Drop a card to F. L. Posson & Sons 209 Second St. Portland and they will send you one of their catalogues for 1891.

I have 10 acres first class fruit land for sale, mostly plowed—some young fruit trees.

Where are the prophets who were predicting a cold winter? They are certainly without honor in this country now.

Sewing Machine repairing and cleaning done. All parts duplicated—Work guaranteed. Call on A. C. Cox Newberg.

When you want an organ or piano call at the furniture store of G. W. Wyman on Main street and see what he has in this line.

Mr. Britt the railroad surveyor dodges in home occasionally and spends a day or two with his family and is off again in his work.

Miss Harvey, a sister of the Harvey brothers of our town arrived here a few days ago from Iowa and is keeping house for the boys.

The young lady named Valentine who has been sick for several weeks died early Wednesday morning and was buried at 2 p. m. yesterday.

F. E. Hobson is fast developing into a successful surveyor. Why not get a Frank and go at it right?

Jim Duncan is the champion grubber in these parts. He will turn the toes of as many stumps up to the sunlight in a day as two Chinamen.

W. P. Thomas of Portland who has a fruit farm northeast of town, has contracted with a band of Chinamen to do some clearing on his land.

A minister in Friends' church named Mrs. Winslow who lately came from the east commenced revival services at Middleton the first of the week.

J. B. Mount is having his store room in the bank building fitted up ready to move his stock into. He will use the back part of the room for a dwelling.

Henry Austin has sold the meat market to Dave Holloway who will continue the business at the old stand. J. D. Bell remains at the block ready to wait on old customers.

MARRIED—By Rev. Geo. F. Bond, Jan. 22d 1891, at the residence of J. C. Clemenson in Yamhill county, Mary K. Clemenson, and E. L. Ebans of Washington county.

It will not be a great while now until time to begin to consider what you will plant in your garden the coming season. Get F. L. Posson & Sons catalogue and it will tell you all about it.

Quarterly meeting of the M. E. church, at the Free Methodist church, next Saturday at 2 o'clock by Rev. M. C. Wire, P. E. On Sabbath Love Feast at 10 o'clock a. m. and preaching at 11.

The Worden brothers have a new blacksmith shop on First street and solicit a share of the patronage of the public. They have a new advertisement in this issue of the Graphic.

Rev. J. H. Douglas returned from Salem last week and has been taking a few days of needed rest. He preached an excellent sermon to a large audience at Friends' church last Sunday morning.

Miss Kate M. Holston, a former student of the Academy closed a nine months' school on the 16th of this month at Mist, Columbia county and has returned to her home in Albina.

Levi Gilbert who is down in the regions of the "Lava Beds" where the Modoc war took place ought to be able to give us a letter full of interest to our readers. Let us hear from you Levi.

Charley Moore has bought a block of Mrs. Deskins and will build on it the coming season. If we had a few more men like our P. M. our town would soon have a large number of nice houses.

Powell & Shipley the reliable commission merchants will be found on the corner of Jefferson and Front, Portland, near the P. & W. V. railroad depot. Send your commission stuff to them and you will get honest returns.

O. V. Allen and O. L. Wright were down from LaFayette over Sunday. Mr. Allen moved his larger and better half, and their household effects to LaFayette the first of the week, where they have bought property.

Dr. Clark the popular dentist returned from Toledo last week and is ready to yank teeth or perform other dental work. He says he found more work than he expected while he was gone and seems well pleased with his trip.

G. M. McCullough has rented the room in the bank building back of the banking rooms and will open an art studio in a short time. He intends fitting up the room in good style and will have very handsome quarters.

Mrs. Westfall living north of town is having extensive improvements made on her place in the way of clearing land and rebuilding fences that add much to the appearance of her home. The Duncan boys are doing the work.

We acknowledge the receipt of a copy of James Vicks Floral Guide for 1891. It is handsomely gotten up, with numerous colored plates and is worth sending for. Drop a card to James Vick Rochester N. Y. and you will get one free.

E. W. Weesner in an article in this issue gives some very wholesome advice to those about town who don't own property. Also some of the same kind for the benefit of those who don't appreciate the benefits to be derived from attending the horticultural meetings.

Parties in town bought organs of traveling agents who were here a short time ago, and paid $20 more for their instruments than G. W. Wyman is asking for the same instrument. Better see what home dealers have before throwing any money away unnecessarily.

