It is here a place of its size in Oregon that affords poorer picking for newspapers than Dayton, we have yet to hear from it. The business men of that town ought to call a public meeting, denounce and drive the newspapers out of town, or decide to give them a decent support. As it is, there is a chance for a clear case of cruelty to animals up there.

Albany claims to have a dog that can chew gum as scientifically as a Newberg girl. It is claimed that he will take his paws and string a chew of gum out as gracefully as one of that class who touch the ground in fewer places in their mode of locomotion, and that he will even stick his quid up against the wall for safe keeping, just like a so-called human.

Maple Sugar Supper.

The Y. M. C. A. have secured a limited amount of pure Vermont maple sugar, and they propose to give an old-fashioned maple sugar supper, on Tuesday evening, May 17th, in J. S. Long's new store building on First street. Proceeds will go to the Y. M. C. A. general fund. A good time is anticipated. All are invited to attend.

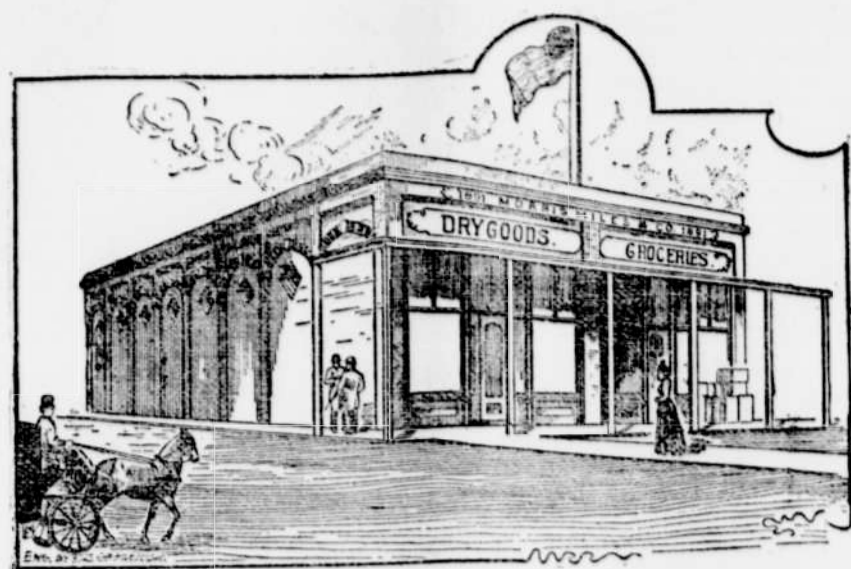

By order of COMMITTEE.

Isaac Sharpe, of England, and Joel Bean, of San Jose, California, both ministers of the gospel in Friends' church, are expected here today, to attend the quarterly meeting of the church. Brother Sharpe is now quite old, and has spent a great deal of his time in traveling. He will deliver one or more lectures while here, which no doubt will be very interesting.

Miss Maggie Inglis met with a serious accident last Saturday evening, by which both bones of her left arm between the elbow and wrist, were broken. The accident was caused by a muddy step, from which her foot slipped, causing her to fall, and throwing her entire weight upon her arm. Dr. Burgen set the broken member, and it is getting along nicely. Miss Inglis taking her accustomed place in the school room Monday morning.

The monthly business meeting of Friends' church held last Saturday afternoon was one of the largest ever held here. Fifty-four persons joined the church and four more on Sunday making fifty-eight in all. The trustees of the college recommended that the site for the college grounds north of First street on the Mrs. Daskins and Mrs. Goodrich land be chosen instead of the location previously decided on, lying south of Ninth street. The recommendation was accepted and the location chosen. This gives the college twenty-three and a half acres of land and $500. The trustees also informed the meeting that they were contemplating rearranging and refitting the college buildings on the new grounds, at an expenditure of something like five or six thousand dollars. The meeting fully endorsed the proposition. The trustees of the church property were directed to transfer to the college trustees all the real estate belonging to the church, except two blocks where the college buildings now stand, which are to be held for Yearly Meeting purposes. The remainder will be platted and put on the market.

Dr. Cornell will castrate colts or stallions of all ages when brought to him at barn and in surrounding country when five or more can be got together. $1.00 per head will be the charge. He has had ten years experience and does first class work and has located at Newberg and you that want to support a veterinarian in your community, give him your work and will take charge after next Sunday.

Church, at Grants Pass, by the Presiding Elder of that district, has by the earnest solicitation of the official board and members of the Newberg M. E. Church, decided to remain here the balance of this conference year and will take charge after next Sunday.

