During the past few weeks of quiet some of the lower River street people have been engaged in the good work of laying sidewalk in front of their property.
Messrs. Patterson and Giles have built several rods of walk, and D. W. Cummins and W. L. Bissell are preparing to improve in like manner.
If the steamboat companies would publish their time cards in the papers published at different points along the river it would pay them handsomely in increased travel and traffic. A good many people who from choice would patronize the boats, become disgusted after making two or three trips to the river, and the railroad gets them after all.
CHUCKEY CRY, Tenn., Aug. 22, '92.
I have used Dr. Wm. Ellis' liniment with entire satisfaction for the cure of fistula on horses; for the removal of lumps from the shoulders caused by pressure of the collar, and various other ailments. I have used it for the cure of corns and bunions on my feet with entire satisfaction. I can recommend it to any and every body needing a first class liniment.
L. ELLIS.
A. B. Dorsey, of Dungeness, Washington, passed through town last Friday with a bride he had just caught down in California. They were on their way to visit Mr. Dorsey's parents near Dayton. A. B. was a student here the first year in the history of the academy and is always glad to see any one from Newberg. He has for some time been prominently connected with the educational interests of Washington.
The Chehalis Valley Bank, mentioned last week, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. Incorporators, G. W. McConnell, J. P. Price and G. W. Christenson; capital stock, $40,000. At a meeting last Tuesday night the following officers were elected: President, G. W. Mitchell; vice-president, A. R. Mills; secretary, G. C. Christenson; cashier, Moses Votaw. Temporary quarters have been fitted up in the east room of the Yamhill Land Co's building, corner Main and Edwards streets, and the bank will be open for business by Monday next.
Don't forget the meeting of the horticultural society on Saturday, the 23, at 2 o'clock. A program of interest to all will be prepared, inaugural address by Pres. Inglis, etc. Let all those who wish to plant a tree or a garden, to care for an orchard already planted, or to share some of the returns of those who do, come out and whoop it up strong. Important business also relative to changing time of meeting and organizing a county society will be discussed. Information of special value to all contemplating tree planting in the near future, as to what to plant and why to plant it will be a feature.

Fresh corn meal at Calkins'.
Mrs. M. A. Cox of Whiteson, was in town last Saturday.
W. P. Heacock will sell good shingles for $1.75 per thousand.
Calkins' seems to be doing a good business in the feed line.
Mordecai Ellis, of Middleton, was in town last Monday on business.
N. E. Britt returned from a trip to southern Oregon the first of the week.
Are you going to the World's Fair? If so call and see me. J. H. TOWNSEND.
Mrs. A. S. Craven and daughter, were up from Middleton on Thursday of last week.
Go to C. F. Moore & Co., for Dr. Wm. Ellis' Liniment.

Attorney O. H. Irvine, of McMinnville, was in town Monday pointing out to the city fathers, some needed changes in the city charter.
Charley Butler who has a fancy for blooded fowls is ready to furnish the public with eggs, as may be seen from his advertisement in this issue.
Revival services to be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Thomas Brown, will begin at Friends church tonight. An invitation is extended to the public to attend.
L. A. Clark who moved the college buildings last summer was one of the unfortunate passengers in the railroad wreck last Sunday, getting his side and hip injured.
People about town who have pet rabbits running at large will do well to look after their young fruit trees. One healthy tree is worth an acre of rabbits no difference of what hue or color they may be.
Nine tenths of the property owners in Newberg have no shade trees in front of their residences. Consequently we are forced to conclude that this number of our residents care neither for comfort nor for beautifying their homes.
E. H. Skinner returned from his visit to Marysville, California, last week. His stay there was not at all what he had hoped for, owing to high water, etc., as his letters indicated. He is glad to be back again in his Oregon home. His son has charge of the citrus fair now being held in San Francisco.
You have doubtless noticed in this paper the advertisement of Posson & Son, the Portland seedsmen, but your careful attention is called to the statement regarding the amount of seeds and supplies recently received by them from the east. They are Pacific coast agents for D. M. Ferry & Co., who have a reputation second to none in America, and our readers are asked to give their seeds a trial this season.
In a letter received from Dr. Jessup the first of the week, he related encounters with fox snow drifts and nor'westers, in a way that is calculated to make an Oregonian shiver as he conveys himself with the fact that it is really good to be here. When writing he expected to start east the next day but the date of his sailing was not then fixed. He intended to call on Prof. Benj. Trueblood in Boston.
"In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. A. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable. It is intended especially for colds, croup and whooping cough." 50 cent bottles for sale by C. F. Moore & Co.
The lecture at the college on Friday night of last week by Prof. Getz, of the Monmouth Normal School, was attended by a fair sized audience. The subject was not a new one but, "The Boy—The Girl," and just what is best to do with them, is a question that is always up before thinking people for solution, and the audience paid the closest attention to the lecture throughout. It was quite lengthy, but it is a rare thing to hear so long a lecture delivered that is so full of good things as this one was from beginning to close, without any superfluous expressions or repetitions.
At the meeting of the stockholders of the Newberg Fair Association held last Monday the following gentlemen were elected as a board of directors for the coming year, viz: J. L. Hoskins, D. Tallman, N. C. Christenson, Wm. Stratton and E. C. Armstrong. On account of the extremely unfavorable weather during fair week last fall, the directors were requested to consult with our local weather prophets, William Everest and George Myers before fixing the date for the fair next fall. The new board elected J. L. Hoskins president, N. C. Christenson secretary and Joseph Wilson treasurer.

