The teams driven by Arthur George and Alonzo Hadley shine under new sets of harness put up by Cephas Maris & Son our harness makers.

Dr. Moore is a veritable horse tamer. The wild "Cayuse" that he bought out of the hand last Saturday is now a trusty buggy mare and a nice one too.

Mr. Bann writes that he has had good success in his new journalistic field on the Sound. His friends in Newberg will be glad to hear that he is prospering.

The McMinnville papers are still talking about the motor line and the Telephone-Register subscribers $50 toward the $5000 bonus asked for by the motor company.

Mr. Hampton has bought an eighty acre farm near the Dayton road, beyond Dundee. We understand the farm is in fine condition and the price paid quite reasonable.

Robert Pott and George P. Kettle are manufacturing wine in California under the firm name of Pott & Kettle. As to which is the blacker of the two deponent sayeth not.

Rev. E. S. Craven of Hillsboro was in town last Tuesday. He was probably over admiring that fine piece of wheat that is growing on his farm north of town. We have not seen anything to beat it this year.

Mr. Conrad of Salem who is engaged in merchandising in that city was down during the week visiting Jesse Edwards who is uncle to Mr. Conrads wife.

An Indiana paper says that at Edwardsville in that state small fruit growers gave a strawberry exhibition at which strawberries were shown that measured six inches in circumference. Hello Hoosierdom! It is no uncommon thing to see berries of that size in our markets here and they are often produced that measure nine inches in circumference.

Jas. Lawrence of Milwaukee this state but lately from Bonnie Scotland, in company with another gentleman from across the sea were here last Saturday looking at the country. Mr. Scarce said Mr. Lawrence 20 acres of the Hess land that belonged to Harrison Gordon.

Miss Emma Phillips a former teacher in the public schools in Newberg, but who has been teaching in the Albina schools during the past year came up Tuesday to spend a week visiting friends in our town. She intends starting for the east in a short time and will probably remain among friends in Indiana. Miss Phillips has many warm friends in Newberg who will gladly welcome her back at any time.

B. F. Moore of East Portland was in town last Saturday. He reports everything lively about the city. He says he has bought a lot and is building a house on it for speculation. A motor line is being run close to his property and he expects a handsome profit.

Harvey White arrived here last Saturday from Carthage Indiana. He reports every thing rather dull in the Hoosier state and says he is glad to get back to Oregon again after an absence of a year and a half. Harvey is a genial good fellow and he has many friends here who are glad to welcome him back to take his place as a permanent Webbsater.

Several of our young ladies who have been away teaching etc. have returned, and this accounts for the bright and shining countenances of several gallant young men about town.

The fellow who lost the "yaller" paint on the walk in front of the Granite office the first of the week can have the same by calling and proving property. We have heard of towns being painted red but "yaller dog" colors are a new departure. We make no pretensions as an expert in regard to tints, but our opinion is that in this instance the shelling is a little heavy.

The following is a report of School District No. 35 Yamhill and Washington counties, term beginning March 31st, 1893, ending June 22nd, 1893. No. of days 57. No. of days attendance 1051. No. of days absent 290. Times tardy 76. Whole No. boys enrolled 25, girls 13. Total 33. No. of visits made 63.

A gentleman was here the first of the week from the Chehalis country in Washington looking after the fruit prospect. He desires to buy fall and winter apples and pears to ship to the Sound country. Buyers coming this early would indicate that our fruit growers are likely to get a good price for fruit. Newberg is fast gaining an enviable reputation as a point from which a large amount of fruit is shipped.

A base ball club from West Chehalis came down last Saturday and played a game with our boys. Nine innings resulted in a tie and another was played to decide the game. This resulted favorably to our boys. There was not a great deal of science exhibited on either side as the score ran up toward 40 to the side. The clubs will meet again today at West Chehalis.

N. G. Kirk has sold his nice little fruit farm of twenty-one and a half acres lying north west of town for $2,500. George W. Young, now of Albany this state, but lately from Missouri gets the place for a home and we understand that he will fix it up in good shape. Mr. Kirk has not owned the place but a short time but has realized very nicely on the investment made.

