AN OLD PLAYED-OUT SONG.

JAMES WHITEHEAD RILEY.

It's the Curious thing in creation Whenever I hear that old song, Do they miss me at home? I'm so bothered, My life seems as short as it's long.

Do they miss me at home? Sing it lower And softer—and sweet as the breeze That powdered our path with the snow

Do they miss me at home? Sing it lower And softer—and sweet as the breeze That powdered our path with the snow

Capt. Spencer, the new Portland chief of police, has started in to clean up some of the rottenness about the big city.

Rev. J. C. Read, the pastor of an east side Portland Baptist church who was thought to have been drowned in the Willamette, has turned up at his brother's residence at Moline, Ill.

We haven't heard a word from anybody about water works for Newberg, either privately or publicly, since we published the article from the Forest Grove Times two weeks ago.

There are twenty-three farmers in the present Congress, a larger number than usual, but there are 270 lawyers.

Calvin S. Bruce, the New York senator from Ohio, has been made a LL. D. by Miami Ohio College.

C. F. McFarland, another Portland printer, has retired with a competency.

There are any presidential nominees that haven't been "notified" let them speak up.

The first ship ever loaded at Portland for New York direct, left for the latter port last Saturday.

Saturday's dispatches announce that there are $112,500,000 in gold in the treasury.

The late Sidney Dillon left $2500 to the Y. M. C. A. of the Union Pacific railway.

The following from the Roseburg Plaiddealer will apply equally as well to this community at the present time.

Everybody should take an active part in the district fair and help it to a successful conclusion.

Judge Thomas A. McBride, of the Fifth judicial district, who will hold a special term of court here for Judge Shattuck, commencing August 2nd.

R. G. Den's report of the crop outlook, compiled from reports received from correspondents in different parts of Oregon, is not very flattering.

If the editor of the Tillamook Headlight would score the saloons of his town as severely as he does the class of women who always follow saloons.

It is wonderful with what facility Chinamen can escape the alert and watchful officials and smuggle themselves over the line from Canada.

CROP-WEATHER BULLETIN NO. 17.

WEATHER OREGON. The mean temperature has been from three to seven degrees below the normal temperature, which later at this time of the year averages 73 degrees.

The cool, partly cloudy weather and showers have been of great benefit to late grain, causing it to have more growth, the heads to fill better and to make the heavy more plump.

more than three-fourths of a crop, and in a few localities will not make that much. The cool, muggy weather has caused the hop lice to develop more rapidly and greater fears than have heretofore existed now exist relative to the probable security of a good crop.

Continued cool temperature has prevailed, the nights being especially cool, while during the day the temperature ranged from 70 to 83 degrees.

There has not been sufficient rain to benefit the crops, as was desired, yet the other conditions were favorable to the growing crops.

Don't mail any letter until you are sure that it is completely and properly addressed.

Don't fail, in the hurry of business, to write the name of the state you intend and not your own—a very common error.

Don't fail to give the street and house number of the person for whom mail-matter is intended in addressing it to a city or large town.

Don't fail to place the stamp in the upper right hand corner.

Don't fail to bear in mind that it is unlawful to enclose matter of a higher class in one that is lower; e. g., merchandise in newspapers.

Don't fail to give your correspondents your full address, so that a new postman cannot fail to find you.

Don't fail to notify your postmaster of any change in your address.

Don't fail to sign your letters in full, so that they reach the Deal Letter Office they may be promptly returned.

The only really agreeable two faced action. The door that opens the citadel of the heart.

Affords less pleasure than it begets mischief. Good for nothing unless shared with another.

The drop that runneth over when the cup is full. Operators working on the sounding board of love.

A draught of sweet nectar from the well of love. A premium on love that all are expected to pay.

Grants forgiveness and occasions repentance. It is like the wind that blows—felt, but not seen.

Something which requires two to make a good one.—Ex.
