CLAMATH COUNTY. The failure of the grand jury to indict the murderers of Dr. George was worse than a public calamity to Col. Chas. A. Cogswell and A. S. Hammond. Henry Jackson, the wealthy Indian who is expected as the cause of the crime, had engaged these two attorneys to defend him in case an indictment was returned by the grand jury, their fees to be $1000 each. It is said that these attorneys labored hard, but in vain, to make the Indian Jackson give them a retainer fee of $100, but Jackson had so much "Injun" in his intellect that he could not understand why they should receive any money when they did not know whether there was any work to be done. Mrs. Hemenway, wife of Dr. Hemenway, the Clamath Agency physician, died recently from the effects of an excessive over use of chloral hydrate and other drugs. The lady was addicted to the inordinate use of morphine and when this was deprived her unknown to her husband she secured the chloral. She was in the 35th year of her age.

CLAMATH COUNTY. Klamath county still keeps up its reputation. No well-to-do citizen, whether red or white skinned, has ever been found guilty of murder. Chas. Margaline has returned to Ashland from a visit in Klamath county.
