Local Events.

Go to W. T. Macy's for furniture.
 Try Wheatlets for breakfast, 25c. sack at Calkins'.

Martin Ramsey of Lafayette, was in town last Monday.

Jesse Holson of Portland, spent a day or two in town the first of the week.

A good five-room house and four lots for sale at a bargain. Call at this office.

John Carmene is building a substantial house on a part of the Brutscher place on the Portland road.

Mr. Alex Campbell, recently from Kansas, has moved into Mrs. Westfall's house on Fifth street.

Sea-moss and Oregon coast bouquets made by Delphina Ellis the invalid, for sale at J. T. Smith's store.

Abraham Morris will accommodate anyone who wants shade trees set. And he understands the business too.

Rev. Thomas Brown preached most excellent sermons, both morning and evening at Friends church last Sunday.

Rev. J. H. Douglas will be here on Saturday and Sunday to attend the quarterly meeting services at Friends church.

Found, on Wynook street, a pair of yarn mittens, with name "Chet" attached. Call at this office and get them.

Ying Kee has leased Sam Kee's wash house, and is prepared to do laundry work in first class style.

The amount of feed rolling into Calkins' feed store would indicate that he was expecting to do some business in the feed line.

A card from Frank Elliott dated Nov. 2, said his father was still alive but very low with what was supposed to be cancer of the stomach.

Our sales on Jackets have been very satisfactory and while our stock is still complete, we would invite your selection. The styles are correct and prices low.

Joe Winder who moved over into Washington with the intention of remaining during the winter, is back in Newberg again, and says he finds this a splendid place to come back to. He will work on the new church.

The completion of the sidewalk on north Meridian street is a great satisfaction to the students and faculty of the college. Newberg has more miles of good sidewalk than any other town of the same size in Oregon.

Uncle George Myers is arranging to put in a hydraulic ram at the fall below his fish pond, in order to force water up to his house and grounds. He is fixing things up pretty handy out there and seems to be taking life very easy.

A promissory note for $70, bearing date of Nov. 30, 1888, which was picked up by some of the public school children, has been handed us by Sam Moffitt, the junior. It is signed by Geo. Parrott. The owner can have the note by calling and paying for this notice.

J. T. Moore and family, who came here from Iowa something over a year ago, and bought the Ed. Robinson place, started for Iowa again the first of the week, having so soon forgotten the disadvantage of that frozen country. He will doubtless return to Oregon before long.

Gersham Gard started for eastern Indiana this week with his family. They go on account of their oldest son who has been in poor health for some time. The physicians think a change of climate may prove beneficial. Mr. Gard regrets to leave Newberg as he says he never yet found a place that pleased him as well as here.

The teachers in the public school have been laying in a new supply of pictures for the adornment of the walls of their respective rooms, from the new lot of pictures brought on last week by Will Macy. The teacher who has snap enough for a successful instructor in these days, realizes the advantage gained by making the schoolroom as attractive and homelike as possible. Music and pictures are both great civilizers.

A few days since some Newberg parties who were in Portland, took occasion to get prices on iron water pipe and water fixtures, being in need of something in that line. Fortunately they did not place their order, but waited until they saw Frank Storey who saved them fifty per cent on their bill. It is thus plainly seen that it is cheaper to buy of home dealers than to go to Portland, and this applies to nearly everything in the line of merchandise.

The meetings of Mrs. Woodworth, the evangelist, closed last Sunday evening, having been running over two weeks. Mrs. Woodworth and her singers have been instrumental in doing a great amount of good for the community, in leading a number into the better way, and assisting in building up a sentiment that will help to maintain right principles in the town. Mrs. Woodworth left Tuesday for Portland, where she will engage in evangelistic work for a time.

