Do You Wish the Finest Bread and Cake?

It is conceded that the Royal Baking Powder is the purest and strongest of all the baking powders.

The purest baking powder makes the finest, sweetest, most delicious food. The strongest baking powder makes the lightest food.

That baking powder which is both purest and strongest makes the most digestible and wholesome

Why should not every housekeeper avail herself of the baking powder which will give her the best food with the least trouble?

Avoid all baking powders sold with a gift or prize, or at a lower price than the Royal, as they invariably contain alum, lime or sulphuric acid, and render the food unwholesome.

Certain protection from alum baking powders can be had by declining to accept any substitute for the Royal, which is absolutely pure.

HATS OFF TO A TENDERFOOT.

Something That a Fairly Good Citizen Will Do When He Has the Chance. The West Makes Due Acknowledgment to a Mr. Payne from the East.

There are quantities of baking powders in the market to use which is cer-tain detriment to the health of the consumer. They are made from alum, or improperly compounded from other chemicals, so that they leave a strong alkaline residuum in the food, Many of these powders, having proved unsalable in the East, have been collected by their manufacturers from the dealers with whom they were left on commission, and shipped to the Pacific Coast. In the etfort to gain a foothold in this mark-t their unscrupulous manufacturers have indulged in extravagant statements both with reference to their own and other brands, claiming the most improbable indorsements for theirs and defaming the brands best known and longest used upon the Pacific Coast.
