Our La Fayette items would have appeared last week if they had arrived a day earlier.

Prof. and Mrs. Morrison went to Salem last Saturday and to Marion on Sunday, returning Monday.

The largest band of bunch grass horses passed through town Tuesday that we have seen this season.

L. Ella Hartley left Wednesday for a trip to Virginia City, Nevada where she goes to visit a sister.

Charley Hunt who is office boy for Dr. Darrin in Portland, and his sister Oda are visiting friends here.

A. M. Bray and E. W. Hall will buy your fruit or dry it on the shores. Read their ad. in another column.

Jon. Votaw and wife and Milton Hampton and a part of his family have been over at the coast the past week.

Call on W. D. Scarce on Main street and have your grain insured against loss. It may save you a whole year's work.

Fellows who wear thin summer trousers do say that the thistles that line some of the side walks are very penetrating.

The whistle of the thrashing engine is heard very early some of these mornings. Even before some people are out of bed. Fact.

Ell Hadley says he saw Elmer Wickersham in Baker City where he has a fruit and notion stand, and reports him doing well.

Ol Wright has accepted a position as clerk in the grocery store of J. G. Wright of Salem. Lon Hill takes his place in the surveying party.

A gentleman representing an Oregon City canning and drying firm was here last Friday and Saturday looking after the fruit crop.

Miss Ella Judd who works in the Portland Hospital was visiting relatives here the first of the week. She returned to Portland Tuesday.

Mr. Nathan Harvey of Milwaukee representing Mark Levy of Portland the fruit and commission man, was here last week prospecting for fruit.

F. J. Miller was in town last week representing "The Sugar Pine Door and Lumber Co." of Albany this state. He was here looking after the contract for putting the counter in the new Bank building.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hash very kindly remembered the GARFIELD office last Saturday with a basket of the largest peach plums we have seen this season. Some of them measured seven and a quarter inches in circumference.

Since the north room in the public school building has been finished the two make a fine lecture room for the school. We now have four large airy school rooms that any school district in the country might well be proud of.

An unfortunate delay in the shipment of our Corsets has occasioned us much annoyance. They will reach here soon and we can then satisfy the most fastidious tastes for style or price. MORRIS, MILES & CO.

Uncle Dave Ramsey's wheat was thrashed last Tuesday and averaged 25 bu. per acre. This is good considering it was sown on stubble ground. Lewis Hoskins had eleven acres of summer fallow wheat that made 20 1/2 bu. per acre.

As will be seen by the Signal report Sen. Hatch of Polk county reports that he has just thrashed 33 acres of wheat that averaged 4 1/2 bushels per acre and says it may be taken as an indication of what the fall wheat will yield in his community.

Hans Christenson thrashed forty-two acres of wheat this week that averaged thirty-six bushels to the acre and Andrew Pickett had thirty-five acres that made the same per acre. It would be hard to find the man who was predicting short crops in the spring.

Mrs. Deskins has had her barn torn down and the material hauled to the north side of her farm where she will have it put up again. The barn has been an old landmark for many years and the disappearance of it changes the appearance of the place very materially.

Wheat thrashing is progressing throughout the country and the universal report is that the grain is of fine quality and the yield all that could be asked. For an absolute certainty of a fair yield of crops there is probably no country anywhere that will head off the Willamette valley.

A road has long been talked of to run north from some point on First street and come out some where about Wm. McCollum or Lewis Hoskins place. We understand that all the parties interested are now anxious for the road and it will no doubt be put through before long.

Uncle William Hobson brought to this office the first of the week, samples of apples, pears, apricots and peaches. Several years ago when others were skeptical regarding peach raising here, Wm. said he intended to prove to the people that peaches could be successfully grown here and he has done it.

Hinelman Cooser had a letter from his son who is located at Abilene, Kansas stating that he put in a hundred acres of corn in the spring and had spent the season with two teams and a hired hand cultivating it, and now owing to the hot winds he would not have an ear of corn. Verily the way of the Kansas farmer is long.