F. L. Posson & Sons successors to Miller Bros. Portland, are general agents for the well known, reliable firm of D. M. Ferry & Co. who have a wide reputation for furnishing first class garden seeds. Send to Posson & Sons, 209 2nd St. and get one of their catalogues free.

Not a flake of snow this winter and the grass as green as when winter set in. We have been feasting on mustard greens, taking them from the garden whenever wanted. This with numerous bouquets of flowers that have been brought in indicate that this has been a mild winter so far.

Charles Edwards is heard from this week on "Alaskan Farming." Mr. Edwards is a missionary among the Indians of that country and as we had not heard from him for a long time we did not know but that he had been carried away by a Pocahontas. Glad to hear from him again.

The railroad company has raised the freight rates on lumber. W. P. Heacock informs us that unless the company will consent to make some concessions he can't afford to have lumber shipped in. This is another evidence of the necessity for a sawmill on the river so that we would not be at the mercy of a grasping railroad company.

Mrs. Williams, wife of Hon. G. W. Williams of our town was severely hurt one day last week by a fall. She was standing on a walk in the yard and threw up her hands to scare some chickens away, when she slipped and fell, sustaining quite a severe bruise in one of her hips. Being in her seventy-second year of course she will not recover so fast as a younger person but she seems to be getting along nicely.

Calvin Stanley bought a piece of land a short time ago, of a little over twenty acres of Mr. Longley north of town. Nearly every one seems anxious of late to get a piece of land that can be planted in orchard and all land anywhere in the reach of town is in good demand. Some of our young men have bought small tracts and are improving them, and others will do well to follow in their footsteps. Land bought and properly improved is sure to bring good returns for the investment.

Dr. G. W. McDonnell arrived here last week with his family and has rented the Scarce property on Main street where he can be found for the present until he can get an office. He came from Thayer county Nebraska and stopped a month in Portland. In the latter city Newberg was recommended to him as being a city of schools and churches and that, he says, was what brought him here. The doctor comes with eighteen years experience as a physician. We are glad to welcome him and his family to our town.

At the Robertson-Hoskins wedding mentioned last week the following presents were given by friends and relatives: 1 linen table cloth, A. W. Cook; 1 set napkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morris; 1 table cloth and one set napkins, one dozen table plates and one pair slippers, Mrs. A. M. Hoskins; 1 stand cover, Aunt Maegz Hobson; 1 glass pitcher, Eleanor and Letta Dixon; salt and pepper cellars, Lucy and Myrtle Gause; 1 stand cover, Mary Cottle; silver napkins rings, Lillie C. Smith; 1 glass rolling pin, D. W. Cox; 1 stand lamp, Mrs. J. T. Smith; 1 set napkins, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Goodrich; 1 silver butter knife, Eunice Hastings; Set soup dishes, set of silver knives and forks, and spoons, A. M. Hoskins; 1 sugar spoon, Hallie David; 1 table cloth and set silver knives and forks, Mrs. L. C. Rhoades; 1 set pie plates and desert dishes, tub and washboard and cake of soap, J. L. Hoskins; Glass set, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Gause; 1 rocking chair, Grandpa and Grandma Hoskins; 1 picture and easel, Joyce, Annie, Herry and Cecil Hoskins; Set silver spoons, Mrs. A. M. Yocum; Set knives and forks, Nellie, Edna and Orville Hobson; Parlor stand, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hoskins; Rocking chair, Warren Robertson and Frank Hobson. Bottle soothing syrup, one pair lady slippers, and rubber doll.

County superintendent Baker was down the first of the week visiting our schools. He said we had the second school in the county in numbers and also seemed well pleased with the condition of the school. Nine years ago the children of school age in this district numbered seven, while Dutton, LaFayette, Amity, Sheridan, North Yamhill and other places had full schools. Now we have distanced all of them, both in numbers and in school grounds and buildings, and are following McMinnville as a very good second. All this has been done in a part of the county that was formerly referred to by residents of other parts of the county with an air of contempt, as "grubby end." Mossback lent took a back seat in these parts several years ago.