Mr. Gladwin who has spent 18 years in India as a missionary lectured at Friends church to a good audience last Tuesday night. His wife died in India eighteen months ago and he returned to his former home in Iowa with his two sons. He has been traveling for some time trying to awaken an interest in the missionary work in that country before returning to his field of labor. As a lecturer he is not a very fluent talker but he is no doubt a man well qualified for missionary work.

Prof. Will A. Hadley, who has spent the past four years in and about Minneapolis, Minnesota, engaged in the profession of teaching, and his sister Miss Linnie Hadley of Mooresville, Indiana, are visiting relatives in this community. They are out on a vacation and sight seeing trip and will take in the principal points of interest in Oregon before they return. They will gaze on that body of water of considerable size lying to the west of us, and will probably scale the heights of holy old Mount Hood and in the meantime feast on the good things of the land. They have many friends and relatives here who wish them a pleasant and profitable stay among our people.

A couple of men from the John Day country stopped over at the Newberg House last Saturday and fed a band of bunch grass, horses at Smiths Hery stable. Dr. Moore bought a very nice three year old gray mare which the parties agreed to deliver at his stable. The mare had never been haltered and the performance drew a crowd almost equal to a circus, considering the fact that the town had not been previously billed for the occasion. The performance resembled some what the pictures of the daring exploits of Buffalo "Bill," and it looked awhile like the Dr. might get to pay part on the price of the mare by performing a surgical operation on the "cow boy" but the dashing steed was finally safely housed in the Dr's barn. The crowd stood around and anxiously watched for some one else to buy a "hoss" to be lassoed and taken to some remote corner of the village but the Dr. was supplied and as other parties thought they could not mend their broken limbs as cheaply as the M. D. can, his no more purchases were made. The man of the bunch grass country went on his way and the crowd dispersed to await the coming of the next free open air performance.

Card of Thanks. We wish to thank our many friends for the kindness shown us in our recent bereavement.

On behalf of the family, B. C. Miles. McMinnville, Oregon, June 24, 1893.

Indian Preacher.—At the ringing of the bell last Sunday afternoon, the church going people of our city gathered at the Methodist church to listen to a discourse delivered by Rev. John M. Williams, an Indian of the Grand Ronde agency. He gave a brief history of his life, stating that the little knowledge he has gained was acquired under many difficulties, and that three and one-half years ago he knew not the alphabet, but now has a slight knowledge of the good of this world and a hope in the world to come, and is endeavoring to lead others in the right way. He will speak at the church next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.—Salem Courier.

Orange Blossoms. BRAGG-COFFIN. Yesterday, at three o'clock, at the residence of the bride's grandfather, N. D. Coffin, in Blue River township, Mr. Walter O. Bragg and Miss Lola Coffin were united in marriage. Rev. J. P. Hurdinson, of the Presbyterian Church of this place officiating. Only relatives of the bride and groom were present at the ceremony. After the ceremony the happy couple immediately came to their home in this city which had been fitted up and handsomely furnished by the groom.

Mr. Bragg is at present the efficient and popular Deputy Auditor of this county and the bride is the daughter of Mr. J. F. Coffin, one of Blue River township's best men, and for several years a successful teacher in our City Schools. The Republican wishes Mr. Bragg and his chosen life partner enduring happiness and prosperity.—Greenfield (Indiana) Republican.

Just how soon we will get to publish a similar wedding notice with the name of Coffin inserted as the groom, we are not able to say, but the bride mentioned above is a sister of O. M. Coffin foreman in this office and as O. M. is looked upon as being of marriageable age we naturally conclude that such a notice might be necessary.

Death of an Honored Citizen. Benjamin Miles was born in Miami county, Ohio, November 3rd, 1829. Died at his home in Newberg, Oregon, June 25th, 1893, being the time of his death 70 years 7 months and 22 days old.

He was converted in childhood and was a life long member of Friends Church, having filled the responsible position of Elder for more than 40 years. Twelve years of his life were spent in active work among the Indians. A part of this time he was engaged in Agency work in Indian Territory and the remainder he spent in charge of an Indian school in Iowa. He was filled with a missionary spirit and although he had not been actively engaged in missionary work for some time, such a work was never mentioned in his hearing without at once arousing his sympathies on behalf of the needy. The greater part of his life was spent in Iowa in the vicinity of West Branch, where he had a large circle of relatives and friends. He came to Oregon and settled in Newberg three years ago almost an stranger and yet his disposition was such that at his death he leaves few sorrowing friends and dies without an enemy. He has spent much time and money in making a beautiful home, and the public has learned to look upon him as one of our substantial and most reliable citizens.

