George Propst was over from Champoeg a day or two the first of the week.

Send the GRAPHIC to your friends in the east for a year. Only 75 cents.

Doors and windows, all sizes and thicknesses, at DEPOT LUMBER YARD.

A few thousand prune trees to sell cheap for cash. E. C. ARMSTRONG.

Mrs. Delle Cox and Robert Raley and wife are visiting friends in Salem this week.

Some of our citizens, we learn, are the possessors of fine gold watches which they got very cheap.

Alfred Moore sends six copies of the GRAPHIC to friends in the east. Go thou and do likewise.

FOR SALE—A good, five room house and four lots. May be had at a bargain. Call at GRAPHIC office.

Eld. Starbuck of Portland, has been conducting services at the Adventist church for the past week.

David Lamb is now owner of the Cyrus Lamb farm, having purchased it at the administrator's sale last Saturday.

We are informed that F. H. Storey is improving in health. His many friends here will be glad to see him back again.

Don't forget that one week from to-night the Y. M. C. A. will give a literary and musical entertainment, with oyster supper attachment.

The Y. M. C. A. reading rooms will hereafter be open to the public every evening except Saturday evening. You are cordially invited to drop in.

Mrs Hartley's address Sabbath evening on the Peculiarities of the Bible was one of the best addresses she has ever given here. She is a thorough bible student.

Lay all your plans to attend the Y. M. C. A. entertainment and oyster supper, Friday evening, Jan. 29. Entertainment free; supper 25 cents. Everybody invited.

Joseph Wilson, the grocer, is confined at home this week with the grip, though not seriously sick. Charley has been tending store, consequently has had to remain out of school.

A son of Mr Jagger arrived here last week from Nebraska, and will spend the winter with his parents. He is accompanied by a friend from Kansas whose name we did not learn.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robertson, of Portland, are the happy parents of a fine baby boy, born Friday, the 15th. Grandfather Hoskins also wears a pleasant expression of countenance.

D. W. Cummins has evidently grown tired of his cramped bachelor quarters, and is building a neat and commodious residence on his fine River street tract. We await further developments.

CHEAP LAND—10 acres best fruit land, nearly all in cultivation, beautiful situation in Sunnyside, 5 miles from Salem $35.00 per acre. OREGON LAND CO., Salem, Oregon.

The Dorrance boys have bought a two-acre piece of D. W. Cummins on River street, and are building a large house on it. Possibly there may be another Mrs. Dorrance in the family in the near future.

The public school will give a public entertainment tomorrow (Saturday) evening at Friends' church. Admission 10 cents. Proceeds go to the school. A pleasant evening's entertainment will no doubt be the result.

County School Superintendent L. H. Baker informs us that he has appointed Mr. L. H. Rhodes as deputy superintendent, and that during office hours he may be found upstairs in Wright's building, at McMinnville.

Young man, you cannot spend a leisure hour more profitably than in reading. You are invited to spend your evenings at the reading rooms, where you will find a good supply of the best and latest magazines and newspapers.

Mrs Helen Harford will address the prohibition club at the G. A. R. hall next Saturday evening, the 23rd. She is a noted temperance worker, who has settled among us, and she will doubtless have a good audience. Go and hear her.

A man who puts a fair amount of brains into his business generally puts an advertisement in the local newspaper. It is only cranks and freaks in this age of the world who stop to argue that intelligent advertising is not profitable.—Reporter.

A friend of J. H. Todd, Rev. Harry Watkins, a Christian minister from California, will be here on Saturday evening, the 30th, and preach every evening for a week. His meetings will be held in the Evangelical church. He is said to be a splendid speaker.

Wm. P. Smith, a brother-in-law of Martin Cook and a cousin of Elisha Smith, has been looking over this section of Oregon with a prospect of locating either at Salem or Newberg. We learn that he returned to Iowa this week, and will bring his family out soon.

The carpenter work on the Baptist church is completed. Considering the disadvantages under which they have worked, Messrs. Hanson & Johnson did an excellent job. When painted, the church will present an excellent appearance, and be a credit to the town. We hope soon to see a resident pastor here, and a membership in proportion to the church edifice. Baptists as a class are good people, and we hope they may prosper in Newberg.

The white flag that has hung from the top of the signal staff during the week has been hailed with delight.