Mr. Willie Beharrell came up from Portland to spend Sabbath with his sister Ethel, who is attending Pacific College.
30 acres of fruit land two miles east of Newberg for sale. J. BURR MOORE, Portland, Or.
W. S. Reece has been improving his time of late by building a neat picket fence around his lot on west Fifth street.
Hon. Lydell Baker of Portland, was billed for the third lecture in the college course last night, the subject being "Abraham Lincoln."
Mr. Frank Cummins, a nephew of D. W. Cummins, arrived here last week from Great Bend, Kansas, and intends to make Oregon his home in the future.
The parties owning the lots between First and Hancock streets, west of Central addition, should take enough pride in the appearance of the town to clear them up.
Dr. B. F. Fuller, Christian minister will begin a protracted meeting at the Evangelical church in this city Friday eve, Jan. 20. Everybody invited to come out and hear the word.
S. M. Calkins has put in a stock of harness goods and material at C. Maris' old stand, and asks a share of your patronage when needing harness or repair work of any kind. C. Maris will have charge of the shop.
Horsemen will take notice that the Clydesdale stallion "Zero," owned by the Newberg Clydesdale Horse Co., will be sold at public sale Jan. 28, 1911, at 2 p. m. Sale to take place at Rogers' livery stable.
Some of the unsightly logs and stumps along Piety Knoll, east of the depot, have been gathered up and burned, improving the appearance of that locality greatly. There is room for still more improvement in that line however.
We take this means of expressing our thanks to those of our readers who have read the advertisements of F. L. Posson & Son in the Graphic, have patronized them. They are worthy your confidence and patronage.
Don't say anything about it, but the people of Newberg are promised a rare treat some time next month, in the form of a concert by the best musical talent of the town, to be given under the auspices of the Newberg cornet band. Save a quarter for the boys.
Mrs. Hagee, wife of Grover Hagee, died on last Sunday morning after a week's illness. The funeral took place on Monday from the Baptist church. Mrs. Edwards conducting the funeral ceremonies. The deceased left an infant child and a young husband to mourn her untimely death.
Abram Morris says he finds some parties who say they intend to set shade trees later on in the season. We would say to such as are reasoning thus, that the later tree planting is put off from this time on, especially shade trees that will not be cultivated, the less likely they are to live, to say nothing of making a good growth.
Frank Storey and Ed Holt each purchased a new guitar last week, and all their spare time is occupied in practice. Ed Hampton is also industriously cultivating the acquaintance of this particular style of stringed instrument, and we hope to be able at no very distant day to announce that they will give a public exhibition of their skill.
John Brown closed a contract with the Duncan boys last Saturday for grubbing and clearing ten acres of his land. The boys have good staying qualities, and consequently have the reputation for "staying with the ship" whenever they take a job, which can't be said of everybody who takes jobs of grubbing in this country.
For pains in the chest there is nothing better than a flannel cloth saturated with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It will produce a counter irritation without blistering, and is not so disagreeable as mustard; in fact is much superior to any plaster on account of its pain-relieving qualities. If used in time it will prevent pneumonia. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. F. Moore & Co.
The prospect now is that the brick factory will start up again next week. Edwards and Wetherell inform us that they have contracted with an expert burner who is furnished by the Chicago firm that they bought their machinery of. He is now on his way and will be here ready for business in a few days. Everybody is anxious to see the factory running again in good shape. Some of the hands have been kept busy cutting wood and getting out ties for the switch from the railroad.

