VALLEY RECORD.

Homicide in Warner Valley. Ed. Donovan and John Vinevard, two Warner valley settlers, got into a dispute over a barness on the 5th inst., when Vineyard pulled his pistol and fired at Donovan, who responded with his rifle Two bullets from Donovan's rifle entered Vineyard's body, the last one killing him instantly. A number of shots were exchanged. The stories of the shooting by the two eye witnesses and the living principal agreed that it was a straight cuse of self-defense.

Rode on a Klamath Railroad. J. H Houston returned last Friday from a trip to the Royue river valley. He stopped over at Klamath Hot Springs to take the baths, being much benefited thereby. While at the latter place he ascended the bluff on the north side of Klamath river, watched the descent of the logs into the stream, and Office-Ganiards Opera House.
