

NEWBERG GRAPHIC.

ISSUED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.

E. H. WOODWARD.

EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 25, 1900.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Newberg, Oregon.

MUCH LOSS OF STOCK IS REPORTED EAST OF THE mountains on account of the continued cold weather.

DAYTON, situated at the head of navigation on the Yamhill we believe lays claim to being the oldest town in the county as well as one of the oldest in the state.

IF OUR winter weather holds on much longer, people who neglected to prepare feed for their stock at the proper time will have cause to regret it.

IN 1776 thirty seven newspapers were being published in the United States. New Hampshire had one, Massachusetts seven, Rhode Island two, Connecticut four, New York four, Pennsylvania nine, Maryland two, Virginia two, Georgia one, North Carolina two and South Carolina three.

THE LOSS OF sheep by storms in Eastern Oregon is said to have reached 3 to 7 per cent already and that if rough weather continues much longer the loss will reach 10 to 15 per cent.

THE NORTHERN, Southern and Union Pacific railroads have all been blocked for several days, the snow being so deep in the mountains that the snow plow has but little effect.

THE REMARK dropped last week in regard to a Building and Loan Association has caused a revival of the subject again.

IRA F. POWERS of Portland thinks the proposed State Reform School should have been located in that city instead of Salem.

WHENEVER a drunk man is present on the streets the marshal should promptly take him in charge. Portland does this and we ought to do as well here as they do there where a saloon is on every corner.

WE DON'T make a business of advertising saloons, but "J. Charles Mosburg," formerly of the "great crockery and grocery house, 181 Main street," has scattered a few of his cards over town which we call attention to.

IT IS safe to say that a good many people here who met with the "Captain" to see merry, parted with him much the wiser. Our readers will remember that J. Charles posted a certain lot on Main street as a sight for a Zoological Garden.

POP! whizz! bang! and the New Year festivities of the Chinese are at hand. Opium "not much," gin just "a little bit" and fire crackers "heap big."

W. G. T. U. COLUMN.

"For God and Home and Native Land."

Mrs. F. A. MORRIS, County Superintendent of Press Work.

Indifference. "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Nothing to you, that your sisters fall Through the pressure of want, into Satan's thrall;

Stricken and sorrowful, lost and wan, Shunned of woman and scorned of man— Say, is this naught, that you pass it by?

"Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Nothing to you, that they fall and slave For a scanty wage, and an early grave? Wear their life, and dull and gray, Never a pause or a holiday;

Say, is this naught, that ye pass it by? The yearning heart of the Love Divine "That stooped of old from His Kingly throne To raise from the mire of sin His own, Patiently seeking the lost to save, Endured to the uttermost Cross and Grave;

That such as these like the stars might shine. "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Nothing to you, that the sorrowful life Of the drunkard's child and the drunkard's wife Will never cause you to stop and think What your duty is in this war against drink;

Say, is this naught, that ye pass it by? "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" "Nothing to us," you will answer; "we dwell In the regions of calm, between heaven and hell; Seldom, indeed, are our thoughts allowed To dwell at length on the vulgar crowd; It is nothing to us, so we pass it by."

Ye pass it by lightly, yet true above Who notes in his book of remembrance dear The widow's sigh and the orphan's tear, "Inasmuch," He will say, "as ye did it not, Inasmuch as ye reckoned that God forgot, Strangers ye are to Me and My love."

The mother's meeting today will be at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Keene.

The temperance organizations and religious denominations throughout Iowa are protesting against any interference with the Prohibition law.

THE three girls waited until tired for Belle's return, and then, concluding she had gone home without them, sauntered slowly back to Mrs. Blake's, rejoicing that it was for the last time.

Belle, left alone in the gathering darkness, paced the floor of her prison with impatient steps. Here was the adventure Elsie had hoped would come before they left, and Belle defiantly wished she was here to enjoy it.

Surely the girls would become anxious about her and come to seek her, especially as she had the precious money in her pocket. At that remembrance her heart gave a faint throb of fear.

