

September 25, 1943

Official camp newspaper, published weekly in the interests of the personnel of Camp Abbot, Oregon, under supervision of the Special Service Officer. News matter pertaining to Camp Abbot is furnished by the Public Relations Branch and is available for general release.

Written contributions, art work and photographs are solicited and should be directed to the Public Relations Branch, Post Hdqs. Annex, Bldg. 202. Telephone Ext-8.

The ABBOT ENGINEER receives material supplied by Camp Newspaper Service, War Dep't., 206 E. 42nd St., New York, N. Y. Credited material may not be republished without permission of Camp Newspaper Service.

Distributed free to camp personnel. Subscription rate to public, by mail: 50 cents for three months; six months, $1.00; one year, $1.50.

FUN SCHEDULE

Entertainment On and Off the Post for Week
September 25 to October 1

SATURDAY

"Armchair Football" program at USO in Bend.
Dance at Officers' Club, Camp Abbot.

SUNDAY

Musical Program, Drake Park, Bend, at 4 p. m.

MONDAY

Open House, USO in Bend.

Bible Class at Post Chapel, 7 p. m.

TUESDAY

Catholic Choir rehearsal at Post Chapel at 7 p. m.

Bingo Night, USO in Bend.

WEDNESDAY

Weekly Radio show, "Camp Abbot on Parade," over KBND in Bend, 7:45 to 8 p. m.

Protestant Choir rehearsal at Post Chapel, 7 p. m.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY

Open House, USO in Bend.

THEATER SCHEDULE

SATURDAY—"Adventures of a Rookie," Wally Brown, Alan Carney, Margaret Landry; Short Subjects.

SUNDAY and MONDAY—"Johnny Come Lately," James Cagney, Grace George, Marjorie Main; RKO News.

TUESDAY—"The Fallen Sparrow," Maureen O'Hara, John Garfield, Walter Slezak; Short Subjects.

WEDNESDAY—"My Kingdom for a Cook," Charles Coburn, Isabel Elsom, Marguerite Chapman; Color Cartoon.

THURSDAY and FRIDAY—"Wintertime," Sonja Henie, Jack Oakie, Cesar Romero, Carole Landis; RKO News.

SATURDAY—"Fired Wife," Robert Paige, Diana Barrymore, Louise Albritton; Short Subjects.

Meat Cutting Expert Shows Tricks of Trade to Cooks

Camp Abbot soldiers will give their appetites a workout on savory roasts, chops and other meat delicacies rivaling those prepared by top-ranking cuisine experts, if lessons taught by Don P. Tyler, representative of the National Livestock and Meat Board, are retained by the more than 200 cooks, butchers and supply unit workers who attended a lecture and demonstration in the All-Purpose Recreation Hall Wednesday.

An expert in the art of meat cutting, Mr. Tyler has carved more than 100 tons of meat in teaching mess personnel at various army installations the technique of converting an entire carcass into appetizing fare.

Since the army has priority on most of the available meat today and civilians are being deprived of what ordinarily would be their share, the army has launched a program which teaches its cooks to use virtually every ounce of a carcass, Mr. Tyler said. To carry out its program, the army enlisted the aid of the National Livestock and Meat Board in turn sent out lecture-demonstrators to camps throughout the nation to instruct mess personnel.

Using only a small boning knife, Mr. Tyler demonstrated a system of cutting which provides eighty to 120 more servings from a carcass of beef than civilians get from their butchers. The army's concern over meat conservation is reflected in the fact that each soldier receives an average of one pound a day, compared with civilian consumption of less than one half pound per capita in 1939.

The army has abandoned its former policy of buying only special cuts and is now emphasizing the use of lesser-known cuts of meat-neck, breast, shank, shoulder and rump. The bones are used for soup stocks, and fats are saved for further kitchen use.

Fats which have lost their utility for frying, according to Mr. Tyler, are used to grease griddles and eventually are converted, through processing, into making of soap and munitions, one pound of waste fats making enough glycerine for four anti-aircraft shells. As much as $200 a month has been saved by individual messes in a single month from fat conservation, he said.

Col. Frank S. Besson, ERTC commander, who attended the lecture, expressed the wish that more such exhibitions could be held on the post to familiarize each soldier with the importance of the food conservation.

The demonstration was arranged by Lt. Thomas P. Kruzic, Post Food Service supervisor, Lt. Ralph Lowery, his assistant and Lt. Keith W. Beardsmore, commandant of the Bakers and Cooks School here.

MORE ABOUT Song Program

(Continued From Page One)

rather than by sounding off the standard count, whenever practical.