Money has been raised to build a Friends church at Dundee. Lumber has been ordered from Vincent Bros. Sawmill at Middleton. The building is to be 28x40 feet with a fourteen foot story. The building committee is composed of A. M. Bray, Samuel Minchen, M. J. Hampton, F. Swetnam, Jonathan Votaw, and Mrs. Mary Hampton.

At the monthly meeting of Friends church held last Saturday the annual statistical report was read showing the membership of the church to be 24 males, and 27 females, making a total of 51, and as six more were received by certificate that day the present membership is 57. The total increase during the past year has been 122.

Rev. Thomas Armstrong of New Providence Iowa, who is the father of E. C. Armstrong living east of town, has accepted a call to take the position of pastor of Friends church at Whittier Cal. He is to start on the 13th. of this month and will come this way and stop off here for a few weeks. He is a splendid speaker and a good worker in the church.

The surveying party headed by our fellow townsman N. E. Britt or at least a part of them were in town over Sunday. We noticed beside Mr. Britt, Elliott Smith and Wright. They left Monday for Josephine county and go armed not only with surveying instruments but are prepared for a meeting with the aborigines of our country, with rattle snakes, or would even dare to tackle a vineyard or watermelon patch for which that country is noted.

While a crowd of boys were bathing at Rogers landing last Saturday Carol Kiri went beyond his depth and had to be assisted by land by one of the Joneses. It is to be hoped that grab hook will not be needed here this season in as would not be greatly surprised to hear them called for any day. It is all right for boys to bathe and learn to swim but the bottom of the Willamette is treacherous and the greatest caution should be used.

List of letters remaining in Newberg P. O. uncalled for the month of July 1890.

Silas Forlyce, John White, Mrs. Wm. Laters, Lewis Sans, L. W. Hadley, O. T. Hammett, Geo. Livingston, Mrs. Emma.

Prof. Will A. Hadley left Tuesday for Portland in company with Ell Hadley. They were intending to take a trip to the Columbia by boat as far as the Cascade to take in the magnificent scenery, after which Prof. Hadley will return by way of the Canadian Pacific to Minnesota.

He speaks in the highest terms of his visit to Oregon and says that his trip to Mr. Hoop and other janits to places of interest have been beyond what he expected. His health has been greatly improved and he thinks the money spent in his wandering has been well invested.

Last Sunday between twelve and one o'clock a fire was started, most likely from the stump of a cigar, in the corner of the field near Joseph Everests house. It soon spread and ran across the field burning the stubble and caught in the fence on the south side and ran up the fence burning rose briars and stubble toward the Presbyterian church. The fire was kept back however by men who had gathered and but little damage was done. The warning ought to be sufficient and everybody should be careful about fire as everything is very dry and once with a good star great damage might be done.

Rev. Chatten a Methodist city missionary from Portland preached at Friends church last Sunday morning and evening. He has been on this coast for several years doing missionary work in San Francisco and Portland. He says he is intimately acquainted with the noted infidel Col. Robert Ingersoll and that while in New York two or three years ago he called and had a pleasant talk with Ingersoll on the subject of religion. During the conversation a third party who was present made an irreverent remark when Ingersoll rebuked him and said "the difference between brother Chatten and us is that he knows God to his satisfaction while we do not."

Ell Hadley came down from Baker City last week where he has been stopping for some time. He was wearing a new suit of clothes which is not an unusual thing or people in this country, but in this particular instance an explanation is permissible. He was located fifty miles from Baker City in the Blue mountains prospecting and was boarding with another prospector who had built a house in that mountain region and had his family with him. They all went from home one day starting early and did not return until late in the evening when they found that a fire had swept the country around the house and had burned the building with all the contents. Mr. Hadley's trunk containing all his clothing except a shirt and pair of pants he had on, and his notes and accounts and other papers went with the rest. He says his losses will be $400, and may reach $600. In searching for some of the burned trunks next morning in the ruins he turned his overalls on the knee down and he went into Baker City making an appearance no doubt that would have been a good subject for a picture for Mark Twain's "Roughing It." And this is the reason he wears a new suit of clothes. His losses are pretty heavy but he takes it good naturedly and will lose no time mourning over what can't be helped.

A. M. HOSKINS SHOE SHOP, NEWBERG, OREGON

They Hunted for the Bear.

