The beautiful rain has come at last and the average Oregonian is happy, as their folks were getting very dry. The health of our town is very good at present.

The Evangelical Society has accepted of the old county buildings and located their College here, and will commence to improve the buildings and build more soon, which will make Lafayette boom this spring.

W. D. Bradshaw is moving to the Dalles for the purpose of practicing his profession. We are sorry to lose Brad. as he is a genial good fellow.

Dr. Watts is making an effort to get the State Reform school established near Lafayette. There could be no nicer or healthier location found in the state for it.

The Telephone Register seems to roll the stories about Dr. Watts as sweet morsels under his tongue. But in our estimation Dr. forgot more before he ever entered public life than the whole Telephone-Register force ever knew.

A Western woman recently killed a tramp with a rolling pin. The tramp's nephew sued and damages were awarded the rolling pin. The nephew undertook to argue the case with the woman.

Please never ask us to publish poetry, either home made or imported. Of course every poet imagines that he can put together the King's English in about as poetic a shape as anybody else, and maybe he can, but our experience with the business is that about the safest rule for an editor is to shut down on all grades of the article and deal only in prose, of which he is a better judge.—Hemizer.
