Ashiand's Big Voting Population.

It was generally known that Ashland was gaining rapidly in population during the past two years, but it took the registering of the county voters to bring the matter forcible to the attention of the public. The Ashland precincts now known as East ahd West Ashland, Dunn and Barron, show up registered 1102 registered voters making 103 voters over one-fourth of the voting population of the county which is 3399. One of this city's precincts-East Ashland- has exactly the same number of voters as the entire city of Medford 466. This is the part of town where most of the growth has been in the past two years. The 1102 votes for the Ashland precincts this year is a gain of 453 over the total vote at the last general election in 1898, which was 649.

In the county the total vote of 1898 was 3085 and 8785 in the presidents.
