PORTLAND MARKET.

The markets are quiet. Groceries and smoked meats have a tendency to advance. Ground barley has advanced. Eggs are still weak and lower. Naval oranges are scarce, probably on account of the shortage of crops in Southern California and fruitmen there not allowing them to leave the warehouses. All kinds of oranges have advanced. California lemons have also gone up. Chickens are still plentiful. Canned corn and stock salt have risen. Dried Italian prunes have fallen. California walnuts have advanced. There are no changes in the other markets.

WHEAT—There is very little doing in the local markets. Offerings are small and prices asked considerably above an export basis, causing buyers to hold off. Cargoes are again called firmer and about 6d higher, but the continental demand is checked. The Liverpool spot market rules steady and futures irregular at the close. Eastern markets are lower.
