Starting back I dropped the lamp in my amazement and horror, and looked to see the SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO. flame set fire to the woodwork, but the lamp expired without doing further mischief than to leave me in profound darkchief than to leave me in profound dark-ness with that sobbing unknown thing at my doorway.

I rushed into my room and bolted the door, but soon felt ashamed of my terror, took another lighted lamp and searched again. This time I saw it, but vaguely, between me and the hall window. The next instant arms of supernatural strength seized me in a deadly embrace, which seemed actually to chill the blood in my veins, while in my face I felt an icy breath fetid and odorous of the corruption of the grave. I could dimly discern a ghastly, unearthly countenance close to mine and eyes lighted with a fire not of earth. A sickening terror seized me, my head began to reel and I felt myself sinking into in-

When I came to myself it was broad daylight, and I was alone. Sitting up I looked about me for the thing with which I had grappled the night before, but I was alone, and in my grasp was a fragment of cloth. It was a rotting rag and I detected at once the horrid, grave like odor that had overpowered me the night before. When I could get up I went to my mirror, and there, about my throat, were the cruel marks of clawlike murderous fingers.

Still distrustful of my own imagination, for I was as complete a skeptic by nature in regard to supernatural matters as could be found, indeed I leaned strongly toward materialism in those days, I resolved to let some of my companions see the marks on my throat and judge for themselves, though I kept the cause of them a secret, but every one that beheld them recognized them for what they were, and I stood a

The Tucson Star says: A miner in his city from the Harqua Hala mines says that two men stopped at the mine last week answering the description of Sontag and Evans, the Visalia train-robbers. They were on horseback, and were heavily armed. They appeared very nervous, and did not stop to talk very long to any one.

An attempt to play a practical joke on one of the Indians encamped near Umatilla, Or., came near causing an outbreak the other day. The trouble arose over a pair of gloves belonging to the Indian, which were hidden by a young man. The brave called to his assistance a dozen of his fellows, who succeeded in terrifying the joker, and the gloves were returned.

An effort will be made within a few days to secure a meeting of the Native Sons of Oregon who are among the leg-islators. There are fully fifteen in the House and a number in the Senate who were born in this State, and it is thought considerable interest in the organization can be aroused. The Native Sons and Daughters of Oregon has a membership of 100 in Southern Oregon, with Colonel Robert A. Miller as President. Representative Coon's bill relative to

The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bills for the fiscal year 1894 reported to the House make an aggregate appropriations of $21,677,995, or $222,134 less than that of the current fiscal year.

The Secretary of the Interior in response to the request of Senator Mitchell has transmitted to the Senate all the papers relating to the claim of Oregon Indians for money in payment of ceded lands in 1855. The papers go to the Indian Committee of the Senate, who will try and find out whether there is anything in the claim made by the Indians. Mount Tacoma and several thousand acres of land in its vicinity are to be withdrawn from settlement and made a timber reservation, with the ultimate hope that it will be created as a national park. Senator Squire has been working on this for some time, and Representative Wilson saw Secretary Noble about it recently. An agreement was resched Commander Henry L. Johnson has been dismissed from the navy. He was tried before a general court-martial at Mare Island navy yard in December last on three charges, the principal one of which is in official language "through negligence, suffering a vessel of the navy to be run upon a rock and hazarded." The vessel was the Mohican, which John-son companded and the grounding took son commanded, and the grounding took place off the Alaska coast. Such is the vessel to which he was assigned after a suspension for several years for the same offense for which he was dismissed. The court found him guilty of the three charges preferred, and sentenced him to dismissal. Secretary Tracy has approved the findings, and this action has been confirmed by President Harrison.

Secretary Noble has transmitted in response to a resolution of the House his report concerning the executive order of November 19, by which that part of Utah lying west of the 110th meridian was restored to the public domain, with all the correspondence on the subject. The documents show this land was The documents show this land was thrown open to settlement for the purpose of allowing the people of the United States an opportunity of exploring the placer fields in search of gold and other valuable minerals. All the facts connected with the restoration were published generally throughout the West at the time the President's message was issued. A telegram has been received from Colonel Hunt of the army, reporting that no prospectors had nor were intruding on the Navajo reservation.

The Appropriation Committee agreed on a pension appropriation bill. It carries an appropriation of $166,400,-000, an increase of $20,662,650 over the appropriation for the current year. The appropriation for the current year. The recommendation of the subcommittee that no pension shall be paid any persons under the dependent pension law unless they can show that they are wholly disabled for manual labor and have an income less than $600 a year was stricken out, as was the recommendation that no widow pensioner should receive a pension unless she was married to a soldier previous to 1870. The proposition to authorize the Commissioner of Pensions to detail medical examiners from the pension office to act as exam-ining surgeons and abolish the Board of Examining Surgeons was also rejected.

A great deal of interest hangs about the bill recently introduced by Owen Scott of Illinois, providing for the increase of the tax on whisky from 90 cents to $1.25 per gallon. The bill is on the other day at the age of ninety, when a girl helped to entertain Blucher on his arrival in England after Waterloo, and was present in Westminister Abbey mittee of the House, and every effort to get an expression of opinion upon the bill from members of the committee is lit is thought the British government in the season given by Chair. unavailing. The reason given by Chairman Springer for having done nothing with the bill was that his committee was awaiting an accurate statement of the condition of the Treasury before passing upon it. The effect of the bill upon the revenue has been already speculated upon. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Mason estimates that the bill, if euarrival from Denver by falling in a fit when his wife informed him that she would have no more to do with him, has filed a suit in the Superior Court for $100,000 damages against "Big Bertha," the confidence queen, and Rudolph Gorkow, a wealthy brewer of Spokane, for alienating his wife's affections. "Big Bertha" is Lillie's partner in the variety show there, and Gorkow is alleged to have conspired with Bertha to induce Lillie to discard her husband. Gorkow characterizes the suit as a bold attempt at blackmail.

In Mason estimates that the bill, if enacted into law, would make about $35,-000,000 difference in the revenues and increase them to that extent. The effect that such a bill would have upon the whisky trust cannot be given, and it is not known whether or not the whisky trust is behind the bill, and trying to get it through, but the general impression seems to be that it is really a whisky trust bill, and the design is to drive out the small manufacturers by the increase cost, which the tax will necessarily complete them to pay.