To the voters of the town of Newberg. Having been nominated and elected by your votes to the office of Mayor of the town of Newberg without any solicitation of my own and almost without my consent I agreed to accept the office. But on examination of the Charter of said town of Newberg, we find in Article VII Section II, of said Charter, it says the Mayor and Councilmen shall be tax payers and freeholders of said town. I am no freeholder of this town, therefore am not eligible to hold the office and will step down and out with many thanks to my friends in Newberg for their votes, but for their good wishes.

G. W. WILLIAMS.

Card of Thanks. On Wednesday evening the 21st inst. I was very agreeably surprised by a call from Charley Mitchell, who quite comely handled me a very fine Bible, stating that it was a present to me from about forty of my friends. At first I rather doubted Charleys word, taking it as a joke. But he insisted on it, so I accepted it as a fact and began to examine the book. I found it just what I had desired. I take this plan to express my gratitude for such a valuable present. May God bless the donors and make them that they shall abound in every good word and work and by and receive the rich reward of every good and perfect gift. Bless me, also, that this kindness may not have been betowed on me in vain.

G. N. HARTLEY.

Marion Items. We are having as fine weather as even a growler could ask for.

J. H. Douglas was here at Friends' monthly meeting. He preached three sermons during his stay. We were sorry his stay was so short as his preaching only made us hungry for more.

Mrs. H. St Helen is the guest of R. St Helens this week.

Able Bond has got enough of Oregon dampness and gone to California.

Work is going on at fruit company farm setting out their trees. The weather has been so dry this winter that they could not plow in the right time, so they are at it yet.

Morton town property has commenced to sell. Two houses and lots sold last week. One man will run a hotel and the other is a shoe maker.

Cutting railroad wood is quite an enterprise here. There are about four thousand cords contracted.

The W. F. M. society of the Friends' church meets the first Thursday in each month at 2:30 p. m. The Presbyterian Missionary and Aid society on last Thursday in each month.

Dr. Minthorn and wife, John Hanson and wife B. S. Cook and Rev. George of Salem attended Friends monthly meeting and encouraged us to press the matter of building a church. We realize that this meeting can do but little good until it has a home of its own.

Rev. Winslow of this place has gone to Middleton to work in the interest of the church there.

Some of the old settlers here are becoming musical. Three organs were sold here last week. We are expecting a teacher of music from Newberg soon to give them instructions.

Saw Mill. When you are in Rome you must do as Rome does. It seems to be the fashion these days to give some kind of a bonus as an inducement to get capital interested in a place, or to secure industries of different kinds that employ labor to any considerable extent.

This seems to be the position Newberg is placed in, regarding the saw mill and box factory, and it appears if the citizens of the town and community do not raise a bonus, and that very soon, that we will have no mill this year. Can we afford to lose it and do without lumber till the middle of the summer, and then get it only in scant quantities and at exorbitant prices? It seems that some of the parties going into this mill and furnishing most of the experience and a good share of the capital, have an offer of $1,000 bonus, and a mill site beside, at about as good a location for a mill as Newberg, and in order to get the stock all taken and get the mill, we will have to do about as well here. It is needless to speak of the necessities and advantages of such a business here, but as a pointer on this side of the question we will say that it is reasonable to suppose that with the mill here we will get lumber about $2.00 per thousand cheaper than now. Last year about 800,000 feet were sold here. On that amount the community would save in clean cash $1,600. Can't we afford to get it back the first year? Watch out for a man with a subscription paper, and don't say "I can't afford it," but subscribe liberally, and make money by doing so.

CRITIKER.

Notice to Contractors. Wanted, bids on the building of 2000 cords of wood. Call at Wright's real estate office or the Graphic office Newberg Ore. for terms.

Plant an Orchard.

In five years from this date there will be scores of men who will say they wish they had set out a prune orchard years ago. Those who have the experience say the fruit business pays far better than raising grain. Some people are idle in Newberg for the want of something to do, and are wondering why others are moving into town where there is nothing to do. Every country is adapted for something. The Willamette valley in the vicinity of Newberg, is adapted to fruit raising without a doubt. My advice to all who have nothing to do would be to buy 10 acres, more or less, near the "hilly" of this vicinity where there is land to be had on time with easy terms, and if you have not the cash to pay down, and it will pay to borrow money and secure a lot in town where you may live near church and school and in five or six years you will have a profitable investment near by, sufficient to support you without much labor in your old age. Just think of your land being worth from one to two hundred dollars an acre as soon as set out in trees, and from $500 to $1,000 per acre when bearing.

