Internees to Get USAFI Courses

Washington (CNS)—U. S. military and naval personnel who are prisoners of war or internees in neutral countries now may use the educational facilities of the U. S. Armed Forces Institute, the War Department has disclosed.

The shipment and distribution of this material is being handled by the War Prisoners Aid of the YMCA, a member agency of the National War Fund, the WD said. An Education Center is being established at Geneva, Switzerland, where the program will be carried out.

Under this plan, thousands of standard and special textbooks and courses already are being shipped abroad. Later they will be distributed among prisoners of war and internees and lessons will be graded and returned and examinations will be conducted.

The Institute now offers more than 70 high school, vocational and college courses, a number that soon will be increased to 200. All of these courses will be made available to prisoners under the new plan.

New Spotlight Expected To Give Color to Shows

Stage presentations and dances at the Service Club were expected to take on additional color this week with the arrival of two powerful incandescent spotlights complete with color wheels and six "baby" spotlights. The lighting equipment is available to all units for special programs and may be checked out from the Service Club, Capt. V. G. Henderson, Special Service Officer, announced.

56th Publishes First Unit Paper

The first battalion newspaper made its appearance on the Post last week when the 56th came out with a six-page mimeograph edition in which all companies were represented.

One section was devoted to each of the three companies, and each contained material of interest principally within the company. Company B's section was entitled "B-56 Grins and Groans," and contained an "ear," reading "Published: Irregularly during 2 min. breaks." Company A's section bore the title, "News Flashes," and Co. C's "The Bull Sheet." In the heading of the latter was a mimeographed "out-house."

Best of luck, 56th, in your new venture.

Notes From B - 52

By Pvt. Alfred M. Lutinski

This is your sanitary technician reporting from his office, directly across from the Third Platoon manor. From this breezy, air-conditioned room I shall transmit the news and scandal with the aid of a borrowed pencil and regulation roll-form paper. This service comes to you through the courtesy of the Press Lat. Service; for further details read something sensible.

The following is written in a mad hash-minced manner as it reflects the true characteristics of the writer. Although subject to psychopathic observation, opinions are entirely my own. The whole mess is copyrighted and in case of fire, it's every man for himself.

The culprits who started a rumor that an apple would be given with every business transaction here in my office will be punished severely if apprehended. A run on the bank would prove disastrous. Kindly keep your mess kits clean.

If there is doubt in anybody's mind concerning Pvt. Pruitt's former occupation, please observe our table on Sunday noon; he sure has a parson's appetite when chicken is served.

Our esteemed Lt. Wiederstein had a delicious breakfast served him in the mess hall. Nothing unusual about this except that after consuming this appetizing meal he found he had eaten in the wrong mess hall.

Wac Unit Draws Praise From Recruitment Officer

"Camp Abbot WACs are high calibre women, and undoubtedly their buoyant natures contribute much to the morale of the Post," Lt. Col. Harry R. Lawton of the Recruiting and Induction Branch, Ninth Service Command, said following a visit to the WAC Company Monday. "Morale and spirit of the company is outstanding," he added. Colonel Lawton said the object of his visit was to become acquainted with the company.

Seven Officer Candidate Schools Suspend Classes

Seven officer candidate schools have suspended classes, the War Department has announced. They are: Anti-Aircraft Artillery, Camp Davis, N. C.; Armored, Fort Knox, Ky.; Cavalry, Fort Riley, Kas.; Chemical Warfare Service, Edgewood Arsenal, Md.; Coast Artillery, Fort Monroe, Va.; Military Police, Fort Custer, Mich., and Tank Destroyer, Camp Hood, Tex.

WHAT SARONG? Safety Program Set Up for Post

When NBC's Patricia Dunlap posed for the photographer, she was wearing a sarong, but the engraver, a man with an eye for detail, no doubt, cut it. If there's anything we like it's a man with ideas.

In his triple capacity of post engineer, safety officer, and fire marshal, Maj. Zack Beiser this week outlined the responsibility of unit commanders in connection with the safety of personnel and property under the accident prevention program set forth in Supplement No. 1 to Administrative Memo No. 7.

Under the program, each operating head of a staff division and each unit commander is a unit safety officer. In addition to enforcing post safety regulations, making regular inspections, and assuring prompt first aid for injured personnel, he is charged with the investigation of accidents, making recommendations for the elimination of the responsible conditions, and suggesting to the post safety officer corrective action beyond the scope of his own authority.

The unit commander also now assumes, besides his former activities in enforcing fire regulations and inspecting for fire hazards, the direction of evacuation of records and property in case of fire. He will conduct a fire drill not less than once every two weeks.

NEAR RECORD CROWD

A near record crowd of approximately 500 soldiers and their guests attended the dance at the Service Club Wednesday night, a check of attendance records revealed. Music was provided by the Camp Abbot dance band.

Pittsburgh (CNS)—Mrs. Henrietta Mustacchio won a divorce on the grounds that her heartless husband left her when she got the mumps and again when she got the whooping cough.
