

LOCAL NOTES.

A. M. Drake returned this week from Portland.

J. N. Hunter went to Prineville today on business.

R. F. Guerin, secretary of the D. I. & P. Co. left Thursday for Portland.

Severt Debing and Shaw & Brosterhous are putting up ice this week.

Chas. Brock has sold his interest in the shingle mill to Ivan Turner.

E. L. Keeney, of Chicago, was a business visitor in the city the first of the week.

Mrs. Sarah Hunter, daughter and son arrived here from Albany last Monday.

W. H. Hollingshead, of the Meadows, was a visitor in town the first of the week.

C. E. Dawson, of Portland, was transacting business in Deschutes the first of the week.

J. S. Bogue, of the Willow Ranch, was a visitor in Deschutes the first of the week.

G. B. Wardwell, U. S. Commissioner at Silver Lake, was in town Tuesday on his way to Portland.

Joseph Taggart left Thursday for Prineville where he will spend several days on business and pleasure.

G. M. Beatty and Frank Bogue, of Rosland, were in town yesterday. They were on their way to Prineville.

S. M. Bailey passed through town Thursday on his way to Prineville where he will reside permanently.

Engineer J. G. Kelley who will have charge of the construction work for the D. I. & P. Co., arrived at this place the first of the week.

H. C. Johnston, of Rosland, was in the city the first of the week. He went to the county seat Sunday to attend to some business matters.

S. S. Wardwell, of Silver Lake, passed through town yesterday on his way home from Portland where he has been attending business college.

State Engineer A. E. Hammond arrived in town the first of the week and will continue his inspection of the D. I. & P. Co's irrigation tract.

Mrs. F. W. Payne, of Silver Lake, passed through town yesterday on her way from Portland where she had been at a sanitarium for several months.

P. B. Gile and Ivan Turner left Thursday for Willow Creek to bring over Mr. Turner's household effects. Mrs. Gile and Mrs. Turner accompanied them as far as Prineville.

Don P. Rea, formerly editor of the Bulletin at this place, is in town this week renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Rea is now located at Madras, the coming town on Lower Willaw Creek.

The contract for repairing the Crook county courthouse was let for the sum of $1910 and the work of repair is going on rapidly. The insurance carried on the building exceeds the cost of repairs and the county can be considered very fortunate. The contract for repairs is an excellent one from the county's point of view.

J. Henry Smith, who is one of the D. I. & P. Co's engineers, came in from Portland last Tuesday. Mr. Smith was one of the first engineers to come into this country with C. C. Hutchinson several years ago when the latter first began to exploit Central Oregon Irrigation.

There has been a change made in the location of the Rosland postoffice by the Postoffice department. J. S. Bogue has been appointed postmaster to succeed George Beatty, resigned. This takes the office to the Willow Ranch in Crook county where it was located before its removal to Klamath county a little over a year ago.

The board of directors of the Deschutes Irrigation and Power Company is composed of the following gentlemen: H. D. Turney, J. O. Johnson, R. F. Guerin, Harvey W. Scott, E. E. Lytle, J. F. Watson and C. C. Hutchinson. The following officers have been elected: H. D. Turney, president; J. O. Johnson, vice-president and manager, R. F. Guerin, secretary and treasurer and C. C. Hutchinson, land commissioner.

Rumor has it that Pony Winter will take in Editor Schlecht of the Deschutes Echo and P. B. D. Drake as partners in his new bank at Bend. The institution will be opened on Wall street near the Soup foundry and will make a specialty of dealing in irrigated stocks and Plymouth Rock eggs. Tombstones as a side line.—Crook County Journal.

Editor Steffa of the Journal, has purchased the first tombstone from Winters & Co., and will give his readers a picture of it in the next issue of his paper.