When the "Star of Newberg" was incorporated he was elected to the office of President, which position he held at the time of his death. He leaves a sorrowing widow, two daughters and three sons to mourn his loss. His youngest son is a member of the Army of the M. & C. In our town while one son is engaged in the Indian work in Indian Territory, and the other is Superintendent of a street car line in the city of Salem. The church here has lost a faithful and worthy member, while Newberg loses a citizen of more than ordinary worth. His was a well rounded life of more than 70 years of usefulness, and while his family and friends mourn his departure, they are comforted by the bright testimony he left of his hope beyond the grave. In conversation with his wife the day before his death he left the following, his dying testimony:

It has been a great comfort to me that I have always been a believer in the Scriptures of Truth, the Old and New Testament. As I was lying in my wretched moments upon the couch they seemed to come before me as a great roll, with Christ at the head and I with wheels unrolled and folded together again they seemed to enclose and envelop me with the assurance that all my life, unworthy as I feel it has been, is perfected and accepted through Christ.

The funeral services were conducted yesterday at 4 o'clock at Friends church.

How many apples did Adam and Eve eat? Some say Eve 8 and Adam 2; a total of 10 only. Others figure the thing out differently. Eve 8 and Adam 8; total, 16. But if Eve 8 and Adam 82, certainly the total will be 90. Scientific men, however, on the strength of the theory that the antediluvians were a race of giants, reason something like this: Eve 81 and Adam 82, total 163. Wrong again.

What could be clearer than if Eve 81 and Adam 812, the total was 893. Then if Eve 81st and Adam 812, would not the total be 1623? Perhaps after all, the following is the true solution: Eve 814 Adam, Adam 81242 oblige Eve; total, $2,638. Even this however, may not be a sufficient quantity. For though we admit that Eve 814 Adam, Adina if he 818242 keep Eve company; total, $182,636. All wrong. Eve, when she 81822 many, and probably felt sorry for it, and her companion, in order to relieve her grief, 812. Therefore, Adam, if he 81842 oblige Eve's depressed spirits. Hence both ate 81, 818,364 apples.—Philadelphia Times.

Too Fresh. A company of Ohio university students went upon a sensational expedition long ago, says the Toledo Blade. They stopped here and there to honor the different members of the faculty, and finally brought up in front of the residence of the aged and highly respected college librarian. Here they seated themselves upon the high board fence which surrounded the librarian's estate, and, as the reporter says in his eloquent way, "the dialect strains of the tin can and the long, tremulous notes of the fish-horn floated out upon the ambient atmosphere." To such accompaniments the students sang, and it is no wonder that the aged librarian soon appeared upon his porch. "The music grew louder and wilder in honor of his appearance," while the reporter, to quote the reporter once more, "upon his cloud-imbued bed, shed a soft, soporific glimmer over all this scene."

Finally there came a lull, the bass drum and the fish-horn were silent, and the librarian stepped to the front of the porch.

"Gentlemen," said he, in a trembling voice, "I dislike to disturb you, but I had that fence painted to-day."

And then it was seen once more that a simple word is more moving than the most impressive oratory.

Crop-Weather Bulletin No. 15. For week ending Saturday June 26th, 1893.

Weather. The cool, cloudy weather of last week continued during the present week, and was accompanied by rains that were general, except in Douglas, Josephine, and Jackson counties. Generally over one inch fell along the coast and in the Willamette valley, while in eastern Oregon it ranged from one quarter to one inch. The average June rain has now fallen and any more that may fall will be in excess, though the excess would yet prove beneficial. If the rains that have just fallen would fall four weeks ago greater good would have resulted. The rain was, however, very beneficial and was warmly welcomed by the farmers. The temperature has been below the average; the conditions are favorable to the crops. While no rain fell in the Umpqua or Rogue river valleys still the cool, cloudy weather was beneficial; rain in these valleys is badly needed.

