Southern Methodist church, is making a quarterly meeting tour through the valley.

Willis H. Fountain and brother of Missouri, were on Friday's train moving to California. They are cousins of J. D. Fountain.

J. A. Louden's residence on Applegate was destroyed by fire on Monday night, including the furniture, etc., of L. Louden. No insurance.

The Eagle Point amateurs have been presenting the question, "Am I my Brother's Keeper?" in several towns in the valley with good success.

The old soldiers of the people's party are organizing a fraternal order to be known as the "Boys in Blue." It will be a national organization.

At the Christmas ball at Gold Hill December 23rd, two gold rings will be given as prizes to the lady and gentleman coming nearest guessing the number of peas in bottles.

James Brown committed suicide at Philomath, while temporarily insane. He was a brother of Clint Brown, who murdered John Walker in Klamath county several years ago.

In the numerous candidates mentioned for state railroad commissioner, succeeded the present board, the Henry Stearns has the name of Salem Klippel of Gray county.

Frank S. Gray, a smart newspaper man who was in Portland for while less than two years ago, was just received judgment against Col. Shepard, of the N. W. Mail and Express, for $19,135.

Thos. Alford, who died at Harriburg, Nov. 23rd at the advanced age of 91 years, was the father of Ex-Gov. C. C. Alford, the son of M. L. Alford of Ashland.

Gen. E. L. Applegate and wife were given a surprise party at their Josephine home on Monday night, by a host of friends from the General's absence in stopping the state in the interest of the popular party in the late campaign.

The next two years will see great changes in Oregon politics.—Salem Journal. Right, you are. The changes are likely to be as great as those that have occurred in the nation since the passage of the McKinley bill. Let 'em come.—Albany Democrat.

Miles Orton, proprietor of a circus who exhibited in Chattanooga, Tenn., but a few days ago, has been arrested for sheep-stealing $500 that Harrison won be re-elected. A young democrat named Devine won the elephant, and after the big contest, marched in the democratic procession.

Grants Pass has a social science club. Robert McLean, H. B. Miller, W. W. Fiddler, T. Syron Cundy, W. C. Edwards and Geo. Hart being the leading members. They are all students of political economy all the way from populists down through democrats to republicans.

The Star Mining & Reduction Co., of Wood Creek, was incorporated with Ed. Smith, C. W. Fennell, G. E. Howe and D. Voss as incorporators—capital stock, $75,000. Ed. Smith is president; C. B. DeWitt, secretary; and C. W. Fennell, general manager. The company has bought a site and will put up reduction works soon at Wolf creek.

The timber-land boomers up Rogue river are taking of anti-trust money to make a survey in the spring for a rail road from the west side of Rogue river falls and following the river five miles, then crossing and going down the south side and going down to some place on the O. & C. railroad about Tolo or Centerville Point, the distance being about 35 miles. The survey will be given by S. P. K. R. and all other companies who are liable to become interested in the matter of building a road up there and opening up the country.

W. S. McMurty, representing $20,000 of the $30,000 bonds of the W. L. & P. Co., came up last week to foreclose the mortgage which secures the bonds, as interest for the past year had not been paid. When he arrived he found that the assets would hardly cover the liabilities in the present state of things, he concluded not to foreclose until he had attempted to compromise with parties holding time checks in this city. The principal holders of these checks are J. W. Howard, D. Dixon, P. H. Harb, T. P. Johnson, W. R. Walker and A. A. Wright, and the amount amounts to between $7000 and $8000. Wm. Knox has surrendered his interest in the concern for the sum of $1 and is therefore entirely out of it. McMurty proposes to let the check-holders run it if they will agree to pay the interest on the bonds amounting to $175 a month. They have not decided yet what they will do.—Grants Pass Courier.

Cornelius Vanderhill's summer residence at Newport, R. I., burned to the ground recently. None of the costly furniture or bric-a-brac was saved.

Wells Benson, of Talent, is attending the Medford business college.

W. A. Baker, of Central Point, was in the city Friday and Saturday.

The 4-stamp mill is in position on the Keel mine on Williams creek.

Mrs. Woodworth, the doom-sealer, is conducting a revival at Portland.

A son was born to the wife of John Robinson at Medford the 28th ult.

A daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell of Medford, Nov. 23d.

C. A. Scott, the south division freight conductor, has been visiting San Francisco.

The Woolf brothers give a masquerade ball at Central Point Friday before Christmas.

Jim Stevens returned to Jacksonville from Nason, the mills being closed by the deep snow.

December 26th is the day set for the 3d annual ball of Tallman lodge, K. of P., of Medford.

Miss Mary Davison, the teacher, leaves soon to attend the Hill business college in the Bay city.

Rev. E. E. Thompson and wife, of Grants Pass, are at Roseburg revivifying with his brother.

John Bays forfeited his bail of $20 in the police court at Portland for lacerating Tom Richardson.

B. F. Cooksey is the name of the Kanawha people who have leased Husnaker's table top farm.

Conductor Ed. Mann is at the railroad hospital in San Francisco, rapidly recovering from a broken leg.

Jos. Rader, J. B. and Aaron Wyland, the Butte creek stockmen, were in Ashland last week.

The southern Oregon Chautauque circle has 145 members and expects 1000 for the year comes around in July.

The Redding Democrat says a Thorn polisher is being put up on the Twin Sister's Co's quartz mine in that section.