The New Public School Building.
At a meeting of the school board last Friday afternoon the contracts for raising the present school building three feet and six inches, excavating for foundations, foundations and basement of new wing, and the building of same were let to the lowest bidders. Those who bid on the excavating and mason work, are as follows:—E. B. Long, $822; Jones' Bros, $988; Rynearson & Headrich, Salem, $1,155; S. A. Clark of Portland, $1,185. The contract was awarded to Mr Long who has given bonds for faithful performance of the work, which is to be completed by the 10th of June. On the carpenter work which includes all needed repairs on the old building and the erection of the new wing, there was but one bid, that of J. S. Rees and Noah Heater, $2,050 which was accepted, and bond given for faithful performance of the work. The entire building is to be completed by August 1902, when Newberg will have one of the largest and best school buildings in the county, being 50x84 feet, two stories and basement, and containing eight school rooms, and all heated and ventilated in the best possible manner.

Dr. Jessup Coming.
Many of our people will remember Dr. Elias Jessup, who spent two or three years in this country about ten years ago, and who was largely instrumental in getting the academy started. Since leaving Oregon he has spent the greater part of the time in pastoral work in Friends church in Iowa, Kansas, and California. During the past winter he has been located at Whittier, in the last named state. The trustees of Pacific College have lately closed an engagement with him for the next year to work in the interest of the college in this country while Prof. Hartley engages in the same work east of the Rockies. With two men of their ability in the field we look for satisfactory results, and believe that Pacific college will be placed on a firmer footing, from a financial point of view, than ever before. Dr. Jessup, who by the way is the father of Prof. J. J. Jessup, makes it a point to succeed in anything he undertakes, and he has a host of friends here who will be glad to welcome his return to Newberg. He will be here at least by the close of the present term of school, and the family will follow later. The Whittier (Calif.) Register has this to say of his coming:
We are sorry to have to chronicle the fact that the president of the Publishing Co., Dr. Elias Jessup, is making arrangements to locate at Newberg, Oregon. He goes, we understand, to engage in the interest of the college at that place, as financial agent and worker, a position which the faculty presided in offering the Dr. for some time past. The Dr. is one of our good, "all around" citizens, of more than ordinary abilities in the affairs of life, always on the right side and with a firm friend of our hillside city, and his scores and hundreds of California friends would by no means endorse the removal by their votes were it left to their action. We trust the Newbergers will appreciate the Dr. for all he is worth. He expects to leave here about the middle of the month, but it is not yet decided when the family will follow.

Pacific College Faculty.
Arrangements are now completed for the faculty for the college, for the school year 1902 and 1903, and the places are filled as follows: Thomas Newlin B. S., President and Professor of Philosophy and Political Economy. J. J. Jessup B. S., Professor of Mathematics and Natural Sciences. Miss Ada Howard instructor in Vocal and Instrumental Music and assistant in English. Cecil E. Vance A. M., Professor of Latin, Greek and Mathematics. Miss R. E. Hinckman B. S., Professor of English. Jane H. Blair will be continued as matron. Prof. Hartley, as noted last week, will act as financial agent for the college in the east, and will start on his journey in time to attend New York Yearly Meeting of Friends' church, which opens the 27th of the present month. Mrs. Hartley will visit with relatives in Indiana, and take a needed rest for a couple of months, after which she will probably join the professor in his work.

Thomas Newlin in the position of president during the first year in the history of the college, has proven his ability to stand at the head of such an institution, and the friends of the school feel that the college is as well provided for in this respect, as any college on the coast. The work of Prof. Jessup in the school room has been first class, and his influence among the students on the outside has been such that he commands the respect of all. Aside from the work in music by Miss Howard, which has been satisfactory, the other instructors will be new in the positions they will occupy. Miss Howard will take special instructions during the summer in calisthenics, and will be prepared to give the ladies instructions in beautiful and graceful bodily exercise. Prof. Vance is a young man whose home is in Ohio. He graduated at Wilmington college, Ohio, last year, and has been taking a special course at Haverford college this year. He is highly recommended by the professors of both colleges and by others who know him. Miss Hinckman is a graduate of Penn College, Iowa. For the past two years she has been teaching in the public schools at Dallas, Polk County, in this state, and the board has been anxious to retain her in the school. She is a daughter of the late Barkley Hinckman, of Iowa, who was well known to many of the Iowa people here. Miss Hinckman is well recommended by Prof. Trueblood, former president of Penn college, and she has already proven herself to be a successful teacher. With such a working force, students will have better advantages than ever before, and we confidently expect an increased attendance next year.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of the state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. F. Moore & Co.