Crops. All growing vegetation shows the marked benefit of the rains which have given new life to it all. The fall and early sown wheat will attain a higher stand and the late sown wheat will stand make good hay.

The rains slightly injured the hay that was down. Hay is generally reported to be a short crop. Hops continue to be promising. The collin moth has not made its appearance yet to any great extent. Apples and pears are consequently reported most promising. Frost in May seriously injured the fruit crop of the Grande Ronde valley. Umatilla county, Wallawalla and Grande Ronde valleys have most flattering prospects for grain.

The rains have materially benefited the grain prospects of Wagon, Sherman, Gilliam and Morrow counties.

Present indications point to a prosperous year for agriculturists. Fruits, berries and hops also promise excellent yields.

Rivers. The rivers continue to fall. Considerable snow is yet reported to be in the mountains which is gradually being melted.

R. S. PAGE, Observer, U. S. Signal Service.

The time fixed for holding the Yamhill county fair at McMinnville is September 2nd to 5th. We suppose the association will be usual offer $300 to the owner of the race horse whom they offer $500 to the farmer who exhibits a cow or "b" hog. The Yamhill county "fast hoss" association would be a more appropriate name.—Newberg Graphic.

The above may or may not be true.

NEWBERG REAL ESTATE AGENCY. J. M. WRIGHT, Manager.

All kinds of property bought and sold on Commission. We have listed some of the FINEST Farms and Fruit tracts in the country, also Town Lots. We have the exclusive sale of the Goodrich subdivision of the meadow donation. Real Estate Public will be made at the office of Legal Papers, Seaside, Oregon. Write Insurance Co. Be sure and call and get our prices.

We have not taken pains to inspire, but the premium list of the association which will soon be published, will afford proof of the point. It is about the case that the bulk of interest and the bulk of premiums, centers about the "fast hoss" feature of county fairs. But instead of falling and denouncing the association, would it not be more to the purpose to inquire into the cause of the fault? If the owners of cows and hogs were as much interested in improving the blood of their animals as the horse owners are in developing the speed and dash of theirs, there would be more interest and less kicking manifest at the county fairs, and the premiums would be more equally divided. If the horse men got up the fairs and ran them according to their own notions, it is because there is more push and enterprise in that direction than in the cow and hog lines of stock-raising. It is certainly true in Yamhill county that a great deal of energy and intelligent effort has been put forth in behalf of the horse, and it has resulted in great benefit to the farming interests. Whenever the breeders of Horses, Galloways, Holsteins, Jerseys, and Berkshire wake up to a genuine enthusiasm in their business, they will be found at the fairs, not grumbling and complaining of others, but doing their part toward getting them up and running them.—Yamhill Co. Reporter.

We are perfectly willing to wait with brother Barnhart of the Reporter for the appearance of the premium list of the County Fair to decide as to whether our subscription regarding the premiums to be offered are correct or not. The premium lists heretofore published by the association have been about in proportion to the above comparison.

As for "railing and denouncing the association" we leave our readers to judge as to whether we have done that or not. We said that we supposed, that as usual $500 would be offered to the owner of the race horse who sets, would be offered to the owner of a cow or hog. We were only judging by the past. We also suggested the name of "fast hoss" association in place of County Fair. Whether the editor of the Reporter has ever attended one of the fairs or not we don't know. We have attended a few times and judging from the interest manifested by the eager crowd who stood around the pool tables, and from the loud words indulged in by the driver who came out behind, we thought it must be about up to the average horse race, and when we visited the stalls where the sleek cattle and fat hogs ought to have been, we thought to call this gathering a County Fair hardly appropriate. We would say further that residents of McMinnville and vicinity have often told us that the meetings of the association when considered as a County Fair were a failure. All those things taken together caused us to say what we did, which has brought the editor of the Reporter so suddenly to his feet. It is a fact that farmers in this country take too little interest in the quality of the stock they raise and are too much inclined to stand around the race track and pool table and lose the money to the gambler and the fastidiously, that ought to go toward the improvement of the stock on the farm. Of course the man who owns the horse is not altogether to blame for this but the premiums are all out of proportion as every one can see. Yamhill county ought to have a good fair and there is no good reason why we should not have it all classes would take an interest and work together.
