SWEAT SAVES BLOOD!
"Guilty of murder!"

If you as officer or cadreman heard that flung at you by some tough jury foreman you would blanche and beads of sweat would stand out on your forehead because the penalty under Article 92 of the Articles of War stipulates a death penalty.

And yet some mother or father might adjudge that penalty on any of us who failed to do our job in equipping the hundreds of trainees coming to Camp Abbot now and in the future for their training in the U. S. Army Engineer Corps.

Col. Frank S. Besson, post commander, came forth with his now famous slogan "Sweat Saves Blood" upon arrival of cadre personnel to Camp Abbot and it is indeed a good one.

Just a bit more sweat off the brow today means less blood will be shed on some far off battle field tomorrow.

When Camp Abbot was activated, Col. Besson and the other officers selected, all had one thing in mind to make Abbot the finest Engineering Replacement Training Center in the United States. We are well on our way, but it will take just a bit more sweating, a bit more rope tying, a bit more marksmanship, a bit more saluting, a bit more hiking, a bit more bridge building to achieve a judgment of "not guilty" when the Axis is smashed and we return to our homes and face our own folks and the parents of our buddies.

So let's stop our crying, our complaining and get together and "Give 'Em Hell." Let's make Abbot the best Engineer Training Center in the good old free U. S. A.

BIG AS A BULLET

A bullet is a little thing; just a few ounces of lead. But a bullet is one of the little things that becomes a big thing when hundreds, thousands, millions upon millions, pour forth from the smoking muzzles of Garand rifles and machine guns. When a bullet whines skyward to its rendezvous with a Zero . . . or a Messerschmitt, it means the end of tyrants who would enslave the world.

A War Bond is a little thing, too; just about the size of a piece of writing paper. A little thing that becomes as big as a World of Freedom, when most of the 132,000,000 of us buy War Bonds month after month. For that means billions of bullets for Victory. Won't you help . . . now?

BATTIN' WITH PATTON

"Remember that we as attackers have the initiative. We must retain this tremendous advantage by always attacking rapidly, ruthlessly, viciously, without rest. However tired and hungry you may be, the enemy will be more tired, more hungry. Keep punching. God is with us. We shall win." Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., Commander, U. S. forces in Sicily.

OLD GLORY WAVES ON SICILIAN COAST—This U. S. Signal Corps photograph, received by radio, depicts exciting scenes on the beaches when American troops landed from invasion barges on the southern shore of Sicily. Within a few hours the soldiers of Lieut. Gen. George Patton's American 7th Army and their British and Canadian allies firmly established themselves with adequate equipment and pushed aggressively toward the interior of the island.

Keep 'em Well Blitized, Ruth

Confident that she—Camp Abbot's first—would successfully complete the Wac OSC course at Ft. Des Moines, Iowa, T/5 Ruth Strawn received as a going-away gift from her gal pals three sets of gold bars.

The glitters were presented her last Tuesday evening at a dinner in the Wac Det. mess hall. Brief remarks were delivered by Lt. Stephanie A. Podzunas, company commander, Lt. Patricia Elwell, executive officer and a number of cadre.

Good luck, Ruthie—we know you'll make the grade!

'Front and Center' FROM YOUR CHAPLAIN

THE GENERAL SERVICE

(By Chaplain Norman M. Goldberg)
It happens occasionally that there are not enough Chaplains to go around. There may be a Catholic or a Protestant or a Jewish Chaplain assigned to an outfit comprising members of all three faiths. In this case the Chaplain makes every effort to provide religious services for the men of denominations other than his own.

However, this cannot always be arranged. Then, it is the responsibility of the Chaplain, be he Catholic, Protestant or Jewish to hold a general service.

This type of service, as the name implies, is non-denominational in character. It may include one or two passages from the Bible, a number of hymns and an inspirational message or sermon. The Chaplain is very careful in arranging a service of this kind not to include subject matter of a controversial nature.

When services arranged by a member of your faith are announced, then it is to your advantage to attend. When such services are not available, be sure to attend the general service planned for you by the Chaplain. It is the Army answer, the American answer to the man in uniform who desires to avail himself of the right to religious worship.

Much good will accrue from the fact that occasionally we approach the throne of the Almighty in common prayer, as brothers united in a common purpose. The Divine blessing will rest upon us, if in humility and sincerity, we lift our voices in praise and thanksgiving.

Let no man yield that which is precious to him, individually, in a general service but let every man, at such a time, place special emphasis upon those things common to Catholic, Protestant and Jew. "Thou shalt love the Lord with all thy heart and all thy soul and all thy might and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

GI PASTORALIA
A sleepy latrine.
A pastoral scene, with two at a basin.
The mirror is one you can't see
Your face in.
The lighting is bad.
It's driving you mad.
A sleepy latrine,
Where soldiers convene,
With natural intentions,
And then hang around,
And finally sound
Like seven conventions.
