LOCAL NEWS OF THE WEEK

—I. K. Vantress went to the coast this week.

—Hobson's saw mill has had a rest this week.

—John Brown, of Portland, spent Sunday in Newberg.

—Lafayette will have a newspaper. Success to the same.

—Dr. Moore is building a tent preparatory to a trip to the coast next week.

—Jesse Hobson and C. J. Larson took a trip down the Columbia this week.

—Rees & Hunt's tile mill shuts down while the boss takes a rare in the mountains.

—Quite a number of young people spent the 4th on the mountain. They report an excellent time.

—All Rees and family and Charley Butler and family started for the beach last Wednesday morning.

—The least little d—l in the Geanme office went with I. K. Vantress and family to the coast this week.

—We understand that the saw mill belonging to Brown & Mitchell will be moved down on the Columbia.

—Horace Cox and wife moved into town last Monday. They have rented rooms in Henry Austin's house.

—Dr. Moore wishes to announce to the suffering public that because of failing health he will be absent from the city about ten days.

—Money to loan on Real Estate. Security in Yamhill County, Oregon. Call on or write to F. W. Feuton, Attorney at Law, McMinnville, Oregon.

—J. A. Campbell is the last man in from the 4th of July "tore" but he is again at his shop and can give you the neatest hair cut of any barber in the city.

—Friday morning. Editor with his coat off and busy at case. Printers come in later in the day. They promise not to celebrate the 4th of July again for a whole year.

—We realize times are a little close at present, all over the country, but if such arrangements can be made we would like for all subscriptions to be paid up right away after harvest.

—The Telephone Register says it appears two days earlier this week so as to give the Devil an airing on the Fourth. Brave men! We come out six hours late on account of the Devil airing after the Fourth.

—The new steamer Moine belonging to the O. R. & N. Co. made its trial trip from Portland to Salem last Monday. She is a fine boat and the fastest one on the river.

—In a game of base ball between the Slunk Hollow and Wapato, nine last Saturday on the West Chehalis grounds, the victory was for the former by a score of 6 to 2.

—The Newberg flouring mill has shut down for repairs. Mr. Tarrant will put in rollers and when he starts again he will be able to compete with any mill in the county.

—The Newberg base ball nine has given up the ghost. Mostly on account of sickness. They say it will be impossible for them to play in the base ball contest the remainder of the season.

—The fire works exhibited on Chehalis mountain, the 4th, by the Newberg young people were a grand success. The crowd became so interested in their own exhibition that they failed to see any illumination on Mt. Hood. Selah.

—A small fire broke out in the south part of town one day this week. It started from a small heap of trash burning by the street, no great loss, but valuable property might easily be destroyed in this way. Fires should be closely watched this dry windy weather.

—A P. Oliver, of Portland, made us a pleasant call Tuesday. He showed us a beautiful gold watch, recently received as a present from his father in the east. The present was a complete surprise to Mr. Oliver, and as the watch is of the highest grade, he has a reason for being proud of the gift.

—Last Monday morning as Tom Ford, of the firm of Austin, Ford & Co., was bringing a beef to the slaughter yard, his horse fell while running at full speed and threw him from the saddle. His steer caught in some part of the harness and sprained his ankle very badly. At last account he was improving as fast as could be expected.

—We were somewhat amused yesterday by a rattling procession of baby carriages contents and drivers passing along the street over the diversified surface of the sidewalk such as are common to the east end of town. This is not only an imposition on the tender youngster that is compelled, through his helplessness, to remain in his vehicle as it passes over this part of the after-noon drag parade, but it is a plumb giveaway to the town. We are anxious to see those fine side-walks the "City Dads" speak so much about.

—Most Retent Grand Seignor, Frank P. Baum of the Dakota jurisdiction has organized Newberg Hut, No. 1099 of the O. O. of H. The officers of Hut No. 1099 are as follows: Grand Seignor, Frank P. Baum; Noble Vizier, O. C. Wright; Venerable Friar, D. C. Holloway; Reverend Monitor, Gordon Wordon; Almoner, M. S. Garvin; Chief Herald, O. E. Reese; Scribe, Walter O. Henlow. This is one of the most popular secret organizations in the whole country, and every young man, and every old man of Newberg and vicinity should become a noble prince of the Oriental Realm. "Even if it once was so, it must never be so again." The initiation fee has been fixed at $2.00.

NEWBERG WILL HAVE A BANK. Articles of Incorporation have been filed with the Secretary of State, authorizing a bank to be formed at Newberg, with a capital of $50,000. The articles set forth that its object shall be to buy and sell, and to exchange, receive deposits, loan money, deal in stocks, bonds and other securities, hold property in trust, act as financial agent for corporations, firms or individuals. May purchase real estate and sell the same and do any and all other acts necessary to carry on a general banking business. The incorporators are Benjamin Miles, Jesse Edwards and Meres Volan, who will associate with themselves other persons of good financial standing, proceed at once to organize under the laws of the state and within the near future open its doors to the public.

