

Local Events.

Bert Hoover came down from Salem Wednesday. John Rees lost a valuable brood mare a few days ago. Mrs. Wiley moved to her property in town last week. Alfred Moore, of Dayton, was in town during the week. Tibodo Brothers are working at their trade in Portland. Go to C. F. Moore & Co's. for Paints, Oils and Wall Paper. A. C. Cox has invested in a piece of real estate on First street. Sash weights at Portland prices at the Lumber Yard near depot. Call at Mrs. Hoskins' green house on River Street, for pot plants. River street has been greatly improved by a thorough grading this week. Miles Reece is having his house painted. Lin Parker is doing the work. 4in. crown and bed moulding 1 ct. per running foot at Depot lumber yard. Allen Smith and D. P. Stratton are carpentering on Wm. Stratton's new house. The catalogue and prospectus for the new college will be out in a short time. Spread some paint on your old weather beaten house and make it look respectable. Heston & Biermann are now prepared to bore wells. See their ad. elsewhere in this paper. O. V. Allen and lady, of La Fayette, spent Sunday with Mrs. Allen's parents of our town. We understand that Mr. Kincaid is expecting to build on his fruit ranch this season. Clarence Edwards attended the state meeting of the Y. M. C. A. at Albany the first of the week. A young man named Cox, from Washington, is visiting the family of his uncle, J. W. B. Cook, of this place. A new real estate office is to be built on First street, which will be occupied by J. I. Knight and A. P. Oliver. Miss Ella May visited with her brother Will at Sheridan the first of the week. She says Will is hearty as ever. The new road down the mountain from Shillings place, is now open for travel and it is said to be a very good grade. The strawberry crop is reported as being simply immense. Boxes and boxes of these fine berries will soon be on the market. The Presbyterians will have preaching and communion services next Sunday. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Mr. Boyd. James Madison has a sheep that he has sheared twice during the past year and in the two shearings he clipped 18 1/2 pounds of wool. Read the notice for the strawberry, cherry and rose exhibit to be held at the next horticultural meeting and prepare to compete for a premium. J. B. Mount received a carload of stoves direct from Chicago this week. They are all the popular "Garland," and just the kind to please housekeepers. Robert Samms left Monday for Montana, where he will work at his trade this summer, he being a practical machinist. He will enter college in the fall. From this time on our school which has been known as Friends' Pacific Academy will be known as Pacific College, this being the name agreed upon. Wm. and George Morris and Jim Mills, with their families, pulled out for the big West coast last week. This is the first installment for the coast this season. Charles Vaughan, mentioned last week as being in poor health, started to California a few days ago, hoping that a change of climate might be beneficial. Horace Cox and family left Tuesday for Oakesdale, Washington, where he has a position as book-keeper in a store. The best wishes of the GRAPHIC follow him to his new home. Decoration day will be observed by the old soldiers of this place tomorrow with appropriate services. Rev. Edward Eccleston, of La Fayette, will deliver the address at 2 o'clock, in the orchard grove, north of the bank. Tice & Tibodo are prepared to do all kinds of work in their line, such as painting, graining, calculating, paper hanging and decorating. They also guarantee all work first-class or no pay. Give them a trial. Stephen Burrows, lately from Mapleton Minnesota, who has been over Washington and Oregon looking for a location, is in town and says Newberg is good enough for him. He has bought property and is now waiting for his family, who are visiting in Washington. A gentleman named Bales, with two son-in-laws and their families, making in all about fifteen persons, arrived last week from east Tennessee. They have rented property and are busy at work. Mr. Bales is a shoe maker by trade, and has his tools on the road with other goods. Every man you speak to about a fair for this fall wants one held by all means, but the majority seem to want somebody else to assume all responsibility in the matter. If a fair is worth anything to Newberg, and it has proven that it is, every citizen of the town and community around ought to be willing to help in the matter. Prof. Morrison and wife left on last Saturday morning's train for his old home at Bloomington, Indiana. He has a position secured in Spiceland Academy, Indiana, for next year, as teacher of science and mathematics. Being especially fitted, as he is, for this position he will no doubt do splendid work. Prof. and Mrs. Morrison have a host of friends in Newberg, who wish them the greatest success in their new home.

