

SCHOOL DESKS. SCHOOL FURNITURE. SCHOOL BELLS. MAPS, CHARTS, GLOBES.

Gentle Reader—Do you know that the FASHION School Desk, is in use at the NEWBERG ACADEMY, where it has given good satisfaction for years. The FASHION Desk was selected at Albany in preference to all others. The FASHION School Desk is in use in the public schools of Portland, where the best money can buy is indicated in. The FASHION Desk won the laurels at the state public school, the contract price being $1.25 per desk higher than the price quoted by the Victor agent, and all other competitor were knocked out in the first round. This was the strongest content in the state, having five days between the Victor and FASHION. The wood and iron of the FASHION Desk are united together throughout by the patent F head fastening which has been acknowledged to be the strongest union of wood and iron known—the seat hinge is strong and capable of sustaining an enormous weight. The Desk is finished in a first class manner and has the largest sale of any desk in the Willamette valley.

Local Events.

—The gripe has about lost its force.
—C. F. Moore is the Oregonian agent, at this place.
—Read our interesting letter on what the Alaska Indians eat.
—Railroad tickets to all points in the east for sale at the depot.
—Dr. Ross C. Houghton at Friends church next Tuesday evening.
—John Fuson was down from Dayton Monday and Tuesday on business.
—The familiar face of Charley Hoskins has been seen on our street this week.
—B. M. Moore has moved to town to wait until the Southern Pacific is opened to Ashland.
—John Watson of Dayton has been assisting in the revival at the Free Methodist church the past week.
—B. C. Miles is carrying his neck in a "sling" all on account of afflictions similar to those that worried Job.
—Jesse Edwards came in and ordered two copies of the Graphic to send east to friends. And still they come.
—Miss Hattie Churchman of Sheridan, a former student at the Academy has been visiting schoolmates in Newberg.
—Preaching at the Evangelical church next Sunday evening by Rev. Beaumont. A cordial welcome is extended to all.
—"Tent and Saddle in Palestine," is to be the next number of the Academy Star Lecture course. Admission 25c.
—Rev. Beaumont will probably take for his next sermon the first part of the sixth verse of the ninth chapter of Isaiah.
—Geo. Morris went on three legs for several days on account of a foot that came in contact with his ax. Two legs answer the purpose now.
—Mr. Reynolds has taken his ferry boat to Dayton where he will run it for three months, when the bridge will no doubt be rebuilt.
—Presbyterian services will be conducted in the new church next Sabbath at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Rev. W. A. Willison of Portland will preach.
—You can save money on every paper or magazine you subscribe for by subscribing with C. F. Moore, who is agent for every paper published.
—Several farmers from up the valley were weighing hogs at Riley Smith's scales Wednesday. They had sold to the Chinaman that ships to Portland.
—Len Parker will probably yield the paint brush again this season. He says he has already had several jobs offered him since selling his interest in the store.
—Dr. Ross C. Houghton, will deliver his popular lecture, "Tent and Saddle in Palestine" at Friends church next Tuesday evening, the 25th. Admission 25 cents.
—Charley Mitchell is taking orders for Stanley's book of travels in Africa and reports good success. Charley knows a good book when he reads it and he don't handle any other kind.
—The "University Notes" in the Daily Statesman speaks of Dr. Houghton's lectures at the Willamette University, in the highest terms. Do not fail to hear him on next Tuesday evening.
—John Cook, who lately came from Alabama and formerly from Indiana has bought Solomon Haworth's place on the road to the river. Solomon will move to his property in town.
—Just notice the Ad with a beautiful border in this issue, it is a new one, that is the Ad is new. The firm is a new one and the goods they have for sale are new and they invite everybody to come, inspect and buy.
—Walter Edwards, Carl Stanley, Will Macy, Elmer Washburn, Len Hill and Frank Holson drove down to Middleton Monday to attend the funeral of Wm. Mebus, who was a student at the Academy last year.
—Earnest, known among the boys as "Mose" Heater left Thursday for Steptoe Washington. George Morris concluded on the spur of the moment that he wanted to see the same place and bundled up and went with "Mose."
—All Blair refused to serve the dear people as road supervisor the second term and L. K. Vantross will be appointed in his place. L. K. believes in having good roads and will be a good man to superintending the mending of our ways.
—Roll of Honor for Mrs. Bell's room for last month of Winter term: Walter Macy, Addie Hallston, Clara Halley, Walter Parker, Carol Kaufman, Arthur Carter, Grace Cook, Jessie Britt, Clara Stratton, Robert Howard and Berlie Spooner.
—B. C. Miles had a letter from his uncle at San Jose Cal. this week stating that if Chinamen could be had he would come up about the first of March and have his thirty acre piece of land between town and the river all cleared up. It is to be hoped they can be found.
—Cooper & Son, of the Newberg Nursery have on hand a fine lot of fruit trees. Any one wanting any thing in the line of nursery stock will do well to call at their nursery. They understand the business they are engaged in and parties buying of them will get what they call for.
—The weekly Record, of Lima N. Y. says "Dr. Ross C. Houghton's lecture in College Hall was the most interesting one of the course. It was like a fascinating oriental story. Next to visiting eastern lands, is the privilege of listening to his word painting of the scenes he witnessed there."