The social and entertainment at G. A. R. hall last Saturday evening was voted a success by all who attended.

All our delegates who attended the horticultural meeting at Portland seemed well pleased with the work of the gathering.

Tarrant & Son have been put to great inconvenience by the washing out of their dam, as there is too much water to repair it and they find it difficult to get wood hauled for the engine.

How does this strike you for a proposition? If any of our subscribers want to send the GRAPHIC to friends in the east for a year, we will take subscriptions of this kind for the next thirty days at the low price of 75 cents. Just half price.

We suggest that the school board hire some man to fix up the fence around the school ground. They could more than save his wages by saving the loose boards that are now being broken and wasted by being tramped in the mud or carried away.

Mr. Lonsdale, of La Fayette, who is setting 160 acres to fruit near there, came down last Saturday and engaged Miles Reece, deputy county surveyor, to set 20,000 stakes for his orchard. Miles and D. P. Stratton went up Monday to commence work.

A gentleman named Valentine, the husband of Mrs. Valentine who has lived here for the last two years, arrived here Monday evening from British Columbia, where we understand he is interested in a shingle factory. He will take his family back with him.

CHEAP LAND—30 acres three miles from Turner, all good bottom land in cultivation, good orchard, two springs, nine room two story house hard finished, good barn and other outbuildings, $2,500. OREGON LAND CO., Salem, Oregon.

Many persons who have recovered from la grippe are now troubled with a persistent cough. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will promptly loosen his cough and relieve the lungs, effecting a permanent cure in a very short time. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. F. Moore & Co., Druggists.

Somebody in this town is furnishing boys with cigarettes and tobacco, which is contrary to law. It is small business for a dealer to sell tobacco to boys, even when the law is not against them, but in this case it is even worse. Who the guilty parties are, we do not know but the parents of someof these boys would do well to investigate.

Rev. W. C. Kantner, late of the LaFayette seminary, has resigned that position and accepted a unanimous call to the pastorate of the Congregational church in Corvallis, in which city he formerly lived. In his departure the seminary loses an able president, and the county a valuable educator and an intelligent and excellent citizen.—Reporter.

"In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. F. Moore & Co., Druggists.

Every man in the valley who has an orchard, either large or small, ought to attend the horticultural meeting tomorrow afternoon. If an orchard is worth having at all, it is worth taking the best of care of and these meetings are held for the mutual benefit of all. The best informed fruit men who attended the state meeting at Portland said they were still learning every day.

Allen Cook got a reminder that there is something besides fun about a football game last Saturday. He was standing inside the college building close to the window through which some of the boys kicked a football. A piece of the shattered glass struck him on the head, making quite a wound which bled freely. It was not so serious as it might have been, however, and he is not compelled to lose any time on account of it.

The next meeting of the horticultural society will be held at G. A. R. hall, over Maris' harness shop, next Saturday, Jan. 23, at 2 p. m. The program is as follows: "What is the Future Prospect of the Fruit Industry," by E. H. Skinner, Jesse Edwards and Elisha Smith; "Growing Small Fruits for Canning," by G. L. Stabler, and "Grading Prunes," by Paul Macy. These are all questions that are claiming the attention of our people, and there ought to be a large attendance. Tell your neighbor about the meeting and ask him to attend and get interested in the work.

Go to Townsend's for your cook stoves.

For Sale.

Two 2 year-old colts, of good stock and good size. THOMAS DUNCAN.

46 acres of land, two miles from Newberg. Good house and barn and good water. 15 acres in orchard of prunes, peaches and apples. Splendid soil. A. K. COOPER & CO.

Just why parents will allow their children to "chaw" gum, which is not only disgusting but injurious to health, is more than we can account for; yet there are a number of good people in our town who are allowing this habit to become firmly fixed on their children. The same parents are bitter opposers of the use of tobacco but seem to forget that this step is only one below the use of gum.

During his visit of last summer in Kentucky, J. C. Cooper was greatly impressed with the beauty and grandeur of the cucumber tree, which grows to a stately height and bears upon its limbs brilliant red pods of striking beauty. He procured some seed, with which he and some friends will experiment in the spring, with a view to ascertaining how well the species thrive in Oregon.—Reporter.

