Oakesdale is a thriving town of about 1000 to 1200 inhabitants and still growing. The town is having some trouble to sustain the council and its officers as a few are trying to declare the charter without force and irregular. The matter is in court now.

State Directory—Caution.

Business men may save themselves a good deal of mortification, if they will be on their guard against any cheap directory scheme that demands pay in advance. That fake has been worked in the east and is always a disappointment. Either the book never comes, or is so incomplete as to be worse than none. R. L. Polk & Co. of Portland, Oregon have been publishing biennially, since 1884, their well known Oregon, Washington and Idaho Gazetteer and Business Directory. It is a standard publication of rare merit and should receive a hearty support. It is issued at $5.00, a price that insures a thoroughly accurate book, and the publishers exhibit their confidence in their own work by not asking "pay in advance." People are further warned not to believe in the falsehoods of canvassers for bogus publications, who say Polk & Co. have retired from the field. They now have their next Oregon, Washington and Idaho book in active preparation, and will be here long after these piratical schemes are dead and forgotten.

Letter From Horace Cox.

Oakesdale, Wash., July 6, 1901. ERRORS GRACIOUS—I received your last weeks issue on Saturday evening and I was so well pleased that I wanted to commend you for my good fortune. Heretofore it has been delayed until Monday evening following. Your people little know what a delightful climate they have. This morning the ground here was covered with frost, thick enough to blacken the tops of potatoes etc. About 3 weeks ago we had a frost or rather a freeze that killed wheat on low ground, down to the ground but rain followed and now the blacked fields have sent up new stalks as green as any in the field. This is a grand wheat country, but gardens and fruit are raised with much labor and care. I am told that it is almost an impossibility to raise tomatoes or tender vegetables. Wages range here from $2 to $3.50, according to occupation or trade. There are plenty of men now but some are preparing to go to the Walla Walla country to harvest then return here by Aug. 1 or 15, to run through the harvest here which often lasts until November. It is no uncommon thing for men to turn out of bed and break ice or thaw pumps to get water for horses in threshing time. The one great compensation being the immense wheat yield the farmer gets for his labor. There is some complaint of hard times, yet everybody seems to have money for present needs. Prospects are fine for a crop again this year.

Oakesdale is a thriving town.

LA FAYETTE ITEMS.

Dr. Michaux has been quite sick for a week, but is able to ride again. John Fletcher's boy 12 years old was driving a hay rake on the road when the horse ran away and broke the boy's leg in two places below the knee. Wm. Huston and Amy Harrington were married on the 4th. J. M. Kelly officiating. The celebration and barbecue at Dayton on the 4th, was a grand success, there being a large crowd in attendance and a good programme. The oration by Prof. Kantner was particularly good. Ed Long, of La Fayette, carried off the gold medal the $50.00 and the championship of Yamhill Co., at the shooting match. Prof's Kantner and Bowman with their families have gone to the coast. James Met and P. P. Gates and families are preparing to start to Tillamook. M. J. and D. M. Ramsey are painting the residence of J. M. Belcher. The Dayton and La Fayette clubs played a closely contested game of ball here yesterday, the result being two runs in favor of La Fayette. Grand marshal, P. P. Gates, installed the following officers to serve the current term in the I. O. O. F. Lodge of this place last Friday evening. J. W. Long N. G.; Dan Fraser V. G.; J. W. Martin Recording Sec.; J. L. Vickroy Warden; J. M. Kelly Conductor; Rubie Martin Permanent Sec.; J. W. Dunn Treasurer; George Lewis G.

is beautifully illustrated with battle scenes and war pictures, also portraits of the gallant men who won the medal. Such a work is sure of an enormous sale in any community. Every old soldier's heart will beat with pride in reading it, and those who love deeds of daring and adventure will be infatuated with the modest, manly way in which these brave men tell their story. The work is called "The Bravest 500 of '61." It is sold only by subscription, by the well-known publishing house, The History Company of San Francisco. We call attention to their advertisement in another column.

WOMAN'S COLUMN.

MRS. F. A. MORRIS, Editor.

Come to the Union to-morrow and hear the discussion of the labor question, one of the most important phases of the temperance work.

There will be a birthday prayer meeting at Friends' church on Wednesday the 22, at 4 o'clock p. m. Those having birthdays in July are asked to come for prayer. Especially are mothers asked to bring their children. All are invited.

L. P. ROUND, Evangelistic Supt.

There are now 685,292 women voters in England and Wales.

Uncle Sam is said to purchase twenty-five tons of tobacco every year for the use of the navy.

At Tunkerley, South Africa, there is an average of one native found dead every morning as a result of excessive drinking.