Mrs. Edwards arrived home last Saturday from her trip to Denver, to attend the national convention of the W. C. T. U. She reports a profitable meeting. On Sunday she had the privilege of hearing a sermon by Lady Henry Somerset. Three thousand people crowded the church while hundreds were turned away who could not gain entrance. Enough snow fell to make the streets very sloppy and disagreeable during the week. Mrs. Cox went on into Kansas to visit her father and will probably not return before the holidays. Mrs. Harford continues her lecture course in eastern Oregon but will return home Nov. 30.

Go to W. T. Macy's for carpet.
 For a first class shave or hair-cut go to J. L. Myers.
 The best cook stove for the price is found at J. H. Townsend's.
 Benj. Janeway of Middleton, was in town Wednesday and Thursday.
 All kinds of dressed lumber of No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3 grades, direct from Portland at the Depot Lumber Yard.
 40 acres good fruit land, 10 acres in cultivation, 2 miles east of Newberg. Price $2,500 on easy terms. P. GARD.
 William Allen of our town will read a paper on the "Sugar Beet" at the Farmers' Institute to be held here Nov. 25th to 26th.

Mr. Jake Hockett, of Woodburn, who had been visiting friends and relatives here for the past two weeks, returned home Monday.

Remember, the Y. M. C. A. reading rooms are open, warmed and lighted every evening now, and all are invited to drop in and spend a pleasant hour.

Rev. J. W. Dorrance, who officiated at the wedding of Miss Ella Dorrance last Tuesday, is a cousin of the Dorrances here. He is pastor of the Presbyterian church at Snohomish, Wash.

When needing a pair of shoes or boots, call on us where you may make your selection from the largest and best assortment in our city at right prices.

MORRIS, MILES & CO.
 Elkanah Reece of New Providence, Iowa, father of Miss Leota Reece, who is attending the college, and brother of Miles and William Reece of our town, is looking for here in a few days. We understand he has sold out in Iowa and is coming with the intention of making his home in the west.

Uncle John Edwards cast his seventeenth vote for president of the United States last Tuesday, he having been a voter for sixty-eight years. His first vote was cast for Henry Clay and the last one for Benjamin Harrison. Think of the many great questions that have been settled by the people in that length of time.

The election passed off in Newberg very quietly, there being very little loud talk and no disturbances. The vote in South Newberg precinct was as follows: Harrison 108, Cleveland 28, Bidwell 64, Weaver 23. In North Newberg precinct: Harrison 82, Cleveland 27, Bidwell 43, Weaver 40. There were 20 votes thrown out in the north precinct and 4 in the south precinct. Total vote cast 436.

THE BEST PLASTER.—Dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. It is better than any plaster. When the lungs are sore such an application on the chest and another on the back, between the shoulder blades, will often prevent pneumonia. There is nothing so good for a lame back or a pain in the side. A sore throat can nearly always be cured in one night by applying a flannel bandage dampened with Pain Balm. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. F. Moore & Co.

O. C. Wright and O. V. Allen are interested in a stock company that has been organized for the purpose of carrying on the cultivation of hops on a large scale in Yamhill county. J. H. Olds, formerly of Lafayette, but now of Milwaukee, is president of the company, while a large part of the stock is owned by Portland parties. They have secured a large tract of land in the Yamhill bottoms, between Lafayette and McMinnville, where they will plant three hundred acres to hops, beginning the coming season.

The Yamhill Land Co. has bought one hundred feet frontage on the corner of First and College streets opposite Morris, Miles & Co.'s brick, which has been held by the Bank of Newberg. They will immediately commence the erection of a wooden building 20x40 feet which they will occupy until next summer when they will put up a good brick building equal at least to the Hoskins' brick and probably larger. The company has secured a valuable corner, one which will always be in demand. They are to be congratulated on their choice.

At a regular meeting of the city council, held last Monday evening, the following business was transacted: The appointment of Chas. Phillips as deputy marshal was confirmed. In the matter of Mr. Robertson who presented a bill for gravel used on the streets the council decided to take no definite action but to bring it before the county commissioners, who, by their representative, Mr. Henderson, promised to pay for the gravel, and see if they will not make their promise good. It was also decided to force collection of unpaid subscriptions to the gravel fund, that appearing to be the only course left in order that the city may not be compelled to make up any deficiency.

