Manifold Disorders

Are occasioned by an impure and impurified condition of the blood. Slight impurities, if not corrected, develop into serious maladies, such as

VOL. VII.

ASHLAND, JACKSON COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1894.

NO. 24.

The Late James Hamblin.

Jas. Hamblin, a pioneer of southern Oregon, died at his farm residence, five miles from Jacksonville, Oct. 15th, aged 70 years and 6 months. He crossed the plains in 1852, arriving in Jacksonville in the fall of that year. He soon after located his donation land claim and resided on it until his death. In 1857, in partnership with the late Daniel Kenney, he engaged in the mercantile business in Jacksonville, continuing the business until Mr. Kenney's death, in 1890. Since that time he had engaged exclusively in farming, and amassed quite a fortune. He had much capital invested, principally in Medford property. He was a man of the most pronounced opinions, and in his business relations always settled every controverted question at law. He was known of late years as the most frequent client in this part of the state. Coupled with his marked individuality was a fine sense of justice and a generous and speedy acknowledgment, whenever he was convinced that he was in the wrong. He possessed, in a marked degree, the hospitable spirit of the old pioneers, and his latchstring was always out. He was enterprising and public spirited and was held in high esteem in the community in which he had so long resided. He left an aged widow and eight grown children. He was buried in the Medford cemetery on the 18th inst.

Election Class.

Prof. O. H. Roberts, the California electionist, has organized a class in Ashland and is meeting with good success in imparting the art to his pupils. There is no finer study than the art of talking and acting properly and the training given by Prof. Roberts will never be forgotten.