The children are reaping a harvest of wild strawberries. Jesse Edwards was busy spraying his fruit trees Monday. Call and see the new line of Wall Paper at C. F. Moore & Co's. Cabbage plants for sale at my place east of the park. E. W. Wassenaar. J. I. Knight reports the sale of property in Chesham Orchard Homes as being very good. W. P. Heacock has arranged to get his lumber from the upper Columbia. Look for something first class. Rustic, V. rustic, or double V. rustic, as cheap as the cheapest for first class work, at Mitchell & Clark's. Allen Smith has improved the appearance of his house on Wynooki street by building a veranda in front. Livingston Beauty tomato plants, strong and healthy. For sale by GEO. STANLEY. Noah Heater has the contract for putting up the new tin shop for Oliver & Colcord on First street. It will be a two story building. Those who attended the maple sugar supper given Wednesday night by the Sons of Veterans, report a very pleasant as well as a very sweet time. The Dorrance brothers have a large drying shed up at their lumber yard and are grading the lumber so that a man can get what he wants when he visits their mill. A brother of Fredrick Sweetman, of Dundee, with his wife arrived from New York, the first of the week. Another gentleman whose name we failed to get came also. Road supervisor Pickett had three extra teams hitched to the road grader the first of the week. One of them was his own and the other two belonged to the Dorrance brothers. The party who has done so much talking in the past year about building a "brick block" is now spolling a good building site by putting up the cheapest kind of a wooden building. Dr. A. Blanchard, an oculist of St. Helens, accompanied with his wife, has been visiting with his brother-in-law, Mr. Duncan north of town. We understand he is thinking of locating in our town for the practice of his profession. In speaking of Hanson & Davis last week, we mentioned that they had purchased sixty acres of land from Jesse Hobson but neglected to state that they had also bought sixty acres of the LeFevre place from J. I. Knight. Newberg is being well advertised in the east. The Newberg Orchard Association has a full page ad. in the Chautauquan and we understand they have made contracts with Harpers and other eastern publishers to have the same run in their magazines. The cut represents a young lady picking prunes from a thrifty bearing tree. A large crowd gathered last Tuesday to witness the balloon ascension by the circus outfit. Everything passed off pleasantly and the ascension was a success. The balloon arose to the height of about 2000 feet when the man aboard cut loose and came to the ground in his parachute with perfect safety, alighting near Mr. Frisell's residence. Thomas Duncan informed us Saturday that he had saved a sample of his first strawberries of the season for this office, and a naughty hen got in and devoured them. Tom, of course, was mad enough to eat the hen, and we could have helped him if she had been broiled. Mr. Duncan brought us samples of the next that ripened, that were very nice. B. J. Miles, of Iowa, who is a cousin of B. C. Miles, of our town, has been chosen as superintendent of the State Reform school which will be opened at Salem next September. Mrs. Miles will act as matron. Mr. Miles has been engaged in reform school work for the past twenty years and for several years has held the position of superintendent of the Iowa reform school at Eldora where he has made a reputation as an unusually successful disciplinarian. Oregon has made a good choice in the selection of superintendent for the new reform school. The Oregonian has the largest circulation of any Daily Sunday or weekly paper west of the Rocky mountains, and in order to further increase its circulation they have selected with great care, a large list of valuable books and other useful articles, and are offering them as premiums to each new subscriber, to any of its several issues for yearly subscriptions. The Oregonian should be in every household. Send for premium list to the Oregonian Publishing Co. Portland Ore. Mr. Myers, who lives east of town, has a mysterious tale to tell, and while he is known as "fish pond" Myers, his story need not necessarily be termed fishy. He says he stepped out into the yard one day last week and looking high over head he saw an object circling around in mid air. Getting his shot gun he fired at the object and behold a gopher fell at his feet having received a shot through the head. Just what the animal was doing up there was the business of the gopher, of course, but Mr. Myers says he stands ready to prove his statement. School Report. Following is the report of school in Dist. 25, Yamhill and Washington counties, for the month ending May 8, 1891. Card of Thanks. We desire to return our heartfelt thanks to those who so truly proved themselves our friends in the time of sickness and death of our loved one. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Long. Died. At the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. S. Long, in this city, on Monday night, May 25, Edgar Caldwell, aged 72 years. Buried Tuesday in Friends' cemetery. Mr. Caldwell suffered a paralytic shock some years since, which, together with the feebleness of one so old, and the fatigue of the journey from Kansas City two weeks ago, resulted in his death. He lived for a number of years on the coast, and had always expressed a desire to return west before he died. This wish was gratified, and he died in full consciousness, full of trust in the life beyond. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of the entire community. Headquarters Kilpatrick Post G. A. R. All members of the Kilpatrick Post are requested to meet at Armory Hall, at 1 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, May 30th, and all old soldiers and sailors specially invited to join with us in the procession, in the march to the orchard grove west of the bank building where Memorial services will be held at 2 o'clock. Rev. Edward Eccleston, orator of the day. After exercises the line of march will be taken up and proceed to cemetery and decorate the graves of our sleeping comrades. Everybody invited to attend. C. L. BALLARD, J. D. BELL, Adjutant, Post Com. Attention, Kilpatrick Camp, S. of V. You are requested to meet at Armory Hall, Saturday, May 30th at 1 o'clock sharp, to prepare for Decoration services. C. F. BUTLER, Captain. A New Road. MR. EDITOR:—The opening up of a county road from Mr. Schillings down the mountain, spoken of in your last issue, opens up a large scope of country and brings it about three miles nearer Newberg, and no doubt many will take advantage of it and do more trading in Newberg. It gives an outlet for Newbergers to get upon the mountain by another route, where they can see the beauties of the valley below. The road is not so steep as the one up the mountain by C. Hoskins, and after it is traveled some and worked down a little, will form a very favorable route for pleasure seekers. It is a very picturesque route and will be especially attractive to young people, particularly the drive through "Lover's Lane." After reaching the top of the mountain, a drive of about a mile farther north over a more picturesque road past rippling waters and cooling springs will bring you to Mitchell & Clark's sawmill, where you will find a crew manufacturing lumber for your inhabitant of Newberg and surrounding country. By the way this brings the above named sawmill within four miles of Newberg, which will greatly add to their ability for prompt delivery of lumber to any part of the valley. There are some giant trees near the mill waiting their time, a short one, to be felled and cut into lumber. This road gives a short cut to see the snow capped summits of Hood, Adams, St. Helens and Jefferson. A. P. Closing Exercises. The doors of the academy were closed on Thursday of last week, the examinations being past and the year's work finished. The academy which has been running for the past six years has been a great factor in building up our town, and the foundation for an institution of learning that will be second to none in the northwest, has been well laid. At the beginning of the next school year the institution will open as a college, the whole course having been re-arranged with that end in view. Prof. Newlin, who takes the place of president of the college, writes that he is anxious to get here to enter upon the duties of the office, and we look forward to the opening as a time of great interest in the history of the school. The examinations passed off last week after the usual manner, and we presume with satisfaction to the students, as we heard a large number of them say they intended to return next year. On Thursday work executed by the class in drawing and painting was on exhibition, which reflected great credit, not only on the students, but on Mrs. Hartley, the instructor. A very large company gathered at the Friends' church in the evening to witness the commencement exercises of the grammar school and academic classes. Over the stage was the latin phrase "Non Quis Sed Quid," which means "not who, but what; not the person but the deed." The choir rendered good music, and was composed of Tenne Minthorn, organist, Soprano, Lillie Smith and Daisie Stanley, Alto, Edith Ellis and Lida Wilson, Tenor, A. E. Wesmer and W. O. Robertson, Bass, W. L. Robertson and C. J. Edwards. The ushers were Robert Samms, W. F. Edwards, Hallie David and Abbie Miles. After invocation by Prof. Hartley, and song "Lovely Night," by male quartette, came the Orations by the grammar class, "Higher Education" — George Graves, "America or England," — Oran K. Edwards, "England and America's Greatest Poets," — Edith Ellis. Song—"Not a Sparrow Falleth." In the academic class, "Nineteenth Century Development," — Clarence J. Edwards, "Night Brings out the Stars," — Amos C. Stanbrough. Address and presentation of diplomas, Prof. Morrison. Song—"Greatly to be Praise'd." Benediction. The program was well rendered by the young people and enjoyed by the audience. Amos Stanbrough was presented with a scholarship in Earlham college on account of the highest average of per cents in examinations. He intends, however, to stay with the home college. A profitable year's work is now rounded up, and it is to be hoped that our young people will fill the school to the utmost capacity at the beginning of next year.

