E. J. Farlow is the owner of a spotted pup of fish-haired breed but by associating with just common dogs, he got lousy amazingly. Ed. got an old pair of clippers and the assistance of Charlie Johnson and proceeded to shear him. After an hour's tussel the dog looked like his hair had been beaten off with an elm club. He then smeared the hapless dog with a coat of sheep dip, which killed the lice immediately. The rest of the afternoon was spent resuscitating the dog. He is a sorry looking beast, and takes to the woods upon sight of a wash pan. He evidently don't enjoy a red-hot shampoo.

Klamath Falls, Or., Aug. 22.—City Marshal Heminger, of Lakeview, acting as a night watch, was held up Monday morning last about 1 o'clock by a mob of masked men, who demanded the key to the county jail, from which they took W. S. Thompson, hanging him to the courthouse steps. Thompson was confined in jail charged with drawing a gun on parties. He had lived in Warren Valley, where he had hosts of enemies, who claim that Thompson did pretty much as he pleased, killing horses and cattle and abusing people, at one time almost killing his wife and child. The verdict of the coroner's jury was, he came to his death by strangulation by unknown hands.

Peaches command 2 cents to growers.

A Geologist's Visit.

R. L. Dunn, field assistant of the state minerologist of California, who made this place a brief visit a year ago, was here again this week mainly to examine the Golden Fleece mine to look up its possible connection with the blue gravel deposits of the Henley and Yreka neighborhoods. He believes the Golden Fleece, while not identical apparently, belongs to the same geological formation. He says that there is every reason to believe that this conglomerate deposit in some respects is similar to the deposit in South Africa; could be mined profitably, and that the Golden Fleece showing would justify more extended exploration and the close attention of capital, as it is capable of magnificent development. What is needed most is a process to work the ore and he thinks $1000 spent in experimenting for a process would be a small sum, as the mine is either nothing or a great big thing. Mr. Dunn took along a number of samples and is quite interested in this unusual mine, and believes that this section will come up in the mining world; saying that as a matter of fact little real developing has been done, what is needed is better methods and less waste.

An Assault by Tramps.

Among the hobos beating their way south from Portland who were giving the train crews a great deal of bother were three negroes. Tuesday's southbound passenger encountered them at Woodville, where Brakeman A. T. Morrian, while preventing them from getting on the blind baggage was pulled off the train. Morrian got on top of the negro and was thumping him. The other negro picked up a large sized egg-shaped rock and threw it with terrific force and effect at Morrian's head, the stone hitting Morrian an awful blow alongside of the nose, knocking him into an unconscious state. With a bleeding, black and swelled face showing the hideous wound Morrian was put aboard the cars looking like a dead man. He came to when the train pulled into Ashland and had his wounds dressed. The negro who threw the stone escaped but Engineer McCarthy with a rock in his hand forced the other coon to change his run and as he was attempting to leap over a fence Conductor Kearney jerked him back and landed him on the train with a dull, sickening thud.

The negro who did the act escaped and got into Rogue river, putting his hat under his coat, he let himself under the water alongside of some brush, nothing but his black face appearing above. For about three hours he heard the search party all about him, hearing their threats to kill him on the spot if found. After the party left he got out of the cool water nearly chilled to death and getting onto a sand bank he was sunned to sleep and until Constable Carter found him and took him to Grants Pass. He was afraid to cross Rogue river when he could have made his escape. He thought all the time he had killed Morrian. Constable Real brought him to Ashland this a. m. The examination on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill will be held in Ashland Saturday.

L. C. Hill not Guilty.

L. C. Hill, indicted by the Josephine county grand jury for attempting to wreck a passenger train at Tunnel 9 in December, 1892, was promptly acquitted this week in the trial in the circuit court. John Long testified to Hill's confession to him that he (Hill) had wrecked that train, but he was bare faced proven a rank perjurer. The two young men who told the grand jury they positively saw Hill near the wreck at the time, changed their evidence to seeing "a man that looked like Hill," and changed their dates of seeing him so that their testimony was worthless. At the conclusion of the testimony District Attorney Benson arose and asked the court to instruct the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty. Judge Hanna so instructed the jury and they signed the verdict and Mr. Hill was again a free man.

