VALLEY RECORD.

Medford dispatch in Oregonian: A bicycle path connecting Medford and Jacksonville, a distance of five miles, is well under way. John H. Orth, of Jacksonville, has charge of the construction. Substantial fills and durable bridges are to be used where needed. The track is five wide, and well graveled the entire distance. This is the first path constructed in the county, and wheelmen are watching it with interest. Work will soon be undertaken at these other points, and with this year's tax, there will be sufficient funds to make a fair showing of good paths.

Medford, April 14.—Medford will now operate her own electric lights, having purchased the plant from Mr. Proudfoot, which he has successfully operated the past two years. The plant has proved a good investment for the owner, and the city council believes it will earn money for the city. J. E. Erford has been appointed superintendent. The price paid for the plant, including a considerable amount of fuel, was $9194.36. The plant will be operated in connection with the city water system.

Medford, April 12.—Though the frosts of Saturday and Sunday night have nearly ruined the peach crop in the lowlands of the Rogue River Valley, there will be fruit in the foothills for home consumption. Pears, prunes and apples are injured, but it is claimed not so seriously as at first thought. Some growers expect a fair crop still.

Death of Miss Ethel Norris.

Miss Tena Ethel Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Norris, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harries, died Saturday. The funeral took place from the residence Sunday afternoon, religious services being conducted at the residence by Rev. J, T. Abbett of the M. E. church. A large concourse of friends followed the remains to their sepulchre in Ashland Cemetery.

Tena Ethel Norris was born in Santa Rosa, California, in the autumn of 1879 and departed this life at 6:30 p. m. April 14th, 1900, in the 21st year of her earthly life. She came, with her parents, to Ashland, August 27th, 1893. Two years ago she had a severe sickness of typhoid fever, and has been in delicate health ever since. Her last sickness was of ten weeks duration. She was confined to her room all that time. Miss Norris became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church in Ashland on the 18th day of December, 1897, and continued a member until death. She was a very quiet girl, yet many and hopeful in disposition. Death at best seems a hard thing. When the old die we say of them, that they had reached the end of life's pilgrimage. But it seems specially sad to see the young life, unfolding in beauty and usefulness, eclipsed in death. "In the midst of life we are in death." None are exempt. The "golden bowl" must be broken and the "silver cord loosed" for us all. The subject of this short sketch, was cheered by the light of Christian hope, as she passed through the "valley of the shadow of death," changing the dark winding path to a bright and shining way. Such hope changes the dark, cold, sullen river, which stagnates and decays in death, to the bright, sparkling stream, which renews in immortal youth and beauty for ever and ever.

The father, mother and two sisters are left to mourn. They have the sympathy of their friends and neighbors in this time of deep sorrow.

Medford, April 12.—A. J. Hamlin, found guilty of shooting Ed Armstrong in March, was today sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary. Hamlin's sister was sent to the penitentiary last year for arson, having set fire to her brother's barn and grain stacks. Armstrong has nearly recovered from the wounds received in the shooting.

Hamlin took an appeal to the supreme court and is out on $2000 bonds, which he furnished, pending the decision.

Grants Pass, Or., April 13.—Building operations continue active, and the coming summer promises to be the best in many years. There are at present under construction E. Klenien's two-story brick storeroom, a two-story frame parsonage for the Methodist church, South, Mrs. Yerke's two-story dwelling, Ed Hubbard's cottage, Scott Griffin's two-story grain and feed warehouse. As soon as brick can be obtained, John Schallhorn and George Hansen will each build a two-story brick storeroom, adjoining the Hotel Layton, and J. T. Layton will build a two-story hotel addition in the rear. William Bros. will build three brick stores on Front street, H. Kessles an addition to his brick building, T. A. Hood & Co. a one-story brick storeroom, and Mrs. Thornton a two-story brick storeroom. Henry Hath is having plans made for a comforta ble home on Fifth street.

Hon. R. S. Sheridan, chairman of the democratic state central committee, has no love for the republican party, seemingly. In calling the state convention together he made the generally remarked and later in the proceedings was over whelmingly re-elected chairman: Chairman Sheridan dropped the gavel at 10:30. He prefaced a short and rather acid speech by thanking the state committee for its support of him in the last two years. He said he had done the best he could to build up the party, and if any mistakes had been made, they were his. Chairman Sheridan concluded his remarks in this dramatic fashion: "We who are assembled here to-day represent the principles of the democratic party as they were represented by Jefferson, Jackson and Wm. J. Bryan. (Applause.) This country is ruled to-day by a man who is a creature of the trusts, and who does their bidding like a slave. (Applause.) The State of Oregon has for its Governor a man who has been indicted by the public press for taking bribes. We have a legislature that is a disgrace to the state. And, to cap the climax, Oregon has elected that Judas Iscariot, Joseph Simon, to the United States Senate, and he is a disgrace to our state." (Applause.)