Introduced here by Capt. King Stacy, music supervisor for the Ninth Service Command, as part of an Overseas Music Instruction program, the classes are in charge of Lt. Carl Volz, music supervisor for the Training Division, who will work in cooperation with the Special Service Office.

Indianapolis (CNS)—Mrs. W. C. Richter found a basket on her back porch. In it was a baby boy and a note reading: "William Patrick Franklin is a good little boy."

52nd Bn. Leaves; Welcome for New Trainees Sunday

The first increment of the 52nd Battalion, second Engineer training unit organized at Camp Abbot, has completed its training and departed for other stations.

Commanded by Maj. Lawrence Fuller, the unit had one of the most extensive athletic and recreation programs ever held on the Post. In addition to participating in softball, basketball and volleyball competition, the unit staged its own track meet, introduced weight lifting in the Center and held its own golf meet.

The second increment of trainees will be welcomed with a program at the Post theatre Sunday. A feature of the welcoming ceremony will be the presentation of the Battalion song by members of Company B of the unit. Lt. Albert P. Willis Jr. of Company B is in charge of the program.

New Deadline For $12,000 Play Contest

Deadline for submitting manuscripts for the National Theatre Conference "$10,000 Playwriting Contest" has been extended to December 1 to enable soldier-contestants who learned of the contest only a short time before the original September 1 deadline to compete, the conference announced this week.

A new class of competition, radio plays, also has been included in the program, bringing to $1,250 the total cash prizes offered, conference officials said. Prize money for work in this category is offered by the National Entertainment Industry Council.

Cash prizes and the types of competition now include: Three prizes, one of $100 and two of $50 each of one-act plays running from 20 to 40 minutes; 50 prizes of $10 each for short skits and blackouts lasting from one to 10 minutes; one prize of $100 to be divided among authors for a musical comedy running from one to two hours; two prizes, one of $100 and another for $50 for the two best play manuscripts of approximately 28 minutes running time, and four prizes of $25 each for the best "spot" scripts not exceeding seven minutes.

Authors of the most promising plays will be recommended by judges for 23 post-war scholarships and fellowships contributed by 17 leading American institutions.

Manuscripts, typed or written legibly on one side of the paper and accompanied by the author's permanent mailing address as well as his military post office designation, must be mailed by December 1 to Playwriting Contest, National Theatre Conference, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O.

SMOKING OKAY, IF—

Smoking may be permitted in dining halls if proper receptacles are provided and used, the Inspection Division announced this week, but under no circumstances will smokers be permitted to deposit butts, ashes, tobacco or paper on plates or drop them on tables, benches or the floor. Company commanders will be responsible for smoking in mess halls, and soldiers are warned that any violations of sanitary principles will result in a ban on smoking.

When You've Read It—Please Pass The ENGINEER AROUND.

ACCELERANDO

We began looking around for a fiddle this week when costume designers came out with this evening gown termed "suitable for lady harpist or bass fiddle player in symphony orchestra." The model is Bea Wain, NBC songstress. Okay boys, take it back from the slap in the face.

Foreign Tongues Courses Available

Foreign language courses, taught through the medium of phonograph records and texts, will be conducted for Camp Abbot soldiers providing a sufficient number of men enroll for classes, Lt. V. G. Henderson, Special Service Officer, announced this week. Those interested are requested to register with Mrs. Helen Smith, principal Service Club hostess, or Miss Caroline Paddock, librarian.

Prepared by the Special Service Division, the program offers courses in Brazilian, Spanish, French, Chinese, Russian, Turkish, German, Japanese, Italian and Arabic. Introductory material teaches approximately 115 words or phrases in each language. Most sets consist of two 12-inch records plus printed text materials, and the courses are described as "self-teaching."

In addition to the introductory lessons, the division offers a second level course which will teach approximately 750 words and give additional glossary of 750 words. Each second-level set requires twelve or more 12-inch records. Portuguese and Dutch are available in the second-level series as are all courses in the introductory set with the exception of Brazilian.

Trombonist's Accessories Baffle Nurse

A nurse attending a dance for officers at the station hospital last week became curious when she noticed the trombonist in the orchestra muffing his horn with two strange accessories commonly used in the brass section of a dance band but ordinarily associated with other uses.

"Tell me," she said, "are those things what I think they are?"

The musician nodded. "Well, I suppose everyone has to be resourceful these days," the young woman commented as she walked away with her companion.

One accessory was a battered felt hat, the other a toilet plunger.

Pass The ENGINEER To Another Abbotman—He'll Appreciate It.

The Wolf

by Sansone

"I love the backstroke, don't you?"