During these five years you might cultivate your orchard by planting vegetables enough to keep up expenses and taxes. Such cultivation will be very essential to the growth of the trees. Not only those who are living here now, but many in other parts of the world who are at the point of starvation in many farming communities because farming is overdone, would do well at this time to come here before land advances in price, which will be before very long. We have a good country, splendid schools and numerous churches, but no saloons. We are a temperance people and that will be our motto in the future. We need other industries in Newberg, such as a saw mill and cannery. If a cannery was built it would induce more to plant vegetables and all kinds of fruit.

I am not a real estate agent nor a land shark but these long nights after grubbing stumps, or building wood sheds, then houses, and hot beds, I get to thinking about the suffering humanity in the world so that I want to be doing something to help them, so my admiration is to go to the horticultural meetings each month and learn all you can by hearing the experience of others, and do a little as you may be inspired at these meetings.

Newberg is not a city upon a hill, but is a town in a pleasant valley, letting her light shine as one of future prosperity if we do our several duties both spiritually and financially according to God's design.

E. W. WEESNER.

Sandy Olds is, by change of venue, to be tried in this county before Judge Taylor next March. He has been three times tried already for his crime of killing Emil Weber in Portland a year or two ago. As the literature in the newspapers on the subject has been very extensive, it has been no doubt a matter of difficulty to obtain a thoroughly unbiased jury. It is, therefore, a somewhat doubtful compliment to the intelligence of the citizens of Washington county to have the case tried here. We believe, however, that it can produce the necessary twelve from among those taking no newspapers—and there are such—who will be ignorant of this case, as well as of other public matters, to fulfill the requirements of justice.—Hillsboro Independent.

Congress has been interviewed, privately and individually, as to whether the World's Fair shall be open on Sunday. As might be expected, members from the New England States are unanimously in favor of Sunday closing. Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio, also the old Southern States, Virginia, Georgia and Kentucky, are in a majority for keeping the gates shut on Sunday. The Hon. Brooks, of Pennsylvania, thinks Sabbath observance is badly needed in Chicago, on general principles. Illinois, as usual, on moral questions, is about equally divided on both sides of the fence, with slight preponderance of opinion on the shady side. Iowa senators, as a rule, favor closing. California Senator Plumb, of Kan., "prefers not to express an opinion." Another Senator, Anthony Higgins, of Delaware, was found, who has no opinion. Not so stalwart Senator Ticker, of South Dakota. He says: "I believe the Fair should not be opened on Sunday. Let it be known that this is a nation whose God is the Lord."

The very best method to secure a good command of language is never to allow yourself to pass by a word which you do not know the meaning and correct pronunciation consulting the dictionary. If it is not possible to do this at once, by all means write the word down and keep it until you can see a dictionary. If this rule is followed closely you will be surprised to find how long a list of words you have jotted down in one week. Perseverance in this will eventually result in quite an accession to your list.

One of my teachers once told me that he owed what command of language he possessed to following closely this rule. I never forgot what he said, and when I met with him a decade later, and found what rapid advancement he had made, in this particular, I was more determined than before to adopt this rule as my own. He seemed never to lack for a word, and every word too, was just in the right place. Observe this, my friend, and see if you do not find it a good course to pursue.

The Old Man's Love. A century ago, in the North of Europe, stood an old cathedral, upon one of the arches of which was a sculptured face of wondrous beauty. It was long hidden, until one day the sun's light striking through a slanted window revealed its matchless features.

And ever after, year by year, upon the days when for a brief hour it was thus illumined, crowds came, and waited eagerly to catch but a glimpse of that face. It had a strange history. When the cathedral was being built, an old man, broken with the weight of years and care, came and besought the architect to let him work upon it. Out of pity for his age, but fearful lest his falling sight and trembling touch might mar some fair design, the master set him to work upon shadows of the vaulted roof. One day they found the old man asleep in death, the tools of his craft laid in order beside him, the cunning of his right hand gone, his face upturned to the other marvelous face which he had wrought—the face of one whom he had loved and lost in early manhood. And when the artists and sculptors and workmen from all parts of the cathedral came and looked upon that face, they said: This is the grandest work of all; how wrought this!

