Blaine's Handy Manual of Useful Information.

There has just been published in Chicago a most valuable book with the above title, compiled by Prof. Wm. H. Blaine, of Lancaster University. Its 500 pages are full of just what its name implies—useful information—and we fully advise all our readers to send for a copy of it. It is a compendium of things worth knowing, things difficult to remember, and tables of reference of great value to everybody, that it has never before been our good fortune to possess in such compact shape. Our wonder is how it can be published at so low a price as is asked for it. It is handsomely bound in flooring address, postpaid on receipt of 25 cents in postage stamps, by the publishers,

The most important detail of the bill law and in defense of it. Consideration is the method provided for the levy and collection of the tax. It is made obligatory on all persons receiving individual incomes of over $3,500 to make return to the local collector of internal revenue. These returns are gone over by the revenue collector, and a taxable list is made up of those whose incomes exceed $4,000. No tax is levied on those making return of $3,500 and under $4,000, but the committee leaves this margin of a person having an income over $3,500 tary of the treasury to issue bonds pro- fail to make a return it becomes the