She fled from door to door and window to window, beating them in her fists and calling aloud in her agony. At last, after what seemed an eternity, she heard the sound of voices in the streets, and cries of fire and confusion for water. The room she was confined in had no windows facing the street, and she could not venture near those on the court, as the smoke rolled in in clouds.

Must she die! Life was so sweet! She must make one more effort to save it, and picking up a heavy wrench, with the strength of despair, broke the lock on a door leading into the next room.

With a cry of joy she darted in, only to be met with such volumes of smoke that she nearly lost hope. Burying her face in her apron she crawled to the window and fell more dead than alive across the sill.

There on the street below was the entire village watching the flames roar and leap from story to story. Among the sea of faces she could barely distinguish those of her friends.

"Margaret!" she called. "Margaret, save me. Oh, won't some one try to save me?"

The faint cry for help reached Margaret's ears and her eyes met Belle's figure, darkly outlined against the wall of fire.

"Save her! Save her!" she cried in agony, and all eyes were now turned toward the crouching figure, whose white face and flying hair were for help.

"The cry," "A woman in the building" was taken up and passed from lip to lip, and a dozen brave hearts offered to scale ladders and try to rescue her.

In the midst of her greatest peril Belle did not forget the gold pieces she held firmly clasped in one hand, and hastily tying them in her handkerchief she tossed it far into the air and it fell at Margaret's feet. Ladders are soon in place, stout hands are stretched to the fainting girl, and when she opens her eyes she is safe in Margaret's arms, with Elsie and Lizzie questioning and crying all in one breath, while the crowd gathered around congratulated her.

"To think," sobbed Lizzie, "that you should have thought of the money in all your danger."

Up to Wednesday evening more than twenty five tons of delayed mail had arrived in Portland.

W. G. T. U. COLUMN.

"For God and Home and Native Land."

Mrs. F. A. MORRIS, County Superintendent of Press Work.

Indifference. "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Nothing to you, that your sisters fall Through the pressure of want, into Satan's thrall;

Stricken and sorrowful, lost and wan, Shunned of woman and scorned of man— Say, is this naught, that you pass it by?

"Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Nothing to you, that they fall and slave For a scanty wage, and an early grave? Wear their life, and dull and gray, Never a pause or a holiday;

Say, is this naught, that ye pass it by? The yearning heart of the Love Divine "That stooped of old from His Kingly throne To raise from the mire of sin His own, Patiently seeking the lost to save, Endured to the uttermost Cross and Grave;

That such as these like the stars might shine. "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Nothing to you, that the sorrowful life Of the drunkard's child and the drunkard's wife Will never cause you to stop and think What your duty is in this war against drink;

Say, is this naught, that ye pass it by? "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" "Nothing to us," you will answer; "we dwell In the regions of calm, between heaven and hell; Seldom, indeed, are our thoughts allowed To dwell at length on the vulgar crowd; It is nothing to us, so we pass it by."

Ye pass it by lightly, yet true above Who notes in his book of remembrance dear The widow's sigh and the orphan's tear, "Inasmuch," He will say, "as ye did it not, Inasmuch as ye reckoned that God forgot, Strangers ye are to Me and My love."

The mother's meeting today will be at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Keene.

The temperance organizations and religious denominations throughout Iowa are protesting against any interference with the Prohibition law.

THE three girls waited until tired for Belle's return, and then, concluding she had gone home without them, sauntered slowly back to Mrs. Blake's, rejoicing that it was for the last time.

Belle, left alone in the gathering darkness, paced the floor of her prison with impatient steps. Here was the adventure Elsie had hoped would come before they left, and Belle defiantly wished she was here to enjoy it.

Surely the girls would become anxious about her and come to seek her, especially as she had the precious money in her pocket. At that remembrance her heart gave a faint throb of fear.

She fled from door to door and window to window, beating them in her fists and calling aloud in her agony. At last, after what seemed an eternity, she heard the sound of voices in the streets, and cries of fire and confusion for water. The room she was confined in had no windows facing the street, and she could not venture near those on the court, as the smoke rolled in in clouds.

