LOCAL NEWS OF THE WEEK

Hot!!! Peach plums are ripe. A soft job—Moulding brick. Look out for the side-walks. The black-berry season is here. Ice cream at Moore Bros. today. Two empty houses on Second street. F. A. Morris returned from Portland Monday. Charlie Holloway started for Seattle Tuesday. Rev. Asher Mott is slowly improving in health. Leolin Stanley has been quite sick this week. Tin fruit cans and sealing-wax at Haworth's. Go to the festival at Jones' hall next Friday night. Lin Parker has been on the sick list for several days. C. F. Moore was in Portland the fore part of the week. Lumber has been hauled for the side-walk along Center St. Miss Ada Newman is having a severe time with the mumps. Mrs. Malson has been quite sick during the past two weeks. N. G. Kirk got his foot severely hurt at the saw-mill Tuesday. Miss Dahlia Holloway went to Portland and returned Thursday. The field of grain back of Deskins' house has been cut and shocked. C. J. Larson was severely hurt in the plainer at Hobson's saw-mill Monday. Lam Haworth, who broke his collar bone some days ago, is again on the street. George Morris commenced burning another kiln of tile for Rees & Hunt Monday. For the next 12 days Moore Bros. will sell clocks at a great reduction in prices. Bert Hoover of the Oregon Land Co. visited friends in Newberg Saturday and Sunday. There seems to be an unusual amount of sickness this summer the doctors are all busy. Dr. Mills is waiting on the sick and suffering humanity during Dr. Moore's absence. F. S. Cottle and family, and Lum Haworth and family went to the coast Tuesday. The Y's parlour social at B. C. Miles' last Saturday evening was a very pleasant affair. Dave Lamb who had his thumb taken off some time ago is able to be out on the street again. Henry Austin swam a fine beef across the river at the mouth of Chehalis creek last Monday. W. O. Hemlow and Ye Scribe went to Woodburn Tuesday and returned all the same day. P. S. Potter of New York and a gentleman from Rhode Island arrived at this place Tuesday. Miss Lydia Washburn, who has been visiting in Portland for a few days, returned Monday. Mrs. Yannie Martin has been in Portland during the week on account of the illness of her sister. Christenson Bros. are getting their ware-house ready for the abundant harvest that is at hand. Who was it sent his lady some chewing gum to chew while he went to the celebration with another girl? The champion apple-peeler of the world is now on sale at Haworth's hardware store for only 75 cents. Dr. Lyle of Middleton makes a professional call to Newberg quite often lately he is having very good success. Work is being pushed on the site for the new school-house the poles and logs have been burning all this week. A fine new stock of granite-ware, tin-ware, enamel-lined kettles etc. etc. just received at Haworth's store on Center St. Fires in the north and west of the country are getting to be very common. Seattle, Vancouver, Haler, Arlington, Spokane and Placerville are among the number that report heavy loss by fire.

—Alf Moore had his foot badly hurt Wednesday by a wagon wheel running over it. The wagon was loaded with lumber.

—This is fine weather for those who went to the coast. If other things are on an equality they ought to have a good time.

—Newt Maris has moved to the suburbs and is often seen on the street clad in his every-day clothes and with hay-seed in his hair.

—River street is open to the river and when the proper amount of grubbing and grading are done will be the finest drive in the city.

—Smith and Holloway gave the half block on which their barn stands a grand clearing up this week which adds very much to its appearance.

—Some of the boys and girls have made a croquet ground at the Academy boarding-hall and the pleasant evenings are spent "Rolling the spheres".

—Last Thursday F. E. Hobson was thrown from a horse and severely bruised while helping to bring in a beef. Verily the butchers have a hard time.

—The Grand Army will give an ice-cream festival at Jones' hall next Tuesday night. Everybody should go and help make it an enjoyable occasion.

—I have the Brammers celebrated washing machine for sale. It is the best and most durable machine made. Call and get one on trial. C. B. Haworth.

—There is not a town in the country that has better streets than Newberg but the side-walk, with the exception of Main street, should not be mentioned.

—There will be a grand opening at Morris, Miles & Co's establishment in a few days. The old cat has a fine pair of kittens that are expected to open their eyes at the above date.

—It may interest the many friends of Elmer Washburn to know that he is teaching an interesting school of five scholars in an old log house with out any windows in the back-woods near Netart's bay.

—There is no nicer place in the world for boat riding than on the Willamette river. If some energetic person would put a few nice pleasure boats on the river at Roger's landing they would certainly be in demand.

—We are in receipt of a letter from our county superintendent of public schools, stating that the new readers adopted in this county will be in the hands of the dealers the 15th of this month and that they will be exchanged for old ones from that date to the 31st. of October, 1889. The books are absolutely free and Mr. Baker urges that the matter be attended to promptly.

Notice. All Grand Army men are requested to be present at the next regular meeting Thursday night July 18, 1889.

Important Notice. To the Stock Holders of Newberg Canning Co. It is necessary that the amount of your subscription be paid at once that business may go on. This business is like any other, that it requires money to operate it and the directors have ordered me to make this announcement and especially request that attention be given this matter and payments be made promptly. It is an injustice to those that have paid up that the work be delayed by the negligence of others equally interested. J. C. Colcord, Sec.