Miss Lida Wilson, who has so long and faithfully served in the capacity of compositer on the GRAPHIC has been advised by her physician to discontinue type-setting, as he considered it injurious to her health. It is with reluctance that we accept this decree as final, for she possesses all the qualities that go to make up a good compositer, and we expect it will be a long time ere we will be able to find her equal.

Mr. C. W. Reed, proprietor of the Hotel Dellone, Omaha, one of the finest new and modern hotels in the west, says of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy: "We have used it in our family for years with the most satisfactory results, especially or our children, for colds and croup. It can be depended upon, besides it is pleasant to take and seems to be free from cloroform and the oily substances put into many cough mixtures." 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale by C. F. Moore & Co.

George Snyder was feeling the public pulse in Amity last week relative to the project of starting a newspaper. The gentleman who informed us said he thought it would be a go. And why not? McMinnville, Dayton and Newberg have two newspapers each, Sheridan, North Yamhill and Lafayette each have one, and there is one temperarily suspended at Whiteson. A town that can't show up at least one newspaper isn't in it. It is the fashion. The fashion will probably change after a while, but there is no use of being behind the times.—Reporter.

Station Agent C. B. Frissell tells us that we were misinformed in regard to a change of freight rates on the railroad for the new year, and that he has had rates given him the same as last year. The information on which we made the statement seemed perfectly reliable, but we are glad to learn that it was a mistake, and hasten to make the correction. The matter of freight rates is of very great importance to our people, and we are glad to learn that the Southern Pacific company has decided to continue the old rates, which are very reasonable.

The double funeral of Jonathan Maris and Thomas Roberts, conducted here last Tuesday, was such an occasion as our people have never had to witness here before. The first named died on Sunday evening of lagrippe after an illness of one week. The other died early Monday morning of the same desease after an illness of less than twenty-four hours. He was taken suddenly ill with a very hard chill and the second one took him off. Jonathan Maris was the father of N. C. Maris, Mrs. F. A. Morris and Mrs. Woodward of Newberg, and one daughter living in Indiana. Thomas Roberts was a man of whom we had a very high opinion, having been acquainted with him since he came to our town about four years ago. He leaves an invalid widow and two children, both sick but all improving. Those who have kindly assisted in both instances have the thanks of the relatives.

We learn from N. C. Maris, who was at the county seat Wednesday, that under a new law passed at the last legislature our system of road work is to be changed. Counties of 10,000 inhabitants are allowed to collect road tax in money and appoint one or more supervisors to have charge of of the work. Under this law our county court has decided to adopt this system and will divide the county into six districts with one superviser for each. The assessment for state and county purposes last year was 22 mills but it has been lowered and will be 15 mills for general purposes and 2 mills for road work, making 17 mills with $2. poll tax added for road work. We believe the court has acted wisely in this matter and with the appointment of men for supervisors who are well qualified for the work we look for better road work than we have had in the past. We have no preference for any one for our district but sincerely hope a man will be found who is interested in good roads and who knows how to work to that end.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ITEMS.

Celia Ward is a new pupil this term in Prof. Hodson's room.

Frank and Walter McIntire and Charles Rittenhouse were promoted from Mrs. Martin's room this week.

Maude Bowman has returned to school.

Ellis Hall is quite sick of pneumonia and typhoid fever at his home.

The school will give a literary entertainment at the Friends Hall on Saturday evening, Jan. 23rd. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged, the proceeds to be for the benefit of the public school.

County Court.

The following proceedings of the county court will be of interest to our readers: East Chehalem precinct has been divided into two voting precincts, which will hereafter be known as North and South Newberg precincts, respectively. North Newberg precinct embraces all that portion lying east of the range line between ranges 2 and 3, and north of main public road from Dayton to Portland, except that portion lying west of Chehalem creek, in said township and range. Voting place, Newberg. South Newberg comprises all that part lying east of Chehalem creek, and south of main Dayton and Portland road.

Judges and clerks were appointed as follows: North Newberg, J. L. Hoskins, G. W. Mitchell, J. D. Carter, judges, and J. H. Rees and Jos. Everest, clerks.

South Newberg, S. Brutscher, C. F. Moore, G. R. Bristow, judges, B. C. Miles, clerk.

West Chehalem, Amos Nelson, Jacob Johnson, J. C. Nelson, judges, J. L. Davis and L. F. Hall, clerks.

