

The DesChutes Echo

T. G. Woodward, of Wallace, Idaho, passed through Deschutes Monday on his way to Silver Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Weiss, Miss T. Vaughn and Messrs. W. H. Livingston, J. E. Booge and J. L. Trauerman, of Woodberry county, Iowa, came in from Ashland last Friday night. The gentlemen are looking around for a location to engage in the stock business and will make Deschutes their headquarters for several weeks. They are also interested in timber lands.

Horace G. McKinley, of Portland; J. O. Storey, of LaCrosse, Wis., and Dan W. Tarpley, of Salem, were visitors in Bend and Deschutes this week. These gentlemen are all lumbermen of experience, having operated in eastern states and through the coast country, and this is their first visit to the pine forests east of the Cascade Mountains. Messrs. McKinley and Storey have recently acquired title to a large tract of yellow and sugar pine in the vicinity of Klamath Falls and it is their purpose on this trip to thoroughly examine it. They will travel up the river leisurely and make a close survey of the country as they go.
