CONGRESS HAS NOW BEEN IN SESSION for nearly two weeks and we are as poor as ever. Turn the rascals out.

PAY AS YOU GO AND IN THE RUN OF A month you will buy less, even though you may have the necessary cash in your pocket at all times. Economy is the watchword now.

THE BIOGRAPHY OF JAMES G. BLAINE is being written by Gail Hamilton, Mr. Blaine's literary executor, a writer of world-wide fame and literary ability, who is better qualified to write the biography of Blaine than any other person.

SANTA CLARA COUNTY FRUIT EXCHANGE, BULLETIN NO. 10.

SAN JOSE, (Cal.), Aug. 2, 1893.

THERE IS NO CHANGE TO NOTE IN Eastern prices of dried fruit. French prunes for future delivery are offered, freight and duty paid, in New York, at $5.25 to $6.00 per hundred for the four sizes in boxes.

IN GREEN PRUNES there is some stiffening in the market, based upon an evident expectation of a rise in the near future, either by reduction in freights or an easier money market.

OUTSIDE THE COUNTY, and especially in southern counties, lower prices are paid for green fruit, ranging from $18 to $25 for prunes, $15 to $21 for apricots, and $7.50 to $10 for early peaches.

WE HAVE SEVERAL TIMES endeavored to estimate the probable output of California prunes for the current year, but are of the opinion that, considering the increased acreage, and the "spotted" condition of the crop, nothing but a more or less blind guess can be given by any one.

THE OREGON EXHIBIT OF FRUIT is the finest in the fair, and will do more for Oregon than any other of her exhibits, so that all can see how important it is that the finest specimens of fresh fruit procurable should be kept going forward.

THE EASTERN MARKET ON PRUNES has stiffened to the extent that we hear no more, for the present, of any sales below 5 cents for the four sizes f. o. b. But at the same time almost no business is being done at any prices.

IT TRANSPIRES THAT MORE THAN was supposed of the short sales made early in the season called for Santa Clara prunes. Some of these were for early delivery, and the sellers counted on disorganization and panic among growers here to enable them to fill at a profit even at the low prices made.

the country begin to improve, however, an advance is considered certain. Buyers' views are doubtless influenced by that expectation, and by expected reduction in freights.

IMPORTED FRENCH PRUNES continue to be quoted at 6 1/2 to 7 cents in New York, freight and duty paid.

OREGON FRUIT.

IT IS VERY DESIRABLE that fine specimens of fresh fruit of any kind should be sent to the Oregon exhibit at Chicago, and there are many persons who wish to send a few boxes of something choice, but who do not know how to go about it or whether or they will receive recognition in case they forward anything.

WE ARE RECEIVING cherries every few days, which help the appearance of the tables very much. The cherries sent by Mr. Hoskins, packed in dry moss, arrived in excellent condition, and I would suggest that all cherries be thus shipped.

THE WORLD OF AUGUSTINE well apply, when we are seeking to teach our children to overcome sins of selfishness, gluttony, etc. He said: "Wouldst thou have thy flesh obey thy spirit, then let thy spirit obey thy God, thou must be governed, that thou mayst govern."

A LETTER FROM CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, June 2, 1893. C. E. HOSKINS Esq., Newberg, Or. DEAR SIR:—Dr. Guy Lewis who represents the state of Oregon at the exposition has presented me with a box of your Italian prunes (Springbrook brand) and I hasten to show you my appreciation not only of the gift, as such, but of the extreme fineness, elegance and largeness of the fruit itself.

IN CONNECTION WITH my description of these products I will not neglect to mention those pleasing prunes and I will see that you receive a copy of the article.

HOW TO KEEP OUR CHILDREN FROM EVIL. A paper, with some addition read before the Mother's Meeting, August 2, 1893, by a member.

TO BE ABLE TO SAY OF OURSELVES, "He leadeth me in the path of righteousness for His name's sake." The greatest aim to have in life is to glorify God, and thus for heaven, and to take our children, and all others whom it is possible for us to influence, with us. Can we not we who are parents or teachers, (yes, and brothers and sisters also), adopt the language of Judah in reference to his brother Joseph, in Gen. vii, "For thy servant became enemy for the land unto me; father, saying, If I bring him not unto thee, then I shall bear the blame to my father forever." "For how shall I go up to my father and the land be not with me?"

