A sensational fight over the estate of Patrick Hughes of San Jose is imminent. He is not dead yet but is an imbecile and is dying. The estate is valued at $20,000 or more. It appears that he was divorced about ten years ago, and his daughted Mary, aged 20, went with her mother to Mexico and manifested little affection toward her father until recently, when it was reported that he was dying. She then returned and lavished attention upon her father. This displeased the second wife and they quarreled until Miss Hughes threatened to throw Mrs. Hughes No. 2 out of the window unles she desisted in employing spies to watch her. Water Right Sold to City.

The West Ashland Ditch Co. have made arrangements with the Ashland city council whereby they will give the city a deed to their water right, etc., in consideration of $3400 to be paid to the city in water rents from the city water works within the next eight years, making $72 worth of water for the 34 share owners in the ditch company; all these privileges to cease after July 1, 1902. The West Ashland Ditch Co. have a water right of 100 inches, and 25 inches during the low water mark of the waters of Ashland creek. Their water right is 35 years old and their ditch supplied Ashland with its water for years until the city water system was built, and has ever since supplied the stockholders of the company with the water they consumed. The city council will have the deed made out and signed in a short while.

This is a very important matter and we hope the members of the city council have investigated the matter thoroughly and completely with all the probable and possible contingencies that may arise. There are so many people ready to monkey the public that our city dads should look into all the phases of the situation very carefully.

The good ladies of the W. C. T. U. made another lunge at the saloon business in Ashland before the city council Monday evening the putting in of a magnificently arranged saloon in the most prominent place in town especially raising their ire. In three days' work—Saturday, Sunday, (breaking both their own and the 7th Day Adventists Sabbath) and Monday—they secured 113 remonstrators. When the council met C. B Watson appeared for the applicants and Judge Howell and the W. C. T. U. ladies for remonstrators. The petition contained an abundance of names, far more than required, and one by one Judge Howell's technicalities against granting the license went to grass. At last the dear ladies begged Judge Howell to quit before he had finished his argument. And thus again the prayers and piety of the ladies who have the welfare of the young men at heart was knocked out by the ruthless city laws and cold city fathers. The W. C. T. U. have never taken a trick in contests against the saloons, but whenever one saloon fights another saloon they invariably knock them out. The ladies don't understand how it is that the attack of the Godly availeth naught and the attack of the un-Godly availeth so much.

Co. D Scrutinized.

Lieut. C. W. Robbin, of Salem, was down last Tuesday to inspect Company D. The boys turned out in force and went through the various convolutions in the plaza. The inspecting officer was highly pleased with the boys' proficiency. After inspection everybody repaired to Granite hall and rubbed wax into the puncheons in that vivacious manner that showed their huge enjoyment. Lieut. Roblin went north on last evening's train, and will inspect the company to-night.

More Pardons.

Overflow Dinner on the Fourth.

THE PULLMAN BOYCOTT.

The Band Begins to Play and the First Round of a Great Tie-Up and Battle Begun--No Trains for Several Days.

Geo. M. Pullman has been having trouble with his men at the shops in Pullman, near Chicago. He owns the town and the homes of his employes. He runs it on the program of the "company store" racket, by which when all accounts are settled the man will still be owing Pullman, "the philanthropist." Pullman's scheme will make actual white slaves of his employes if he can succeed in breaking up their labor organizations.

The American Railway Union has sprung up as a federation of the multitude of smaller unions and is now an immense power of organized railroad men and the effect is like this: The separate 44 states in the U. S. could not do much with a foreign foe, but as a nation they can stand pat and lick the world. Hence a wrong perpetrated on a laborer way back in Illinois is a wrong perpetrated on every laborer in the whole nation and the capitalist class must so recognize it.

Last evening's train out of Portland arrived in Ashland on time. It was reported that it would be tied up here, but the railroad boys say their instructions were not to do anything without official orders. The train may be stopped at Dunsmuir, but it will probably be landed at Oakland.

Last evening's train from San Francisco was tied up and will not arrive in Ashland to-day.

San Francisco, June 27.—No train service out of Oakland or San Francisco to-night. "No Pullmans, no trains," so S. P. managers say. Every indication of a protracted fight.

Los Angeles —Pullman boycott has tied up all overland trains at this point, both S. P. and Santa Fe.

Chicago.—Grand Trunk, B. & C., Manon Route, Wabash and Wisconsin Limited tied up.

St. Paul.—N. P. only road so far affected.

Helena, Mont.—N. P. tied up, main and branch.

Chicago.—At a late hour it is announced that the engineers of five Chicago roads would be ordered out tomorrow. The roads are Sante Fe, B. & O., Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City, Northwestern and Illinois Central.