As a rule, there is very little in the average marriage that involves the sacredness of a sacrament. Men and women drift together, are interested, and they marry with as small regard for its real importance as if it were an evening call. Society is largely frivolous, shallow, unthinking. These superficial people carry on sight, none of the deeper and more serious feeling are involved in the union.

—Publisher's Post.
 Well now we think this is painting the picture entirely too dark. Many times the above is a true picture, entirely too often, but to put it down as the rule makes the statement entirely too strong for the facts. There are too many happy homes all over the land of ours to justify so broad a statement.

 Dr. S. N. BURGES.

Lost:—A log chain with ring on one end and grab hook on the other. Return to JAS. WATKINS.

No less than a half dozen fellows in town already have their lightning rods up ready to be struck with posoffice lightning. Think of the awful suspense until March 4, 1893.

Walter J. Hill of Snohomish, Wash., who is handling King's Handbook of the United States, the Encyclopedia of Britannica and the Century Dictionary, was in town Wednesday.

A free supper was given at the Newberg House Tuesday evening to seventeen young men who cast their first vote for Harrison. There were twenty-three in all, but six of them were unable to attend the supper.

There are now six meat markets in Newberg. J. S. Baker & Sons have opened a shop in C. H. Powell's old stand on Main street, Mr. Powell having moved to the Converse building.

Mitchell & Clark will finish their season's run this week and shut down the mill for the winter. It has been a busy season for them and they have had all they could do to keep up with orders.

Don't it be pretty well now for a while? Had you better come in now and be sold? Our stock is very complete with many kinds of Boots and Shoes for young and old.

G. W. Marshall and family moved here from Hubbard, Marion county, this week and are occupying the Mrs. Westfall property on the corner of Fourth and Meridian streets. Another move for our educational facilities.

Bible day will be observed in the Baptist church next Sunday evening. A program consisting of scripture readings, recitations, declamations, etc., will be rendered, beginning at 7:30 p. m. All are invited to attend.

Dr. Jessup, Kinley Blair and Alf Blair left last Friday morning for the mountains with camp equipage and shooting irons loaded for bear. The returns are not in yet but a regular land slide is looked for, as they are old hunters.

Mr. Crawford and wife from Dayton prairie spent two or three days in town the first of the week. Before leaving Mr. Crawford bought a block of Solomon Harpworth, adjoining Charles Moore's property, where he intends building a good residence.

Farmers report wheat as growing as finely as ever was known. The early rains put the ground in good shape for working and the continued fine weather has enabled farmers to sow without interruption. Look out for a big crop next year.

King's Handbook of the United States is presented to the public in a very inviting form. It will answer the needs of a cyclopedia for statistical information, as it contains the very latest reports. This work contains nearly 3,000 illustrations of historic scenery of the country and noted institutions. It is handsomely made and is adapted for a souvenir.

Two new papers have been placed on our exchange list this week. The Month-month Tribune, a neat new independent paper published at Monmouth, and the Psi Phi Journal, issued by the Psi Phi literary society of the Lafayette seminary, and is really a very neat and readable little sheet, edited by Rev. C. A. Bowman.

J. H. Townsend, the hardware man, has a prospect of moving the old post-office around on First street for a temporary building for his increasing trade. His intention is to put up a big building next season with a large hall on the second floor. Look out for big improvements on First street next season. The breeze is blowing in that direction already.

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold." There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so quickly; no other is so certain a preventive and cure for cough; no other affords so much relief in cases of whooping cough. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co., druggists.

An election class for Saturday afternoon was organized the 5th inst. The four commencing this interesting study wish to know if there are not others in the town of Newberg who will join our numbers. The fee has been made very moderate. Come next Saturday and see. If four others will join, a greater reduction will be made. This golden opportunity should not go by unimproved. The chorus class is progressing favorably for new beginners and are trying hard to prepare a few selections to sing. Thanksgiving eve, at our first musicale for this year.