Hon. Phim Cooper, G. J. Callahan, John R. Booth and other solid citizens of Douglas county, who knew Hill for years, came down to see that those creatures of God's carelessness and idle moments, detectives, did not put up any job on the old man. Sam Tooley, the detective, is still at large. There should be a law passed that every detective after a reward that fails to convict his man should have his neck stretched. Among the stuff called evidence against Mr. Hill was that he was a populist. To the detective idea any man with a few grains of decency and intellectual sense is considered suspicious.

A Disconsolate Lover Suicides.

Cottage Grove, Or., Aug. 20.—Lane Shortridge, aged 23, was found this morning just inside the door of Hebron church, eight miles from here, with a bullet hole through his head. It is supposed he had been lying there since 10 o'clock last night. His condition is very uncertain. The ball entered the right temple and lodged in the upper part of the left jaw. It is reported that Shortridge was deeply in love with a certain Miss Powell, and had asked her to marry him. Being refused, he determined to kill himself. Yesterday he came to a drug store and wanted to obtain laudanum for his mother, as she was suffering severely with the toothache. It seems Shortridge first tried to take his life with the laudanum, and being unsuccessful, shot himself.

Mr. Thomas Batte, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says. "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Ashland Drug Company.

The Dunsmuir Strikers.

Sacramento, Aug. 20.—The grand larceny cases against E. Seyler, S. Tease, G. B. Coons, G. F. Aelmeth, F. Heckle, M. C. Roberts, George Dilirger, A. L. Walthers, W. C. Parrish, G. W. Massey, J. M. Littlefield and T. M. Price, charged with stealing a locomotive from Dunsmuir, July 4th, were dismissed in the police court here to-day on motion of District Attorney Ryan. They were then charged with evading payment of railroad fares, and were fined $5 each. As they were about to leave the city prison they were, with the exception of Walthers, arrested by Deputy Marshal Woodruff on charges of interrupting the mails and interstate commerce. They afterward gave bail in the sum of $500 each.

The girls and boys who have been able to do their sparking in the dingy lighted main streets will be compelled to move back and get out of under the glare of the electric light.

The Medford correspondent of the Oregonian in speaking of the $193.80 roised county warrant stated that the treasurer's book showed that the warrant had been receipted for by Charles Nickell, many people jumping at the conclusion that Nickell must have had a hand in the affair. Nickell, however, refutes this by showing that he received only $3.80, the amount the warrant was drawn for. No new developments have been made known. Commissioner Bradshaw at the next meeting of the county court, it is said, try some means of having ex-County Treasurer R. H. Moore brought back to this county and give a full explanation as well as refund to the county the amount raised and interest. It is reported that the matter will also be brought before the September grand jury with considerable vigor.

DIED.

PRYCE—At Gold Hill, August 19, 1894, of pulmanary trouble, Dr R. Pryce.

Dr. Pryce was one of the most prominent physicians of southern Oregon. He was a physician of much learning, and an all around good fellow. His many friends mourn his early departure. A man of generous impulse, upright and honest, a thorough scholar, and an endearing friend, he was consigned to the earth last Tuesday at the Jacksonville cemetery. His whole life has been a fight against the snares and temptations of the world: but he has fought a good fight, and when he sank to rest, no man had aught to say against his moral character. He has no relatives on this coast, except his wife (nee Miss Mary Chavner) who has the sympathy of the entire community.

TAYLOR—At the family residence near Eagle Point, after a lingering illness of about eight months, Charles William Taylor, aged 51 years, 9 months and 21 days.

The subject of the above notice was born in Manchester, England, Oct. 20th, 1842. He came to this country with his parents in the fourth year of his age, settling in Onedia county, New York. He crossed the plains in 1864 and in 1865 went to Austin, Nevada, where he was actively engaged in business, keeping what was known as the Summit House until the year 1880. While in business there he was joined in wedlock with Miss Mary Ann Marsh. The fall of 1880 they came to Jackson county, Oregon, where he purchased a part of what is known as the McDaniel farm, where the family have resided ever since.

