

ONLY ONE CURE FOR SCROFULA.

S. S. S. is the Only Remedy Equal to this Obsolete Disease.

There are dozens of remedies recommended for Scrofula, some of them no doubt being able to afford temporary relief, but S. S. S. is absolutely the only remedy which completely cures it. Scrofula is one of the most obstinate, deep-seated blood diseases, and is beyond the reach of the many so-called purifiers and tonics because something more than a mere tonic is required. S. S. S. is equal to any blood trouble, and never fails to cure Scrofula, because it goes down to the seat of the disease, thus permanently eliminating every trace of the taint.

The serious consequences to which Scrofula surely leads should impress upon those afflicted with it the vital importance of wasting no time upon treatment which can not possibly effect a cure. In many cases where the wrong treatment has been relied upon, complicated glandular swellings have resulted, for which the doctors insist that a dangerous surgical operation is necessary.

Mr. H. E. Thompson, of Millersville, Ga., writes: "A bad case of Scrofula broke out on the glands of my neck, which had to be lanced and caused me much suffering. I was treated for a long while, but the physicians were unable to cure me, and my condition was as bad as when I began their treatment. Many blood remedies were used, but without effect. Some one recommended S. S. S., and I began to improve as soon as I had taken a few bottles. Continuing the remedy, I was soon cured permanently, and have never had a sign of the disease to return." Swift's Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

—is the only remedy which promptly reach and cure obstinate, deep-seated blood diseases. By relying upon it, and not experimenting with the various so-called tonics, you can be promptly cured, instead of enduring years of suffering which gradually but surely undermines the constitution. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and never fails to cure Scrofula, Eczema, Cancer, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Boils, Tetter, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers, etc. It is the only blood purifier that takes its place in the blood, and never fails to cure Scrofula, because it goes down to the seat of the disease, thus permanently eliminating every trace of the taint.

Books on blood and skin diseases will be mailed free to any address by the Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

A CRYSTAL CAVE.

Black Hills Curiosity for the Paris Exposition.

The Mammoth Cave in Elk Creek Canyon to be Reproduced in Miniature for the World's Fair.

The Black Hills will have a curiosity at the Paris exposition in the shape of a miniature of the Mammoth Crystal cave, which is situated in Elk creek canyon, about 20 miles southeast of this city. J. G. Keith, one of the owners of the cave, left Deadwood last night for Paris to sign a contract with the exposition management for space. He has been given a room under the Eiffel tower 50x75 feet, with a high ceiling. He will take over five carloads of material for the construction of the cave, mostly lime water crystals and colored quartz rock, which will line the inside walls of the cavern. The Mammoth Crystal cave made a great hit at the world's fair exposition, later at Atlanta and recently at Antwerp.

The Mammoth Crystal cave was first discovered by the McBride brothers about 12 years ago when prospecting for a gold mine in an old tunnel in Elk Creek canyon, which had been excavated years before by an old prospector named Jacobs. One of the brothers noticed a strong current of air blowing out through a hole in the side of the tunnel, and further investigation opened up a large chamber several feet square. Since the first discovery the owners of the cave have been busy opening up new chambers and making passageways connecting them, until it is possible now to walk miles underground and not less than 200 chambers have been opened up.

Fat Man's Misery is the first chamber to be given a name. It is a very low, tortuous passageway that leads into a series of rooms beyond. Mold chamber is a weird place, on account of the quantities of thick, white mold, of delicate texture, very prolific in growth. The next room is called the Menagerie, so called by reason of the different images of animals in stone, the most realistic being the arctic seals. Poverty Flat is a room about 6x250 feet, with a low ceiling. The room derives its name from the fact that the walls are destitute of crystals, being very smooth and water-worn. Notre Dame is the first chamber to show the fine box work, brownish in color, a little coarser, perhaps, than the boxwork of the famous "Wind cave." The room is about 60x150, with a ceiling 20 feet high. A distinguished visitor from Chicago had the honor of naming a large chamber after Calkin's Gallery, of Chicago. With a little imagination a person can see a great many beautiful pictures on the walls and ceiling of the room. While the room contains some more of the menagerie, there is a perfect image of a whale which is 30 feet in length, with eyes, mouth, fins and everything in perfect order. Perched above the whale is the American eagle, life size, with wings outstretched.

A descent of about 65 feet down Rip Van Winkle's stairway takes the visitor to the second level in stone known commonly as the water level. Rip Van Winkle is a chamber about 100 feet long, and is reached by the dripping of the water from the ceiling to the floor below.