Oscar Hobson has organized a singing class at the Grange Hall in West Chalmers. He has a prospect of a large class and finds everybody interested.

John and Charley Maris, Rob Bell and Carl Borgen left for Portland Wednesday morning with the probability that they would continue their journey to California.

Being unable to attend the Christian Endeavor entertainment at Armory hall Wednesday night, we can't give the full program. Those who attended speak in the highest terms of the evening's entertainment.

Granville Everest has been busy lately building yards and shelter for his poultry, and now has one of the best poultry ranches in this section. His stock consists of Brown and White Leghorns, Plymouth Rocks, Partridge Cochins, Wyandottes, Games, Bantams and Pekin Ducks.

J. H. Townsend of this place, having laid out an addition to the city of Albany the Democrat gives it the following favorable mention:

There is no finer suburban property around Albany than the J. H. Townsend addition. It is beautifully located, near the motor line, in a slightly place. The water is the very best, and for a suburban home there is nothing ahead of it.

Are your children subject to croup? If so, you should never be without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a certain cure for croup, and has never been known to fail. If given freely as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is the sole reliance with thousands of mothers who have croupy children, and never disappoints them. There is no danger in giving this Remedy in large and frequent doses, as it contains nothing injurious. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. F. Moore & Co., druggists.

Dorrance, of Snohomish, Wash., officiating. The Grange extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, wishing them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Died.
 L. B. Owen age 23 years, 3 months and 14 days, died Oct. 25, 1892, at the home of his father-in-law, S. Burrows, Newberg, Oregon. His home was near Winnebago City, Minn. He came here for his wife's health. The cause of his death was the extracting of a tooth in which cocaine had been injected in the gums. He was a great sufferer for three weeks and two days when his Heavenly Father said "enough come home." He bore his pain patiently, manifesting a kind regard for all who cared for him. He has left the home lonely, is missed by his loved ones but they can say "the Lord's will be done." He leaves a wife and son, an aged father and mother, two brothers and many friends to mourn for him. He rests from his labors.

A PAPER WORTH HAVING.
 The old saying that "nothing succeeds like success" is well illustrated by the career of the Rural Northwest, which was founded in Portland, Oregon, a little over a year ago, and has already established itself as the leading agricultural paper of the Pacific Northwest. It is hardly necessary to say that the success of this paper is simply the result of merit. It is no cheap concern made up of stereotype plates and stale clippings, but is bright, crisp and clear, filled with original matter which hits the conditions that exist in the Pacific Northwest. Among fruit growers it is an especial favorite, as it makes horticulture a leading feature, and gives the best and fullest reports published of the meetings of the state horticultural societies of Oregon and Washington, and includes among its regular contributors in this department such as Prof. Lake, of the Washington Agricultural College, Prof. Washburn, of the Oregon Agricultural College, A. T. Hawley and others of eminent ability. The dairy department is maintained with no less vigor, as indicated by the fact that its editor, H. M. Williamson, holds the position of secretary of the Oregon State Dairy Association. Live stock and poultry are not neglected, and progressive agriculture is the spirit which animates the general management of the paper.

Among special features are its departments devoted to the "Home Circle" and "Among the Farmers." The latter department is very popular and a special feature with this paper.

One of the peculiar merits of the Rural Northwest is that everything is treated from a practical standpoint of the producer. This handsome, 16-page paper, published twice a month, is a paper well worth its subscription price of one dollar per year, and one that every farmer, fruit grower and dairyman should have and keep.

It gives us pleasure to announce that we have made arrangements by which we are able to offer it as a premium to all new subscribers paying us $1.75 in advance, as well as to all old subscribers who will pay up all arrearages and $1.75 in advance. We could secure some of the eastern farm papers at much less cost to ourselves, but realize the fact that for this section the cheap class of eastern agricultural papers are scarcely worth having, and not to be compared in value with the Rural Northwest.
