King Otto's uncle, Prince Luitpold, who is now Regent, is next in succession to the Bavarian throne if the King's present failure of vitality should prove fatal. Prince Luitpold carries his 70 years with vigor, and is an able man.

Experiments were made two weeks ago in Lake Como with a submarine cannon that can be lowered to any depth desired and remain quite invisible when in the water. Its projectiles may be discharged at will with most destructive results without the use of electricity. The gun is designed for the defense of ports, bays and gulfs.

Considerable satisfaction is felt in France over the cooling of the hot blood of the Duke of Orleans, who is now in his own behalf and that of the Count of Paris supported the General with funds for his conspiracy against the Republic. The Duke has been visiting the Vatican, and secured her such seat courtesy that she has been buried in mortification ever since. It was the object of the Duke to influence the Pope to favor the French Republic, but she was not given an opportunity to say a word, the Pope immediately passing on to the other visitors.

The opponents of the Pacific cable subsidy scheme have a new weapon to use in their fight against the subsidy act. Another company has appeared which proposes to build a longer cable without subsidy. The Pacific Cable Company asks the government to give them $5,000,000 to aid in laying the cable to Honolulu, a distance of 2,000 miles; the other company proposes to build to Shanghai, 6,500 miles, and asks for nothing but a revival of the charter granted to it by Congress, August 15, 1876, which expired in 1879, no cable having been laid. This old company was formed by Celeste Cesar Marino, and it was Senator Leland Stanford, J. C. Flood and several other California millionaires. They were promised a subsidy of $1,000,000 by the Hawaiian government as well as the cable was laid. The capitalists did not see a sufficient and speedy return for their money, the scheme fell through and the charter lapsed. Marino now represents to Congress that the company is ready to go ahead without any subsidy if the charter is revived. Opposition to the subsidy idea is very strong, and to defeat it an extension of the old company's charter will be urged.

Senator Dolph of Oregon has introduced a resolution, calling upon the Secretary of War to give all the information now in his possession relative to the work at the Cascades, and whether there is any information to the effect that the work is cost more than the former estimates. The resolution was introduced on account of the reported statement by Major Hanbury that the estimates would have to be increased for this purpose.

At Tacoma Indian Agent Eels has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Robert Johnson, proprietor of a railroad logging camp, charged with selling liquor to Indians. This is a test case. Since Judge Hanford's decision in the United States Court, that Indians might drink in their own houses, similar cases have been dismissed. Agent Eels will endeavor to prosecute under the State law and will carry the case to the Washington Supreme Court if necessary.

Tacoma lumber men are again devising measures to maintain uniform rates and prevent the disastrous cutting in prices which has been going on for some time. At a meeting held at the Tacoma Hotel most of the mills in the city were represented. A plan which seemed to find favor was to pool the output and engage a manager to make a fair distribution of orders and sales on the basis of production. This question, however, was in the way of immediate action, and it was referred to a special committee to prepare a plan and report.

News from Tin Janna show a disaster greater than was at first reported. The people housed in the schoolhouses are almost naked, and neighboring farmers have used up all their supplies of food. The county now takes charge of their immediate necessities. A stream 100 feet wide by 18 feet deep flows through International Falls, Minn., and is used to aid the people. Debris covers the town to the depth of six or more feet. The people will rebuild on the highland bank of the old site in the spring. Three lives have been lost.

On the Occasion of the Visit of President Harrison to Topeka, Kan., the hotels, restaurants and boarding houses were overrun by the great crowd. People clamored for food as the crowd clamored to get into a circus, and guards were placed at the dining room doors to keep back those who could not be at once accommodated. A gentleman who had tried every public place found at a late hour in the afternoon a restaurant in an out of the way place. He went in and asked if he could be fed. The proprietor said he had been eaten out.

"I'll give you a dollar for a glass of milk and piece of pie," said the stranger.