Several ladies were picking berries Wednesday along the road leading to the coal mines. After each one had got a berry, compared notes and exchanged all the gossip in the neighborhood, one of the party informed the rest that it would be well to keep a sharp lookout for bears, as one had been seen sitting on the school-house steps at Chelosis. A couple of gentlemen who had been hunting and became weary had lain themselves down behind a log to rest and heard the admonition. One of the gents at this juncture let out a roar which would have done credit to a whole flock of bears. Immediately a chorus of feminine shrieks rent the air, and there was a scramble for tall timber, where a council of war was held and a bear hunt instituted. The ladies separated to procure weapons and soon returned fully armed and prepared to swipe old Bruin from the haunts of the business blackberry. One lady had a pitchfork, another a fine toothcomb; still another held in her tiny hands an old rusty saw. Another lady came clambering up the hill with a copy of the Chelosis Nugget and proposed to read him to death (a horrible way to die), but after looking over the paper and not finding anything to read, this plan was given up. Still another lady appeared upon the scene armed with a broom and dustpan, and suggested that some of the ladies catch the bear by the hind legs while she jammed the broomstick down his throat. All at once the two gents let out a bear-like roar simultaneously and held a coat up on a stick. With our splitting yells the brave feminine bear hunters fled leaving their warlike implements and berry buckets to the mercy of the two fends behind the log.—Centennial News.

"For God and Home and Native Land."

A Bequest of $500, to be used in promoting temperance work, has been received by Miss Willard—left to her in trust by Sarah E. Spear of Woburn, Mass., whose death occurred recently.

Sixty per cent of the medical students of Toronto are total abstainers. Canadian lecturers are beginning to realize the danger in prescribing alcoholics too freely, and to see the necessity of placing them on the shelf beside arsenic and other poisons.

The Omaha Daily Republican, the most respectable republican paper in Nebraska, has created a great sensation by coming out strongly in favor of the prohibition amendment. This paper has a daily circulation of 15,000 and a weekly of 20,000.

The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union has had presented in both houses of congress a petition and bill for a commission to investigate the social vice in all its phases, its relations to labor and wages, to marriage and divorce, its effect on individuals, unborn children, and the general economic, criminal, physical and moral aspects in connection with paperism, crime, the public health and morals; and also to inquire into the practical results of legislation and the various methods relied upon for the suppression of the evil in the several states and territories of the United States and in the District of Columbia. Senator Frye of Maine, introduced this bill in the senate and Congressman Laws of Nebraska, in the house.

The underground walls of the Woman's Temperance temple in Chicago are now in process of construction. The contract for the entire building has been let and it is to be ready for occupancy by May '91.

1892, a large number of applications for alives have already been received. This will probably be the finest building in the city. The chief feature of the interior will be Willard hall, a magnificent and once room, lined with marble, on the ground floor and in the southeast corner of the building, with a capacity of six hundred, where daily meetings will be held, and where the increase of prayer for the inebriate and for the temperance cause will perpetually ascend. The laying of the corner stone has been postponed to September 23, the earliest date at which Miss Willard can be present. This, however, will not delay the work on other parts of the building.

Miss Frances E. Willard, in her address on 'The White Cross in Education,' given before the National Education association, at St. Paul, July 9, made the following practical points: 'Let pritty have the first word. The child will ask questions early; let not the course reply set in its work before the chaste one comes. Science is like fire, it burns away dross. Let him what science says. God's laws are all equally clean and holy. Tell him of the laws of God. It is now taught by the best scientists that young men of chaste life make the most brilliant students, and for hygienic reasons. Let the sanctity of potential parentage be invoked to offset the delirious dream of self-indulgence. Let your watchword be one standard for man and woman—a white life for two. Teach girls the gospel of dress that imposes no signature. Let the teacher of physical culture, whom I like to call a "moral horticulturist," train the children not to permit the insignificance of impurity upon the walls, and not to accept debating literature upon the playgrounds. Put women on the school boards that may help the teacher to guard the little ones against these dangers. Ask our educational journals to establish a department devoted to the "White Cross and Healthful Habits," and let the purest pens furnish the material for its columns.'