Must she die! Life was so sweet! She must make one more effort to save it, and picking up a heavy wrench, with the strength of despair, broke the lock on a door leading into the next room.

With a cry of joy she darted in, only to be met with such volumes of smoke that she nearly lost hope. Burying her face in her apron she crawled to the window and fell more dead than alive across the sill.

There on the street below was the entire village watching the flames roar and leap from story to story. Among the sea of faces she could barely distinguish those of her friends.

"Margaret!" she called. "Margaret, save me. Oh, won't some one try to save me?"

The faint cry for help reached Margaret's ears and her eyes met Belle's figure, darkly outlined against the wall of fire.

"Save her! Save her!" she cried in agony, and all eyes were now turned toward the crouching figure, whose white face and flying hair were for help.

"The cry," "A woman in the building" was taken up and passed from lip to lip, and a dozen brave hearts offered to scale ladders and try to rescue her.

In the midst of her greatest peril Belle did not forget the gold pieces she held firmly clasped in one hand, and hastily tying them in her handkerchief she tossed it far into the air and it fell at Margaret's feet. Ladders are soon in place, stout hands are stretched to the fainting girl, and when she opens her eyes she is safe in Margaret's arms, with Elsie and Lizzie questioning and crying all in one breath, while the crowd gathered around congratulated her.

"To think," sobbed Lizzie, "that you should have thought of the money in all your danger."

Up to Wednesday evening more than twenty five tons of delayed mail had arrived in Portland.

W. G. T. U. COLUMN.

"For God and Home and Native Land."

Mrs. F. A. MORRIS, County Superintendent of Press Work.

Indifference. "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Nothing to you, that your sisters fall Through the pressure of want, into Satan's thrall;

Stricken and sorrowful, lost and wan, Shunned of woman and scorned of man— Say, is this naught, that you pass it by?

"Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Nothing to you, that they fall and slave For a scanty wage, and an early grave? Wear their life, and dull and gray, Never a pause or a holiday;

Say, is this naught, that ye pass it by? The yearning heart of the Love Divine "That stooped of old from His Kingly throne To raise from the mire of sin His own, Patiently seeking the lost to save, Endured to the uttermost Cross and Grave;

That such as these like the stars might shine. "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" Nothing to you, that the sorrowful life Of the drunkard's child and the drunkard's wife Will never cause you to stop and think What your duty is in this war against drink;

Say, is this naught, that ye pass it by? "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" "Nothing to us," you will answer; "we dwell In the regions of calm, between heaven and hell; Seldom, indeed, are our thoughts allowed To dwell at length on the vulgar crowd; It is nothing to us, so we pass it by."

Ye pass it by lightly, yet true above Who notes in his book of remembrance dear The widow's sigh and the orphan's tear, "Inasmuch," He will say, "as ye did it not, Inasmuch as ye reckoned that God forgot, Strangers ye are to Me and My love."

The mother's meeting today will be at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Keene.

The temperance organizations and religious denominations throughout Iowa are protesting against any interference with the Prohibition law.

THE three girls waited until tired for Belle's return, and then, concluding she had gone home without them, sauntered slowly back to Mrs. Blake's, rejoicing that it was for the last time.

Belle, left alone in the gathering darkness, paced the floor of her prison with impatient steps. Here was the adventure Elsie had hoped would come before they left, and Belle defiantly wished she was here to enjoy it.

Surely the girls would become anxious about her and come to seek her, especially as she had the precious money in her pocket. At that remembrance her heart gave a faint throb of fear.

She fled from door to door and window to window, beating them in her fists and calling aloud in her agony. At last, after what seemed an eternity, she heard the sound of voices in the streets, and cries of fire and confusion for water. The room she was confined in had no windows facing the street, and she could not venture near those on the court, as the smoke rolled in in clouds.

Must she die! Life was so sweet! She must make one more effort to save it, and picking up a heavy wrench, with the strength of despair, broke the lock on a door leading into the next room.

With a cry of joy she darted in, only to be met with such volumes of smoke that she nearly lost hope. Burying her face in her apron she crawled to the window and fell more dead than alive across the sill.

