Portland Telegram, Jan. 18: Many aspirants for clerkships at the legislature have returned to Portland disgusted and disappointed at their failure to land fat jobs. Each and every one complains of the sudden attack of economy now being experienced by the law makers, and compare it with the liberality of former sessions. In the opinion of these individuals with crushed hopes the legislature will never be able to attend to all the work before them, for the reason that there is so much clerical work to and disappointed at their failure to land the work before them, for the reason that there is so much clerical work to do that the committees cannot keep up. Eloping Kids Battle With the Storm. A boy of 18 and a girl of 16 arrived in Yreka last Sunday from Scott Barr, en route for Redding, where a married sister of the girl resides. They came over through the deep snow, via Oak Bar route, and had a rough trip, plodding over 5 or 6 feet of snow most of the way. The father of the girl followed them as far as Quigley's on the Klamath, where his horse gave out, and was un-able to get another. He had a warrant telephoned for their arrest, and they were taken home by Sheriff Freshour, as the young couple were eloping to get married, without consent of their par ents, both being under age .-- Yreka