The Abode of the Fairies is the pride of the cave. Here are the Needle, Cies, Cleopatra's Needle, the Bridal Veil and a number of other natural curiosities. One can easily imagine the old nursery stories to be true about the fairies, who with rubies and diamonds glisten. She room is a curious place. All of the crystals have fallen from the ceiling to the floor, leaving it bare and smooth. A fight against it to the last and keeps up its appearance as long as she can hold up her head."

Dr. H. O. Howard, the entomologist of the agricultural department, is credited by a Washington correspondent with saying that it is the judgment of the highest authority that a considerable part of the typhoid in camps during the Spanish war was due to the flies, which carried the contagion.

E. E. Turner, Compton, Mo., was cured of piles by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve after suffering seventeen years and trying for twenty remedies. Physicians and surgeons endorse it. Beware of dangerous counterfeits. Eugene A. Sherwin.

ABOUT THE CATFISH.

In Not Yet Made Fully Into a Perfect Fish—Some of Its Quirky Ways.

The catfish belongs to an ancient type not yet fully made into a fish, and hence those who paired fins are all properly fastened to the head, as his are not, hold him in well-merited scorn. He has no scales and no bright colors. His fins are small, and his head and mouth are large. Around his mouth are eight long "smellers," fleshy feelers, that he pushes out as he crawls along the bottom in search of anything that he may eat. As he may eat anything, he always finds it. His appetite is as impartial as that of a goat. Anything from a deal lamprey or a bunch of sunfish eggs to a piece of tomato can be grateful to him. In each of the fins which represent his arms is a long, sharp bone, with a slimy surface and a serrated edge. These are fastened by a ball and socket joint, and whenever the fish is alarmed the bone is whirled over and set in place, then it sticks out stiffly on each side. There is another such bone in the fin on the back, and when all of these are set there is no fish that can swallow him, says the Popular Science Monthly.

When he takes the hook, which he surely will do if there is any hook to be taken, he will swallow it greedily. As he is drawn out of the water he sets his three spines, and laughs to himself as the boy pricks his fingers trying to get the hook from his stomach. He is sure to do so, and because the boy of the Mississippi valley is always fishing for catfish is the reason why his fingers are always sore. The catfish is careless of the present and the future. He holds his mail, strung on a birch branch and dried in the sun and sprinkled with dust and has had his stomach dug out to recover the hook, if he falls into the brook he will swim away. He holds his mail, and is ready to bite again at the first thing in sight.

TICKED FIVE CENTURIES.

The Famous Old Town Clock in Rouen Has Kept Time for 510 Years.

Rouen, one of the principal cities of France, and the greatest seat of its cotton manufacture, possesses the oldest public clock in the world. The great Rouen clock has held its place in that city for 510 years and the pride of its citizens. Placed in 1389, it has been running without interruption from that day to this, requiring nothing except cleaning and a few trifling repairs of its accessory parts. The great clock has accustomed the citizens to look upon its exactitude as a matter of course that when, in 1572, the breaking of a wire prevented its sounding five o'clock one morning, the population was in a state of consternation.

The antiquaries summoned the custodian—Guillaume Petit—and remonstrated gravely with him. Until 1712 the great clock had no pendulum. For 322 years it had no other regulator than a "foliot," an apparatus unknown to the majority of modern clockmakers. The pendulum in clockwork was introduced in 1659, but so well satisfied were the people of Rouen with the time-keeping qualities of their famous old clock that 52 years were allowed to pass before a pendulum was substituted for the "foliot." Equipped with this new apparatus it has continued to this day to strike the hours and chime the quarters.

AMERICAN GIRL'S RETORT.

Her Quick Wit and Knowledge of French Once Stood Her in Good Stead.

As one of our countrywomen was going down the rather narrow stairs that lead from the house to the garden, at the American embassy, she met three or four young attaches of foreign legations, who were entire strangers to her, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Their politeness induced them to stand aside for her to pass, but their courtesy did not prevent their making audible personal comments. They seemed to take it for granted that French was an unknown tongue to Americans.

"Look at her yellow dress; it's very pretty," said No. 1.

"Yes, but she has no white gloves," announced No. 2.

"She has good teeth," said No. 3.

"And an enormous mouth," added No. 4.

"And she understands French perfectly," said the owner of the enormous mouth, turning suddenly upon them, "and would like to say that her ears are even bigger than her mouth." This in French and with such an air of inflexible impersonal information to nobody Agent, Fimples, Sores, Ulcers, etc. It is the only blood purifier that takes its place in the blood, and never fails to cure Scrofula, because it goes down to the seat of the disease, thus permanently eliminating every trace of the taint.
