SAMS VALLEY.

The unusual heavy frost of last week did much damage to the late peach crop. Ed Shipley had in his orchard one thousand trees heavily laden with peaches which he from the Philippine Islands was a grand had sold at two cents per pound. Just as they were getting ready to gather the frost caught them and completely ruined them.

The heavy rains have stated agreed to gather the frost caught them and completely ruined them.

The heavy rains have started some of our farmers to plowing Although the ground is full wet and heavy in many places the hall and is now fitting it up for a billiard n take chances on the spring weather. Onite a number of our farmers have their corn to gather yet, and the ground in the corn fields is very wet and muddy which makes it very disagreeable. Yet it was not the fault of the farmers that they did not harvest their corn in dry weather. Corn did not ripen as early as usual, and the unusual heavy frost and the immediately setting in of the heavy rain prevented them from getting it gathered in good weather. John Sizemore returned one day last week from Crook county.

There are a number of Klamath county ople in the valley waiting for the weather o clear up so they can get home again. If wait till next June in our opinion they will have a fine journey across the mountain Several of our nimrods are in the moun-