Force of Example. Husband—It is true, Maria, I sometimes go out and take a social glass with a friend, Associated as I am in business with men who drink occasionally, and having for my acquaintances and intimate friends chiefly those who are accustomed to drinking in moderation, I cannot well avoid following their example once in a while without appearing unsocial. Wife—God-lee! Christopher Beeswax! Confound the luck to thunder! Saw my blamed dead off if I— Husband (in astonishment)—Are you crazy, Marie? What do you mean by such language? Wife—I am only talking as you do, John if you step on a tack when you get up in the morning or run a splinter under your finger nail in making a fire, Associated as I am, John, in close relation with a man who talks in this style, I cannot well avoid following his example once in a while without appearing unsocial. Whoop! Darn it all! The baby has smeared molasses candy on this beastly door knob again— Husband (humbly)—I'll sign the pledge to-morrow, Maria.—E.

Hop growing is yearly becoming a more important industry of the state. If the capital invested and the interest taken in this business continues to grow in the same proportion it has in the past Oregon will soon become famous as a hop growing country. Indications point toward this end, and the reason why Oregon hops will grow famous, is strong and simple. In the first place, hops give a better return on the capital invested than many of the cereals and fruits to which our land is now planted, and therefore capital will be attracted toward the staple of trade. Dealers have already established markets not only in the East, but also in England, where hops from the Pacific coast are preferred to German hops. The trade with England is increasing. The amount of exports to England depends of course largely on the English crop, but the normal business is a healthy and growing one. About 80 per cent. of the Pacific coast crop now goes to England.—Register.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

"For God and Home and Native Land."

Mrs. F. A. MORRIS, County Superintendent of Press Work.

W. C. T. U. meeting next Saturday at 2:30 P. M. All the members are requested to be present.

Joliet, Ill., has fixed the license for billiard tables at $5,000 a table.

Twenty-five Cincinnati saloon keepers were arrested June 30, for violation of the Sunday closing law.

The California Bulletin, organ of the state W. C. T. U., has changed its name to The Phoenix, a light-house.

Dr. Bomabaugh, an experienced medical examiner, claims that out of every hundred heavy beer drinkers not more than five pass the age of fifty-three.

Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge, says that in Cincinnati where the liquor traffic is taxed, not licensed, about 50,000 school children are not included in the school lists.

At the recent W. C. T. U. convention at Brandon, Manitoba, the attorney-general of the province put himself squarely on record for equal suffrage, to the surprise of everyone present.

The Organizer gives the following as a good text for a prohibition speech: "Where twelve men made beer in the Walruff Brewery, Lawrence, Kan., 100 persons are now busy making shoes."

A $5,000 building, the gift Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Peters, of Manistee, Mich., is to be erected next year at Bay View, Mich., for the use of the W. C. T. U. school of methods and members of the Union.

Mrs. Ada M. Bittenbender, W. C. T. U. National Superintendent of the department of legislation and petition, is preparing a manual for publication, entitled, "The National Prohibition Amendment Guide."

An exchange thinks it quite appropriate that closely connected with the vote to continue the liquor traffic in Massachusetts was the laying of the corner stone of the Massachusetts Home for Intemperate Women.

The Northfield, (Minnesota) Young Women's Christian Temperance Union has pledged each member to plant flowers specially prolific for cuttings to be used in mission work. It sends flowers, fruits and jelly to the St. Paul hospitals and has a wide awake sanitary science club.

Dr. H. S. Tanner, the famous faster, challenges any half dozen of the biggest giants of wine and beer to meet him in a fasting contest in which neither side shall be allowed to taste food; they to have all the liquor they want; he to drink only water, the fast to continue till the one or the last of the six yields the contest.

The children sing "Tremble, King Alcohol, we shall grow up." King Alcohol mutters you'll have to grow fast for I'm after you now. Then he provides little stools in front of his counters, as in certain Chicago saloons, so that wee little ones, who come often for beer, can step up on them to get their pitchers. He also sends his henchman out as in Philadelphia, to sprinkle choice wine and liquor on the sidewalk so that school children must inhale the odor when going home, whispering in his servant's ear that the money is well spent, for the children will soon be theirs, and will amply repay for the seeming waste.

Hon. Richard Trevilick, a leader among the Knights of Labor, considers intemperance the curse of organized labor. He says: "The labor question will never be settled until the liquor question is. If the money spent for liquor every year was turned into the labor channels for two years there would not be an idle man in America, and there would not be enough workmen to produce what is needed."

A careful housewife recommends the following arithmetic lesson to the attention of drinking workmen: "Two drinks of whisky means a pound and a half of beefsteak; two beers, a dinner of mutton chops; a cocktail, an eggplant or a head of cauliflower. 'What'll you take Charlie?' stands for a nice oyster stew for the whole family Sunday morning. 'Set 'em up again,' means sugar in the house for a month."

The Woman's Prohibition league of Brooklyn has made a commotion. The ladies found out that in many cases in the Brooklyn public schools the authorities were neglecting to have the compulsory scientific temperance lessons taught, and that the beer dinners of many children at home render them unfit for the afternoon school work. The ladies called the mayor's attention to the matter, for which they are being loudly denounced by the whisky papers.

After the late fire in Seattle prohibition reigned for several days. Most of the dives and saloons were burned and the mayor prohibited the rest from reopening. Thousands of lemonade stands sprang up and many men began to appreciate temperance drinks. A new beverage, strawberry lemonade, had a great sale and was pronounced by many, even drinkers, to be better than beer. Temporary prohibition worked so well that a petition was presented, signed by more than a thousand leading citizens, asking that all the saloons in the city be kept closed for three months in the interests of rapid re-building.