SMOCKVILLE ITEMS. John Brook and family were up from Portland last week, and spent a couple of days. Will Seeneey has been down at Portland at work for a few days. Ella Hadley, from near Dayton, has been here for a few days visiting friends. Mrs. John Fitch, who has been very ill, is some better. Mr. Barber preached at Friends' church Sabbath morning. Mr. Tyson has had a force of hands working the streets the past week. The deputy sheriff was out one day last week looking around. Mr. Cutter, of Oswego, was in town last week. Mr. Loid finished up his contract of cleaning the soil off the hill for the Brick Co. this week. C. H. Delany has bought out H. H. Hand's meat market. Jas Anderson bought Brook's white house last week and has moved into it. Eugene Hoskins and Bert Wesmer came down last week and went to work on the brick yard. Send us some more of the same kind of young men. Mrs. Ella Heacock and Emma Johnson spent one day in Portland last week. J. C. Smock has been giving his house a new coat of paint. Mr. Varner has put a new fence around the parsonage. Mr. Atterberg has been suffering severely with rheumatism since he moved out from Portland. Mr. Angus Aterberg, of East Portland, has bought 20 acres south of town and moved his family out. We are glad to welcome such men as Mr. Aterberg in our midst. Mr. Young, of Carlton, has bought property back of the church and is drying lumber to build with. Still they come. Mr. Young is a painter and comes well recommended. Tax Notice. Notice is hereby given that the school tax in Dist. No. 29, Yamhill county, Ore., is now due, and unless paid by June 2, 1891, will be deemed delinquent and turned over to the county clerk for collection. By order of School Board. N. C. On a certain Monday morning a few weeks since there was one lonely case of "drunk and disorderly." Is there another city of 32,000 inhabitants within these United States that can make so good a showing? Every Union in the State should conduct a Loyal Temperance Legion. This work among the children is of vital importance. "What is the W. C. T. U. doing?" is a question rarely asked where a live, interesting L. T. L. exists. No other word so popularizes the W. C. T. U. as the training of the children. It seems the natural thing for organized mother-love to do.—The Oregon White Ribbon. STATISTICS OF THE National Woman's Christian Temperance Union. "The journalistic temperament if about the best in the world—less kind, progressive and humanitarian. Take away the satisfaction of nicotine and the craze of alcoholic drinks, and you would have remaining an incomparable set of brother-hearted men."—FRANCIS E. WYLAND. DEAR FRIENDS OF THE QUILL: In offering you, most cordially, the compliments of the season, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union desires to express its thanks for everything that has tended to lift humanity "sunward and Godward" that has appeared in your columns during the past year. We know something of the difficulties under which you labor in trying to cater to the needs of a varied constituency; and we rejoice in a confident belief that the world is really growing better—that less selfishness and more of self-sacrifice, less of brutality and more of brotherhood, less of scoffs and sneers and more of God-speeds for the right—in a word, less of the human and more of the Divine, is the increasing tendency in reputable journalism to-day. In this spirit we greet you. Toward its culmination in the complete knowledge of the "fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man," we ask your earnest co-operation. The statistics on the preceding page, taken from our official returns for 1890, will show you something of our work toward this "consummation devoutly to be wished." Commending them to your attention and interest, we remain Yours for God and Home and Native Land. THE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION. W. P. HEACOCK, Contractor & Builder.