During his sojourn among us he has made many warm friends who watched over him during his last illness and who now deeply sympathize with the bereaved family. When he found that his health was failing he took a trip to British Columbia to try a change of climate. The change seemed to be beneficial for awhile, but that insidious disease, consumption, had laid its coils so securely as to claim him as a victim, and after suffering for years his spirit went to God who gave it. There were five children born to them, four of whom survive him, the eldest child died in Nevada at the age of 15 months. He was not only an active business man, but somewhat of a politician. He was elected to the office of county commissioner and drew the long term when the law was changed having the commissioner hold for four years. He professed religion and joined the Presbyterian church in April, 1894, and although confined to his room all the time and his bed most of the time he showed a spirit of resignation to the will of God.

He was a member of the Free Masons and the A. O. U. W. At his own request he was buried by the former according to their ancient custom. (I am authorized to say by Master Workman Wm. [illegible] of the A. O. U. W. would have [illegible] saying that a lady to have [illegible] have turned out as that he [illegible] ended his funeral, but [illegible] was away from home and just arrived a few minutes before the procession reached town, and about all the young men were out of town, and the most of the Masons who took part in the burial ceremony were members of the A. O. U. W.) His remains were interred in the Masonic cemetery at Jacksonville. He leaves a wife, four children and a host of friends to regret his early call to the beyond.

We sorrow not as those who have no hope,
And we will not deplore thee;
For God was thy randsom, thy guardian and guide.
He gave thee, he took thee and soon will restore thee,
For death hath no sting since the Savior hath died. A. C. H.

During the past week Mrs. W. W. Stanfield has been quite sick, but is now able to be up once more.

Scott Pool, Misses Elsie Miller and Amy Salford and others visited the orchard of Wm. French yesterday and report a fine time.

J. A. Jonas closed his school last Friday in the Bettz district. Number of names enrolled, 30; I did not learn the average attendance.

John Allen and wife, of Big Butte, have gone to Modoc county, Cal., on a business trip, and may go as far as Susanville before they return.

John Ashpole, the retired merchant and grainger of Eagle Point, is seperator tender for the Nicholds, Simon & Mathews thrashing machine.

During the past week J. J. Fryer and family and Mrs. A. M. Thomas and son, Charles, started for eastern Oregon to be gone two or three weeks.

I am authorized to say that Rev. R. Fysh will preach at Eagle Point next Sunday night at 8 o'clock. Subject: "Marriage" at the request of a young lady.

It was announced yesterday (Sunday) morning in Sunday school that Rev. R. Fysh would not preach here as per appointment as he had gone to the Soda springs with his family.

Daniel Simon and Arthur Nicholds have rented a three-quarter interest in the Nicholds, Mathews & Pool Co. machine, and start out today to commence thrashing the farmers grain.

Mrs. Chas. Homes, who has been sick for a long time at her father's, Lou Tucker's, took a relapse last Thursday, but Dr. Officer has succeeded in helping her, and she is in a fair way to recover.

John Williscroft is expecting a friend to visit him this week and the two are going to take a big hunt on Trail creek. They are going to kill skunks and coyotes as you know that it is not healthy to kill deer on that range.

Mr. Justin Tylor and Mr. Wight, of Klamath Falls, stopped at the Eagle Hotel last Tuesday night on their way to the Willamette valley with a band of fine horses. The former is an old acquaintance of Mrs. A. Pool.

News is as scarce as twenty dollar pieces on Butte creek, and Mrs. Dick says just tell the editor of the VALLEY RECORD that everybody has gone to the mountains and other places to recuperate except a few of us who couldn't go.

Miss Grace Stanfield, one of our most accomplished and promising young ladies, has left to sojourn in your city for awhile. She is not only missed from the social circle but also from the secretary's chair in the lodge of Good Templars.