—Posters are up announcing the time for the annual school meeting, which will be March 3rd at 1.30 in the afternoon. There will be one director to elect to serve three years and a clerk to serve one year. This will be an important election and every voter in the district should be present.
—Trade in real estate has been a little dull for the past month, but buyers are beginning to come in again. J. C. Colcord of the Immigration Board says that every mail now is bringing numbers of letters of inquiry which indicates that people are preparing for one grand move in this direction.
—Fred Churchman, city Marshall of Sheridan has been stopping with his "wifes' people" at Middleton lately. He came all the way over to Newberg last Saturday to tell the boys that unto them a child was born, a son was given. Grover Cleveland's coat would hardly make Fred an ordinary vest.
—The new bridge to be built across Chesham at the grist mill will be put above the high water mark. Teamsters and the public generally would rejoice to see it put still higher to avoid the heavy pull up the hill. We hope county commissioner Brutscher will consider this well before letting the contract.
—Mr. W. A. Greenman representing the well known book, map and atlas publisher of Geo. F. Crain, of Chicago, spent a few days in town last week canvassing for Crain's Atlas of the World. We can say for Mr. Greenman that his bearing is that of a gentleman without the persistent, annoying make up that many agents have. The work he is handling is first class and sells on its merits.
—Christenson Bro's are filling their new store room on Main street with well selected stock of farming implements from the old and reliable firm of Knapp, Burrell & Co., of Portland. George and N. C. Christenson are both active, energetic young men well known in the valley as being honest and industrious and they will no doubt do a good business in the implement trade.
—Mr. E. F. Byles of Elma Wash, came over this week and bought four thorough-bred Short Horn cattle, one cow and three heifers, of the editor of this paper. Good cattle are appreciated more at other places than here and consequently these cattle go out of the state. We are sorry to say it but there is poor encouragement for any one to try to improve the breed of cattle in this valley.
—A tramp printer struck this office last Tuesday whose appearance was rather seedy. He claimed to be from Seattle, but after sitting by the warm stove for a while the odor which arose from his person rather indicated that he might have come from Cape Cod or the land of lime-burger cheese. The boys thought he was a high water sufferer, that is the water had been so high it failed to reach his face or his clothes.
—Notice the signs of warning over the private door to the post office and beware. Those greasy looking serpents stretched over the door indicate to Republicans, Democrats and Prohibs, all alike, that inside the door is the private room for the P. M. and his deputy only, and that others are not wanted. This is as it should be. People don't like to have their mail handled by Dick, Tom and Harry as has been the case in the past at this office.
—Last Saturday and Sunday was a fast day as it were, at the Evangelical church. On Saturday at 11 o'clock the Quarterly Conference met and did business for the circuit, in the evening Rev. Poling the presiding elder, preached to a fair sized audience. On Sunday he preached again and administered the sacrament of the Lords Supper. And on Sunday evening the services were, upon the invitation of the Friends, held at their church and Rev. Poling preached an able sermon to a large and appreciative congregation. Hope he will come this way often.
—The lot of the city Marshall is indeed a hard one. If stock is allowed to run at large contrary to ordinance, nineteen indignant citizens are after the Marshall reminding him of his duties, and then when the stock is safely housed in the city pound, very loud talk in complaint of the Marshall is quite often heard from the owner of the stock. After hearing such talk from back of the office last week in a case of this kind, all our worthy ambition to be city Marshall vanished. About the safest course for an officer, is to strictly enforce all ordinances, listen to no back talk and let the unsatisfied get the ordinance repealed if it is unsatisfactory.
—Last Monday evening the down train was delayed at Dundee by the engine getting off the track. Several of the passengers walked on as far as Newberg and took supper at the Arlington House. Among them we noticed Capt. Gore and another gentleman of the steamer Orient and William Savage of Polk Co., who has lately had a suit against the P. & W. V. R. R. for stock killed. Salem was represented by Mr. McCrackin and Manning & Boise, real estate matters of the Capital City. They came out of the dining room at the hotel with an expression of satisfaction on their countenances and Mr. McCrackin remarked that he could say for the house that the supper they got for 25c was better than a $300 dinner they

The Chemistry class have been doing good work this year and we think the school should be proud of its Laboratory which is fitted better for chemical analysis than any other school of its age in the state.
The sad news came to us Sunday of the death of Willie Mebus who attended the Academy last year. He died of Typhoid fever at a hospital in Portland on Friday Feb. 14th, after only a few days illness. Six of the students attended the funeral which was held at Middleton, Monday. The services were conducted by Rev. Minchion, of the Friends church of that place. The many schoolmates and friends of Willie at this place extend sympathy to the bereaved family.
Charles Hoskins accompanied by his sister, Mrs. J. B. Moore visited the school Wednesday forenoon.