There on the street below was the entire village watching the flames roar and leap from story to story. Among the sea of faces she could barely distinguish those of her friends.

"Margaret!" she called. "Margaret, save me. Oh, won't some one try to save me?"

The faint cry for help reached Margaret's ears and her eyes met Belle's figure, darkly outlined against the wall of fire.

"Save her! Save her!" she cried in agony, and all eyes were now turned toward the crouching figure, whose white face and flying hair were for help.

"The cry," "A woman in the building" was taken up and passed from lip to lip, and a dozen brave hearts offered to scale ladders and try to rescue her.

In the midst of her greatest peril Belle did not forget the gold pieces she held firmly clasped in one hand, and hastily tying them in her handkerchief she tossed it far into the air and it fell at Margaret's feet. Ladders are soon in place, stout hands are stretched to the fainting girl, and when she opens her eyes she is safe in Margaret's arms, with Elsie and Lizzie questioning and crying all in one breath, while the crowd gathered around congratulated her.

"To think," sobbed Lizzie, "that you should have thought of the money in all your danger."

Up to Wednesday evening more than twenty five tons of delayed mail had arrived in Portland.

WHEN You come to town, call at SMITHS One Price Store. Fring your butter your eggs and chickens and change for Dry Goods, Groceries, BOOTS & SHOES. Prices as low as the lowest. Ten per cent off for CASH. J. T. SMITH, Notary Public, Newberg, Oregon.

The CHEHALEM VALLEY BOARD OF IMMIGRATION, still has some of the best bargains in the valley, which you should see before you invest. We have the selling of the BEST ADDITIONS to NEWBERG on terms to suit all. Remember our POPULATION is DOUBLING EACH YEAR and invest while property is yet cheap. We have never yet made a sale that has not made money for the investor. Just now we have a few small well improved fruit farms, and nice homes near town. Call early if you want one of them. Nice 5 & 10 acre fruit lots, improved and unimproved a specialty. Do you want to sell your farm? Your neighbor don't want to buy. Then we grant you. We are advertising in some of the leading Eastern papers, and receiving daily inquiries. So bond your property with us. We are selling more Real Estate than any other firm in the county. WE WANT ALL THE CHEAP UNIMPROVED PLACES we can get, at once, as we have the buyers for them now. If you are hunting a home, or an investment come and see us and you will never regret it. Call at our office on CENTER Street, or, ADDRESS: MRS. OLIVER & COLCORD, Managers of the BOARD, NEWBERG, OREGON.

H. Austin. Joseph Wilson. SAMUEL HOBSON. AUSTIN & WILSON. Photographers. Portrait & Landscape ARTIST. Rooms over Moore Bros., Drug Store, NEWBERG, OREGON.

S. IRISH. Brick Laying AND Plastering. Residence on First St. west of P. & W. V. Ry., track. Newberg, Oregon. LAUNDRY. WASHING AND IRONING done in FIRST CLASS STYLE. Laundry near Tiley Factory, NEWBERG, OREGON. SAM KEE, Proprietor.

NEWBERG FLOURING MILLS. J. D. TARRANT & SON, Proprietors. ROLLER PROCESS—Having refitted and refurnished our Mill through-out with a new set of ROLLERS, we are now prepared to manufacture FLOUR of the very BEST GRADE. PLENTY OF WATER NOW, WILL GRIND FEED AT ANY TIME. Cash paid for Wheat. WE GUARANTEE SATISFACTION TO OUR CUSTOMERS.—CALL AND SEE US. Newberg, Oregon. JESSE HOBSON.

