> Grand Jury Report, We, the grands jury of said county, empaneled at the April tema of said court, A. About ten or eleven months ago John Daley, who is living on Elk creek, made his appearance in our town looking as happy as a clam at high tide. We were all anxious to know the cause of his apparent exaltation, but the cause of his apparent exaltation, but the cause was not surmis ed, until recently his wife came out of the mountains with as fine a specimen of a baby as can be found in this country, and then the mystery was solved.
>
> There is a point of a hill—very promigest to some of them that they had better use a little caution, as they are sometimes under the immediate scrutiny of others, as Mr. Brown has a powerful spy-glass that is brought to bear on them, and if they wish to take a sly kiss they had better go a little farther around the point where they will be unobserved.
> In management, and believe it would have in curred an unnecessary expense upon the county for this body to have made a personal inspection of the premises at this time. As numerous complaints have reached us of the state of Jackson county finances, and believing that much of the existing dissatisfaction arises from uncertainty as to our present indebtedness and in order to fully
