At Woodburn, Not Ashland. Salem, June 2.—Superintendent of Public Instruction J. H. Ackerman went to Woodburn this evening, where he presented diplomas to the graduates of the public schools. The graduating ex-ercises were to have been held on Fri-crops and preparing irrigating ditches. day evening, but owing to the fact that two members of the graduating class are adherents of the Seventh-Day Adventist faith, and observe Sabbath from sundown on Friday to sundown Saturday, the exercises were postponed. In speaking of the matter today, Superintendent Ackerman very highly commended this action taken in deference to the religious scruples of members of the class.