THE LATEST.

Oakland.—No trains out of Oakland with Pullmans attached. Supt. Wilder will this afternoon precipitate a crisis by insisting that Pullmans go on trains.

Chicago.—Four engineers of C. & N. discharged at noon for inducing switchmen to boycott Pullman. This opens the great battle.

The N. P. overland that went out of Portland was tied up at Ellensburg. The Washington militia that started out for encampment have been ordered to Olympia.

Mining Items.

Grant Orme struck a rich pay shute in a ledge he is prospecting on Foots creek.

Ed. Scheffelin, who was out prospecting Stein's mountain, has returned and is prospecting on Sikes creek.

The mine of Mrs. Ross and Miller Maury, on Blackwell hills, turned out a fine brick from Davis's mill. The seven tons of quartz brought them $1200.

T. B. Blanton left for Hungary creek Tuesday to work in the S. D. Taylor & Co. quartz mine. This firm will put a quartz mill up on their ledge this summer.

The Swinden, Knotts & Birdsey mine, on Blackwell hills, have $2000 worth of gold in the quartz on their dump taken out of their 30-foot shaft. They are now tunneling from one shaft to another.

W. J. Stanley came up yesterday from the Homestake mine at Woodville owned by himself and Ashland parties, bringing 52 ounces of amalgum as a result of 25 tons run of their mill. The mill will start up again on the 5th of July for a longer run. The ore at the present location in the lower drift, 300 feet in, will mill $12 per ton and the ledge at that point is 2½ feet wide. With a good 5-stamp mill and concentrator the Homestake mine would be a splendid dividend producing property.

Portland Oregonian:

E. P. Thompson, a mining man of Grants Pass, who is now staying at the St. Charles, in speaking of southern Oregon mines, said yesterday: "There is a great deal of activity in mining circles just now, and many properties that have been inaccessible during the winter, because of the depth of the snow, are being cleaned up for the summer run. Prospectors are just as numerous as in former years, and no complaints are heard of the country having been prospected out. A large amount of development work is being done, and with very satisfactory results. The Bone-of-Contention, a splendid prospect located 18 miles southeast of Grants Pass, has been sold by Messrs. Boothe, Smith and others to H. E. Huntington. A force of men are at work developing the property. The Golden Eagle, in the Williams creek district, recently had a clean-up. Some 80 tons of ore were run through, and averaged $20 per ton. The famous Hammersly mine, at Jump-Off-Joe, is being operated by the man who discovered it, and the Lucky Bart and Ashland properties are all right.

"Placer claims everywhere are being worked with good results. The Wyman, Waldo, Simmons and Cameron & Ennis claims, on Galice creek, are proving good producers, the outputs thus far being fully up to the expectations of their several owners. There are many men scattered up and down the various creeks who are devoting all their time to washing out bars. It is not very profitable business, but several of them have told me that they intend to stick to it, if they only realize 50 cents per day, until President Cleveland ceases to reside at the White house; then they will look for something more profitable."

The success of the Institute in treating all cases of curvature of the spine, diseases of the hip and knee joints, crooked limbs and bodily deformities as well as piles, fistula, nasal catarrh and all chronic diseases has made for the Institute a national reputation. Green Aphis in Douglas County.

Roseburg Plaindealer:

A large number of farmers were in town Saturday, and as a consequence "the little green bugs in the wheat" were discussed thoroughly. Opinions concerning them differed greatly, and while some thought the wheat crop would be ruined by the insects, others were of the opinion that their visitation would result in no injury. The insects are provided with wings, which they are using to good effect in some sections, inasmuch as they are flying away from the wheat field as soon as their wings are fully matured. It appears that no damage has thus far resulted, but how so many bugs can be on a head of wheat without causing more or less damage is more than they can understand, and consequently they contend that later in the season the damage caused by the bugs will show itself. The following letter is self explanatory:

STATE EXPERIMENT STATION.
CORVALLIS, OR., June 21.

D. S. K. BUICK, Roseburg, Or.—Dear Sir: Your favor of the 16th has been referred to me for answer. The insects you send are the grain aphis (aphis evenæ), and it has occasionally proved a very bad pest in eastern states, if not checked by late rains, which is not likely, or by minute parasites, which is quite possible, it may increase to such an extent as to prevent grain from maturing, and hence be very destructive.

As regards remedies, there is no practical remedy which can be applied now. Spraying the wheat with a weak kerosene emulsion will kill them, but it is hardly to be thought of in a large acreage. But as soon as the wheat is harvested burn all the stubble and straw and litter weeds and waste in or upon the fields. F. L. WASHBURN.