I see that your fair correspondent from Big Sticky—"An old maid"—pays her respects to your correspondent and expresses a hope that he will be able to attend the basket meeting next Sunday at the Antelope church. Divine providence premitting we will be there and help all we can when it comes to the basket part of the program.....I am not that "eighth wonder" and hope that the "Old maid" will be there with a well-filled basket.

Our young folks have adopted a novel way to combine business with pleasure, thereby giving the young ladies a chance to ride and give some of the professionals a chance to develope their muscles: A young man takes a wheelbarrow and seats his best girl thereon and starts, and the program is for the girl to scream and then the gents increase the speed to quiet her nerves and on they go. Some young man, a professor, started with his dulcy dear and she screamed and he ran and the force of his body against the air caused his hat to lose its equlibrium, and while he was going back to get it the prisoner escaped from the wheelbarrow, and he had to take up the lonely march with an empty wheelbarrow. He is going to have the other girl sew strings on his hat as a precautionary measure as he does not like to run a wheelbarrow without ballast. DICK.

California bicyclists are making great records at the national meeting in Denver. Zeigler of San Jose beat the world's competition record in the two mile race, Foster and Wells, both native sons, are next best respectively in the estimation of the public and wheelmen.

It is officially stated that the Japanese fleet, which consists of 17 vessels, is putting for the China fleet for the purpose of engaging in battle.

A dispatch from Shanghai says the government of Formosa has published a schedule of rewards for Chinese who capture or destroy Japanese ships or capture Japanese soldiers or sailors, dead or alive. The government offers 6,000 taels, or almost £2,000, for the destruction of a big Japanese warship. For the destruction or capture of a small warship it promises 4,000 taels, or about £1,200. Two hundred taels will be paid for the head of a Japanese officer and 100 for a Japanese private.

Emma Goldman, the anarchist, who was sent to prison from New York for incendiary speech, was released the other day, her sentence having been served. On her return to New York she was given an enthusiastic reception by anarchists.

IF YOU ARE BLUE

you're out of order and can not take steps to make a change too quickly. The best antidote for blueness discovered up to date is OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER, sold by Sherwin; it stimulates, freshens up and strengthens. Whatever your Physician may prescribe for you, get your prescription filled at Sherwin's; none but pure chemicals are used and every article is checked back to insure accuracy, before the prescription leaves the laboratory; you can't take medicine and chance at the same time.

Sherwin sells CONGO OIL to apply for Rheumatic pains.

A Good Showing for the Normal.

The demand for trained teachers is rapidly increasing. The demand for teachers with Normal training is growing rapidly in the state. The State Normal School at Monmouth reports that out of the 46 members of the graduating class of 1893, all but one were employed as teachers during the past year. Of its 217 graduates, inclusive of this year's class of 51 members, 164 are reported as at present engaged in teaching. The first class was graduated eleven years ago. The demand for teachers with training and experience is far beyond the supply; the supply of untrained and inexperienced teachers, on the other hand, is far beyond the demand. Both for the good of the teachers and the good of the schools, a thorough Normal course should be taken by those who expect to seek positions in the public schools of the state. It pays to prepare to compete for the best places.

Henley Mining Items.

Ben Reeder, who has a mine on Fool's Paradise, about five miles south of here, struck another pocket and in ten days time with one man to help him they took out $18 0 in a hand mortar. This mine has yielded about $8000 in he last three years, most all of which has been taken out in a hand mortar.....Situate near the above mine is the Midwinter quartz mine, owned by W. B. Edmondson & Co. which also yields handsome results. It looks like this place will be a good camp when the mines are properly developed. Cal. Eubanks & Co., who have two quartz claims on Hungry creek, are working night and day on same, running tunnels to tap the ledge. They are pushing things as fast as possible and are deserving of success .....The river miners are all working sinking cuts, expecting to realize good pay on reaching the rock.....

..A Chinaman who lived about one mile north of here was found dead in his cabin last Tuesday, and upon examination of the body by the coroner, two gunshot wounds were found in his back. It is supposed he had been dead about a week when found. No clew to the perpetrators of the deed.