Miss Jane Varner visited with her parents at Sherwood last Sunday.
Ed Rogers has sold his confectionery (?) stand to parties up the valley.
Spencer Haworth has moved his family into their new quarters, corner First and Center streets.
A. W. Morris has been planting some shade trees about Charley Spaulding's premises this week.
Paul Macy has built sidewalk in front of his lots on Wynoski street, and is preparing to set some shade trees.
The ladies aid society of the M. E. church will give an oyster supper at the church on Friday evening of next week.
Lost—Last Friday evening between the post office and Mrs. Williams', a brown silk muffler with cream spots. Please return to Mrs. M. E. Baldwin.
WANTED—A responsible man to rent part of a farm and superintendent fruit tract. J. BURR MOORE, Portland, Or.
If it is a true sign of spring to see two young people of opposite sex sitting on the veranda in the gloaming, then we may be sure that the time "when the roses come again" isn't very far about here.
The public library which has been in charge of J. T. Smith for several years has been turned over to Pacific College. It contains about 150 volumes of such a class of books as will be of special benefit to the college.
You cannot fail to notice the advertisement of the Oak Grove Poultry Yards, on this page. Granville Everest, proprietor, has been to considerable expense in fixing up yards and securing the best of stock, and can surely suit most any one wishing anything in his line.
F. H. Howard has this week received from San Francisco a fine watch makers' desk. It is solid walnut, with oval, sliding top, enabling him to close and lock his tools and materials away from the dust and the hands of mischievous persons with a desire to accumulate wealth unlawfully.
The next mother's meeting will be held at Mrs. Tallman's, on Wynoski street, on next Wednesday, the 25. Subject, "Purity of Action." It is to be hoped and urged that many mothers of the town will take advantage of these meetings which are always interesting and instructive, and be present.
L. S. P. HAWORTH, Supt.
Every man, or woman, who is making any preparations at all to fruit growing in this community, ought to read and ponder over some of the points made by E. C. Armstrong in an article in this issue. There is a whole lot of unvarnished truth in his statements that will come home to several people at no distant day if a change is not made.
The meeting of the W. C. T. U. held on last Wednesday afternoon in commemoration of the Crusade of 1874, was an occasion of interest. The president opened the meeting by reading the "Crusade Psalm, (146) giving appropriate explanation why it came to be so called, bringing in a touching incident from the life of Mrs. Thompson the first crusader, and Miss Howard sang the hymn that was sung on that occasion. Mrs. Cox gave the history of the crusade, and Mrs. Harford, of the organization and influence of the W. C. T. U., which were both interesting and inspiring. Then Miss Howard, who is our local superintendent of Physical Culture, favored us with a paper on her department work, which was most interesting and instructive. She also entertained us highly with good vocal music suited to the occasion. Mrs. Sarah Morris gave her personal experience as a crusader. And we felt proud to have even one left to tell the story of the wonderful anointing God gave his daughters at that memorable time, and we thank Him for the W. C. T. U. which is termed the "Sober second thought of the Crusade." M. E. A.

A Bad Wreck.

The regular Sunday wood train which leaves the Jefferson street station in Portland at 8 o'clock in the morning was badly wrecked on last Sunday morning about two miles this side of Oswego, which resulted in the more or less serious injury of 16 persons. Every one on board except engineer Miller and conductor Kennedy was injured and some of them seriously.

The train consisted of a locomotive and caboose and 24 flatcars. Seven flatcars were between the locomotive and caboose and the other 17 were behind. While going around a sharp curve and approaching a trestle the conductor who was on the engine, noticed a tree which had been blown across the track in the night. The engineer saw the tree at the same time and shut off the steam and both jumped off and escaped uninjured. The engine struck the tree which was three or four feet in diameter, and broke it in two. Pushing the parts aside the engine and seven flat cars passed on and tumbled off the trestle falling into the branch, a distance of 16 feet. The caboose containing Sekel Herrman and L. A. Clark, wood dealers, and 15 men who were going out to load the cars, fell on the other side of the trestle, smashing it in pieces. The fireman went down with the engine and was badly bruised and scalded. Herrman was hurt about the head and spine while Clark had his side and hip injured. The others had legs and arms broken and were hurt in various ways. Relief was summoned from Portland as soon as possible and the wounded were taken to the Good Samaritan and St. Vincent's hospital where they were properly cared for.

The wreck was cleared so that no delay of Monday's trains was necessary.

LATER—Since writing the above the fireman and one of the other men have died. It has leaked out that a fellow who left Oswego on the morning of the accident for a days hunt saw the tree on the track but was too indolent or criminally negligent to go and tell the officials about it. He climbed over the log and went on his way but had not got out of hearing before the crash came. The theory of total depravity would certainly apply in this fellows case.