Important Notice. To the Stock Holders of Newberg Canning Co.: It is necessary that the amount of your subscription be paid at once that business may go on. This business is like any other, that it requires money to operate it and the directors have ordered me to make this announcement and especially request that attention be given this matter and payments be made promptly. It is an injustice to those that have paid up that the work be delayed by the negligence of others equally interested. J. C. Colcord, Sec.

Letters remaining in the P. O. at Newberg on June 30th. Ed Bloom, Francis L. Brown, Ray W. Carter, Hans Furgenson, M. George, J. H. Mess, W. H. H. Myers, Henry Newby, James Robinson, Robert Ungerman, Myrtle V. Vaish, John E. Wilsey. C. F. Moore P. M. West Chehalis.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

"For God and Home and Native Land."

Mrs. P. A. Morris, County Superintendent of Press Work.

The Oakland, Cal., W. C. T. U. conducts a coffee house, which pays financially as well as charitably. The income for temperance work amounted last year to more than $200.

The real anarchist is the saloonist. But instead of shooting him or stringing him up we give him a charter as illegitimate as the wind and make him an alderman.

In Switzerland, we are told, ten per cent of the income from liquor licenses is expended in teaching the people, the bad effects of alcohol. This is almost as consistent as licensing crime shops and punishing crime.

Three thousand venetian convicts and two hundred and eighty-five thousand occasional prisoners constitute a portion of the yearly crop of crime developed by the heat of intoxicating liquors and gathered in by the prisons of the United States.

Are you men? Then put away cowardly doubts of ability to enforce a law of your making, and strike a blow for purer government, cleaner politics and the overthrow of the worst business that ever degraded mankind.

Reliable officers of the Knights of Labor in Pennsylvania estimate that sixty per cent of the members of that order will vote for the prohibition amendment.

The Freie Presse, a German liquor organ of Chicago, thinks that high license, although sometimes severe on saloonkeepers, is certain insurance against prohibition.

Mrs. SAMUEL CLEMENTS, national superintendent of the department of purity in literature and art, has received the assurance of Postmaster-General Wanamaker that he will co-operate in securing the alteration of the postal regulation by which Bibles and religious books are heavily charged in the mails while pernicious literature is carried for a trifling sum.

Illustrious prohibition orators have been making quite a sensation in Philadelphia by travelling around in a canvas covered wagon, haranguing impromptu audiences on the street corners and thus effectively reaching the masses with prohibition songs and antilicense bombs. One speaker made this point: "Two men were killed not long ago in a toboggan sink in this city, and a morning newspaper called for a suppression of the risk. Yet 60,000 people are killed annually by the cursed liquor traffic and no Philadelphia newspaper calls for its suppression. And why? Because nearly every paper in the city is openly or tacitly in favor of the saloon."

Cardinal Gibbons declares himself against prohibition because it does not prohibit, yet favors a police law prohibiting the sale of liquor on Sunday. A correspondent of the Chicago Daily News comments as follows: "Will the cardinal please tell us what virtue a prohibitory statute possesses to suppress drunkenness on Sunday that does not attach to it on Monday? Are men's appetites governed and controlled by the day of the week? If it is desirable to preserve the sanctity of the sabbath, is it not much more desirable to preserve the sanctity of the man for whom the sabbath was made? And if prohibition is the only method of accomplishing the former, would it not be a wise policy to continue it through all the days of the week?"

Help to Mothers. Mrs. F. M. Harris (Hope Ladyard), Nat. Supt. and organizer of Mothers' Meetings for the W. C. T. U., is busily at work. No white ribboner has a more important department than this successful mother of boys and delightful talker about methods. Send for her, is my advice to local unions that want help for the home life of your town or village. White Cross work is one of Mrs. Harris' special lines, co-operating in this with parents, pastors, teachers in Sunday schools and public schools. Mrs. Harris will come to our National Convention at Chicago in the fall, taking engagements on the way. It is a golden opportunity for our local unions, and I earnestly advise them to write her at 388 Degraw street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Will not mothers especially note this announcement from their sister and friend —Frances E. Willard.

Dr. Booth, in the British Medical Journal, tells a horrible story of the spontaneous combustion of an alcohol consumer. He was six-five years old and a thorough sot. The remains were found against a stone wall in burnt and charred condition. The soft tissues had been entirely consumed. Such instances are rare, but not at all impossible. Dr. Henry Miller tells us of the phosphoric acid at times emanating from the skin of drunkards, and mentions that their breath has been seen to glow in the dark.

Indiana saloon keepers are hot with indignation. The Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias assembled at Indianapolis, June 5, voted by a two-thirds majority to exclude saloon-keepers from membership. The saloon-keepers and their friends immediately appealed to the supreme lodge. It is stated that nearly one-third of the order in Indiana is either identified with or in favor of the traffic and that if the action of the state grand lodge is sustained, many will withdraw from membership.