Excitement. Runs high at C. F. Moore & Co's drug store over system builder, as everybody is using it for curative of the stomach, dyspepsia, constipation and impure blood and to build up the system. It certainly possesses wonderful merit when all speak so well of it.

Delphina E. Ellis (the invalid) keeps a supply of stationery and notions, such as suspenders, celluloid collars, handkerchiefs, combs, laces, pins, needles, gloves, etc., also arranges Oregon specimens for sale, at one of the cottages near Friends' boarding hall. She solicits the patronage of Newberg and vicinity and requests patrons to call in the afternoon.

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE To Get a Home. 100 acres divided into sixteen 10 acre tracts—5 miles from Newberg on the way to Portland within 2 miles of the thriving town of Smockville.

About sixty acres cleared. This property lies high, slightly and level. Is well watered, by spring and running creek. The scenery from any point on this property is exceptionally delightful. A grand panoramic view of the Willamette valley and the snow capped peaks of the Cascade Range is seen at a glance.

These tracts will be sold from $30 per acre and up. Easy term, 1/3 down, balance 1, 2, 3 or 4 years at 7 per cent. JESSE HOBSON.

LADIES' COLUMN.

MRS. F. A. MORRIS.

Instead of so much blending, try rather to carefully unite the forms of light, shade and half tint. For this purpose use a flat sable brush of good size, or a soft bistre.

A painting can never look true to nature unless the values are well observed. Each light, half tint and shadow, has too, its exact form and its relative place requiring careful observation.

In painting foliage you should take into consideration the general mass rather than the petty details; it is therefore necessary to get in the general effect first, without any reference to the subsequent finish.

In painting any object from Nature ascertain its relation to its surroundings, or its relative values. For instance, when painting foliage at a distance, compare it with the sky and note which is the lighter, or with the distant mountains. So go on to compare the sky tone with the water, the rocks, foreground, etc.

If the keys of your piano happen to have turned yellow (and this is not always from age, but sometimes from a damp atmosphere), you can whiten them by the following formula: Rub the keys with a cloth moistened with lemon juice, and table salt. Then wipe off carefully with a dampened chamois after they have resumed their whiteness. After which, polish with soft dry chamois.

A novel expedition is preparing to leave London in February, its port of destination being Zanzibar, and its object, investigation of the condition of the condition of African women, with a view to their improvement. It will be composed entirely of women, with the exception of Arab attendants in charge of the baggage. These ladies say that, while Stanley has given the world much information about the men of Africa, he has left the women still in the "dark continent" of obscurity. Mrs. May French Sheldon, daughter of a well known woman physician, of Chicago, leads the expedition. Her husband is the London manager of the banking house of Jarvis-Conklin.

His Misfortune is Your Golden Opportunity. We are glad to announce to the public that we have purchased a stock of men's boots and shoes for men, women and children, rubbers, slippers, rubber boots, long, short, big and little, etc., that belonged to a merchant doing business in Washington. He bought these goods new and fresh from the wholesale dealers in September last, and failed in business in October, since which time the stock has been in the sheriff's hands, pending a settlement. Not being able to make his payments, the goods were sold to the highest private bidder, and we were so fortunate as to secure them. We will sell them without reserve, at prices never before made on such goods. This stock is made up of strictly first-class goods, and many kinds are exact duplicates of what we have sold in our store for the past three years.

Respectfully invite you to come early and make such selections as you can interest in a place, or to secure industries of different kinds that employ labor to any considerable extent.

Notice to Tax Payers.

Tax payers will take notice that the taxes for 1890 are now due and the Sheriff, or his deputy, will be at West Chehalum on Monday Feb. 2nd, at Newberg Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 3rd and 4th and at Dundee Thursday Feb. 5th. One and all are requested to be present and settle their taxes without delay.

W. L. WARREN, Sheriff.

NOTICE TO THE AFFLICTED. I take this opportunity to inform the public that I have left my medicines, "The Japanese Oil," Dr. Swans Liver and Kidney Cure" and the "National Specific" for Malaria, with Mrs. Mary S. Hobson on the north side of First street opposite the Newberg house and Mrs. Hardwick at the Bakery on Main street, Newberg. Those in the vicinity of Dundee may leave applications at Dundee post office for D. W. Martin.