STOP! LOOK!! READ!!! PONDER!!!! SOMETHING ENTIRELY NEW. SOMETHING THAT ALL WANT. INVALIDS COMFORT! PRIDE OF THE HEALTHFUL! This is what the people say, who have tried MARTINDALE'S IMPROVED SPRING BED. Having come to Newberg to stay, I am prepared to offer for your inspection my improved Bed Spring With INVALID HEAD RAISE. I can heartily recommend this bed to all, as the Best, handiest and most durable spring now made, as it is POSITIVELY THE ONLY COMPLETE SPRING EVER INVENTED. The head can be raised, or lowered to any desired height without disturbing the occupant. For ease and comfort, it has no equal. The weight of a heavy person on one side of the bed does not effect the position or comfort of a child on the other, as does slats and woven wire beds. They are GUARANTEED to be made of FIRST CLASS MATERIAL. They are PERFECT. Are elastic and hold a greater weight than any other spring. SPECIAL TERMS WILL BE GIVEN TO AGENTS, DEALERS AND HOTELS.—A FAIR AND IMPARTIAL TRIAL IS ALL THAT IS NEEDED TO PROVE THEIR MERIT.—GIVE THEM A TRIAL AND BE CONVINCED.—THEY SELL A READ OF ALL OTHERS.— Orders Promptly Filled Agents Wanted IN EVERY COUNTY IN THE UNITED STATES, WHERE TERRITORY IS NOT ALREADY TAKEN. AGENTS ARE SELLING FROM 5 TO 13 PER DAY, OTHERS CAN DO THE SAME. GIVE IT A TRIAL. IT IS A BUSINESS THAT CAN BE WORKED THE WHOLE YEAR. THE LONGER YOU WORK IN A PLACE THE BETTER THE TRADE. FOR FULL PARTICULARS AND TERMS TO AGENTS, CALL ON, OR ADDRESS: W. O. MARTINDALE, Newberg, Oregon.

R. H. Rogers, Dealer in Lumber, Doors, Sash, Shingles, Mouldings, &c. A GOOD SUPPLY kept on hand, and sold CHEAP for CASH. Newberg, Oregon.

Do Not Read This, unless you want to know the best place in Newberg to get all kinds of MILLINERY GOODS. ALSO, The best place to get your dresses CUT, FIT and MADE. STAMPING also done. Mrs. Tibodo a FIRST CLASS PRACTICAL Dress-maker, has opened a DRESS-MAKING establishment in connection with the Millinery store on Center street NEWBERG, OREGON. MRS. ANNA REES MRS. N. TIBODO.

STANLEY IS BACK! AND HAS ELECTRIFIED THE WORLD by the announcement of his safe return to civilization. His adventures and discoveries have been GRAND, WONDERFUL, MARVELLOUS. THE WORLD HAS SEEN nothing like them before. His thrilling adventures, marvelous discoveries, during exploits, astounding privations, wonderful trips across the Dark Continent, HOW HE FOUND EMIN BEY—Everything will be included, from his first entrance into Africa to the present time. Everybody wants the new Stanley Book! From Stanley's own writings and dispatches, over 400 of the grandest and most wonderful NEW ENGRAVINGS and COLORED PLATES ever seen in a book of travels. It has been eagerly awaited, and will be more sought after, make more money for the agent and make it easier than any book issued for the PAST FIFTY YEARS.

CAUTION-- Old and unreliable accounts of Stanley's travels are being published. Do not be deceived by old books, re-hashed and battered plates. We announce this to protect our agents and the public against the numerous, worthless so-called Stanley Books—all of which are simply old books that have been in use for years, and are now being offered as new books. With a few pages of new matter added. AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. Teachers, Young Men and Ladies, Ministers, Farmers, Mechanics and Clerks can easily make from $5 to $25 per day. No experience required. Canvassing outfits now ready. Send immediately for illustrated circulars and terms free, or to someone agency AT ONCE, send $1 for the outfit and you shall be served first. Money refunded if not satisfactory. Address: THE HISTORY CO., 725 Market St., San Francisco, Cal.

BARBAINS! I will sell my entire STOCK at COST. Call early and secure a BARGAIN. MRS. HANSON, NEWBERG, OREGON.

WE WILL PRESENT THE School Board playing the LARGEST CHARGE for School Desks in Your Mill county, prior to December 24th 1900, with a 28 inch BELL. $55. PRESENT. $55. FRANK WOOD, Agent, Newberg, Or.

WE WILL PRESENT the school board playing the SMALLEST ORDER for School Desks with a TELLERIAN GLOBE. $50. PRESENT. $50.