County School Notes.

We understand that the teachers county institute will not be held during the Chanatqua at Ashland.

An entertainment in district 11, at the close of the term last week was a success.

Schools that have closed recently are those in charge of Maggie Miller, Cora Lemon, Lila Sackett, Clara Polley, Frances Barnard and others.

J. M. Horton of Jacksonville will attend the duties of County Superintendent until the first Monday in August when the term of the new superintendent will begin.

Preparations are under way which will insure a most successful year in the normal at Ashland. Two new teachers in the faculty and the boarding department are expected to be secured.

The next teachers institute should be the best in the history of the county for it is on hand $105 institute fund and this will be increased by the August teachers' examination. $65.00 was the expense of the institute held in Medford last year.

There are according to the reports of school clerks, 5035 school children between four and twenty years of age in the county. This is an increase of 176 over last year.

We have now received assurance that the new teachers registers are to be completed in the near future. Probably they will be ready for the fall term.

Several districts are preparing records on blank paper and these should be copied into new registers.

June 22 saw the close of a good year's work in the Woodville school under the care of Miss Mary Johnson.

With this week "County School Notes" under the present management will close. For two years we have tried to give items of interest to teachers and school officers and occasionally something for the general public.

Terrible Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Probably 300 lives, perhaps more—some estimates put the number as high as 500—were lost yesterday (Saturday) afternoon in a fire here that in many respects is unprecedented.

Many of the unfortunate were burned to death, and more were struggling in the water at one time and how many of these were lost is only conjecture.

The same fire destroyed three great ocean steamships, the immense wharves of the North German Lloyd Steamship company, part of the dock of the Hamburg-American Steamship company, and the Thuringia Steamship company, a vast storage warehouse in Hoboken, 12 canal boats and six barges.

The ocean liners destroyed were the Saale, the Bremen and the Main. All three of these ships belong to the North German Lloyd company. The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, the fastest and one of the largest passenger ships in the world, was damaged and had a narrow escape from total destruction.

New York, July 1.—The docks sustained in the fire the losses of the North German Lloyd Steamship company in Hoboken yesterday are tonight conservatively placed at nearly $1,000,000; the loss of life, merely guessed at even at this late hour, will reach probably as high as 300, and there are over 800 men in the hospitals in this city, Hoboken and Jersey City badly burned.

Up to 11 o'clock tonight 18 bodies have been recovered. Eleven of these were placed in row at the morgue in this city and numbered, this being the only means the authorities have of maintaining any sort of identity over the corpses, as they are so badly charred and dismembered that identification can be made only by trunks or pieces of clothing that were found about the bodies. The only way the steamship officials have of approximating the loss of life is by comparing the list of those reported safe with the list of the employes on the steamships.

The Oregon Railroad and Navigation company has announced that beginning July 1 it will inaugurate a 3-cent per mile passenger rate on its lines in Oregon and Washington.

On taking the oath of allegiance to the government and renouncing all forms of revolution in the Philippines, together with making formal acknowledgments of American sovereignty. The oath is much stronger and more binding than the oath which General Otis administered and was consequently distasteful to the Filipinos, who accepted it with bad grace, fully realizing the results of any violation. Senator Buchanan took the oath Monday. It is hoped that the sparing of the nine leaders will influence their men to take advantage of the amnesty, which had thus far been without result.