Dundee, U. Badley, I. R. Craven, John Livingood, judges, S. L. Parrott, D. M. Ramrey, clerks.

Dundee, West Chehalem and North and South Newberg comprise Justice district No. 5.

Died

Jonathan Maris had nearly completed his 69th year. He was born in Orange county, Indiana, May 8, 1823, and died Jan 17, 1892. In his twelfth year, with his parents he moved to Parke county, and settled on the farm which has since been his home until this time, and from which all his father's family were buried, except one brother who survives him. He was married March 18, 1847, to Julia Ann Hill. Of their four living children three are now residing in this state, and were permitted to minister to him in his last illness, and with loving hands and sad hearts smooth and soften his journey to the end. One daughter and her husband mourn alone in Indiana for their departed father, and they are being comforted by the many friends of the deceased in their sad bereavement. He and his wife have been married 45 years, and had been faithful and loving companions to each other until the Lord claimed the one and left the other to still fulfill the duties of life a little longer. While she sorrows for the loss of the loved husband and father of her children, and already misses his careful care and loving love, and realizes that the future must be faced alone, and the battle of life be met single-handed, yet she is leaning hard on God's strong arm, and can say that "Though I walk through the valley and the shadows, thy presence, Oh God, wilt comfort and sustain. The life of Jonathan Maris has been one long endeavor to do good to those with whom he came in contact, and while singularly unassuming, and estimating his own worth to be of little value, his memory is now enshrined in the hearts of all who knew him, as an upright christian and a faithful friend. Those who knew him best, loved him most. While affliction was laid on him with a heavy hand, no word of complaint was heard, and with happiest evidence of a clear title to the mansion prepared, he passed over as one falling asleep. His end was peace.

Thomas Roberts, son of Joseph and Amelia Roberts, was born at Sugar Tree Ridge, Highland county, Ohio, September 9, 1846, and departed this life Jan. 18, 1892, at his home near Newberg, Oregon. He entered Earlham College, at Richmond, Indiana, in 1864, and graduated in 1875. He was married about ten years ago to Hannah W. Thornburg, with whom he lived about five years, when death took her hence. To them were born two sons, one of them dying in infancy. He was married a second time to M. Emma Allen, of Hamilton, county Indiana, Dec. 26, 1888. To them was born one son. He leaves a wife and two darling children. His life was that of a devoted christian, being faithful in daily family prayer. He was a true and loving husband and father. Funeral services were conducted from Friends' church by Prof. G. N. Hartley, a brother Alumnus of Earlham College of 1871. The 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 12th and 13th verses of the 39th Psalm were read, and the favorite hymn of the departed, "What Shall the Harvest Be?" was sung.

On Thursday evening of last week, B. C. Miles received the sad intelligence of the death of Miss Tenne Minthorn, at her home in Salem. For some days reports of her sickness had been received by her friends here, but it was not thought to be of a serious nature, and the announcement of her death was a shock to this community. The body was brought to Newberg on Saturday for interment. There having been services at the home on Friday, none took place here, the casket simply being opened that those who knew and loved her might have a last look at her face so calm and beautiful in death. Tenne was a student in the academy here last year, and her happy, cheerful disposition made her a general favorite with young and old. She was about sixteen years and six months old at the time of her death. The sympathy of the community is extended to the parents and other relatives and friends in their hour of deep sorrow.

The following resolutions were adopted by the students and faculty of Pacific College: We, the undersigned committee, appointed to represent the faculty and students of Pacific College, express our deep sorrow caused by the death of Miss Tenne C. Minthorn, a student with us last year. Those of us who knew her personally regarded her as a true lady and friend, and we admire her christian character. We remember her as a faithful student. Though young in years, she leaves us an example which if followed will enable us one day to enjoy what we believe she now enjoys.

To the many sorrowing friends and to the relatives of the departed, and especially to her devoted parents, we extend our heartfelt sympathy. While we mourn the loss of so promising a worker in the great cause, we are pleased to have the comforting assurance that our loss is her gain.

RESOLVED; That a copy of this article be sent to The Crescent, the NEWBERG GRAPHIC and the Statesman, at Salem, for publication; also that a copy of the same be forwarded to the parents of the deceased, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Minthorn.