Talk about keeping the palace saloon and suppressing the doggerel! As well propose to inoculate men with the virus of smallpox and suppress the eruption!—R. S. Thompson.

It is a significant fact that the Y. W. C. T. Unions everywhere are occupied with physical culture. The girls are not getting up muscle for nothing. Let all whom it may concern take notice.

Ireland has the most virtuous peasantry in the world, confessedly as the outcome of early education. Before the first communion boys and girls are specifically taught the duty and the reasonableness of personal purity.

His Royal Highness, Prince Diss, who is at the head of educational department, of Siam, has declared himself to be deeply interested in the temperance cause and says that he is about to begin the translation of a text book on scientific temperance to be used in the college for native boys.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Unions of the larger cities will give special attention in the coming year to "College Settlements," a plan by which refined and well-to-do women take up their residence for a time in the most undesirable quarters of the city, there to give an objective-lesson in cleanly, healthful home-life. Such "settlements" in New York and Chicago are telling visibly upon the "slums" by which they are surrounded.

Malrae Patti, in making up a recipe for "How to become a great singer," throws in this wholesome ingredient—"Alcoholic stimulants of any kind tend to irritate the throat, and should be entirely abstained from. Even light wines are no exception to this rule. Most people are familiar with the hoarse voice of the hard drinker, and it is often said of such an individual that he has burned his throat with drink. Even a moderate use of alcohol may, therefore, tend to make the voice husky."

An instance cited by Sho Nemoto proves the readiness of the Japanese mind to accept truth and put it in practice. A copy of a temperance magazine had been sent to ex-Senator Tanabe, who was fond of wine. One day the Senator had a company, and as usual, wished to have wine on the table; but his bright young daughter, Miss Tatsu, objected, "telling her dear father with loving spirit of the terrible effect of wine upon men. The Senator was melted by the earnest pleading of his daughter, and the wine was omitted.

If grand ideas had waited for public sentiment, where would we be now? In the dim twilight of a tallow dip, instead of this electric light around us; on the old ox team, instead of enjoying the speed and splendor of the Pullman palace car, and on the temperance question back in the custom of the days when a man could advertise the liquor business on the tombstone of his father, as was done when that inscription was made on a tombstone in the old country, which comes to us thus:

"Here lies below, in hope of Zion, The landlord of the Golden Lion; His son keeps on the business still, Obdient to his country's will." George W. Bain.

According to a statement contained in a recent number of the Gospel Messenger, the organ of German Baptists, substantial and important action on the subject of temperance was taken by the church at Pipe Creek, Md., as early as 1778. A resolution was then adopted forbidding the brethren to engage in the manufacture of intoxicating drinks, and in 1804 it was decided by unanimous vote that no member of the church should engage in the sale of strong drink. In 1822 it was ordered that no brother should give strong drink at the sale of his property. In 1840 a protest was entered against the common custom among farmers of furnishing intoxicating liquor to harvest hands. This is a good record, of which that particular church will have right to boast in time to come.

Crime and drunkenness are terribly on the increase in France. There is said to be one public house for every eight or ten inhabitants, and houses of ill repute are rapidly multiplying. The regular Paris correspondent of the Evangelical Christian-ity attributes these results, together with a vast increase in the number of criminals under sixteen and between sixteen and twenty years of age—the former one hundred and forty per cent, and the latter two hundred forty per cent in fifty years—to the polluted articles and novels disgorged by the rapidly working press. The anti-total-abstinence talk about there being no drunkenness in France and Germany, and that the only thing we need to do is get the people to drinking beer and wine, was always an exaggeration; now it is equally false and foolish.

Delphinia E. Ellis (the invalid) keeps a supply of stationery and notions, such as suspenders, celluloid collars, handkerchiefs, combs, laces, pins, needles, gloves, etc., also arranges Oregon specimens for sale, at one of the cost prices near Friends' hearing hall. THE Bravest 500 OF '61. A Wonderful Book made from the records of the War Department. Contains 500 names, each with a full description of his heroism. A little less than 500 were especially recognized by the War Dept. as coming under the Act of Congress, July 12, 1863, for distinguished service, which gave them the United States Medal of Honor. Many of the stories, told by the heroes themselves, of how they won the high distinction, are extremely interesting. That the records of these deeds are almost unknown to their countrymen, but lie buried in the pigeon holes of the War Dept., and in the recesses of their own brains, seems astonishing. This book must find a wide sale, for it is full of incidents that will interest every soldier in the land, and our boys will glory in it. It is an invaluable volume of over 200 pages, with nearly 100 excellent illustrations, made specially for the work. It costs of its time and deserves a place in the library of all who read and appreciate the glorious past.