MISS WILLARD SAYS: "In my teens, I became a devoted student of Emerson, and took this verse as a motto, 'I pray the prayer of Plato old, oh make me beautiful within, and may my eyes the good behold in everything save sin.'"

IN THE MOUNTAINS.

DEAR SIR:—The afternoon of Monday, August 7th, found us aboard the train flying along over the new standard gauge track for Portland, and an hour after our arrival in the metropolis we were traveling in the same manner for North Yamhill.

WHILE IN NORTH YAMHILL we got decided opinions about Yamhill county towns and hotels, which would not look well in real estate advertisements. Of course we excepted Newberg and "Gleus" made an exception to the Newberg House.

EARLY TUESDAY MORNING we started on the road for this place, getting to the "Travelers Home" for dinner and here for supper. A distance of about eighteen miles with two hours fishing on the road—we are walkers. Some of us talk of walking down to Newberg next Saturday night in order to spend Sunday with Lord.

ANOTHER MEDAL FOR NEWBERG. A goodly number of our people, young and old, attended the Demorest Gold Medal contest at Dayton last Friday evening after the executive meeting of the county W. C. T. U.

HOPEING WE HAVE WRITTEN enough for the present we will close with our best wishes to Newberg and its friends, including the Graphic, and with a desire for a happy reunion before long, we are,

AMITY NOTES.

THINKING A LITTLE chat with Amity folks occasionally might be agreeable to your readers. I begin by saying "we are all well and hope you are enjoying the same blessing," and outstretching the hand times, we all have enough to eat and wear, are generally "enjoying ourselves pretty well."

AMITY IS LOOKING up, going ahead, improving or whatever the word is, and although in some respects we are not up with Newberg yet. We are following along at a rapid pace and ere long, we hope we shall catch up.

YOUR FELLOW-FOLKS, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow spoke in the M. E. church to a large and appreciative audience last Sabbath evening. They didn't mince matters much and left no standing ground for the solemn business, or for christians who favor license. We hope they will come again and if you have any more like sessions, please send them along and Amity will give them a hearty welcome.

specialists. Let us give this thought due notice, as no doubt the future will give multiplied examples of its value. Make home attractive as possible. Good company is important. Mother used to tell us "Be kind and friendly to all, but intimate only with the good." Cultivate a love for good reading, this duty should be carefully and persistently looked after, should begin in the cradle, the home atmosphere should be pure, both in respect to fresh air, and clean morals, the songs and conversation should "be as becometh the gospel of Christ," (Phil. i: 27.)

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Captain Young and Pilot Bell, of the Three Sister, came down the river in a skiff from Harrisburg. The object of the trip was to ascertain whether or not the river steamer could be taken up as far as Harrisburg. They found plenty of water, but at a certain sharp turn in the stream the channel is so narrow that it will require considerable work on the bars to allow the boat to pass up. A crew of men will be taken up the river and put to work along the channel, hoping to get it in such a shape that the steamer Three Sisters can carry freight from as far up as Harrisburg.

George Hamilton, of Park Place, has a small orchard of three acres just north of the Abernethy on the west side of the county road which has been carefully cultivated and which was just coming into bearing. On Tuesday night some evil disposed person went into the orchard and with an ax cut off about a foot above the ground every tree in the orchard. Mr. Hamilton declines to state whether or not he has any clue to the perpetrators but it is probable that the property destroyer will have a chance to explain to the law what his motives were.—Oregon City Enterprise.

THREE YOUNG MEN are lying in the county jail serving out sentences imposed for disturbing a religious meeting when they ought to have been otherwise and better employed, and one other is reported to have skipped in order to escape from the operations of the law. It is not at all to their credit that they disturbed the meeting and it will not better their reputation or good name to have it said of them in the days and years to come that they served a term in the county jail.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL. Henry Cook and Chas. Graves of this place have invented a machine that will doubtless bring about a revolution in the present imperfect methods of fruit gathering. It consists of a circular canvas, supported on adjustable ribs, and which is placed on a sort of wheelbarrow so that it may be easily and quickly moved from tree to tree. The canvas is so mounted that an opening on the front side admits of its passage around the tree, so that when in position for gathering it presents much the appearance of a reversed umbrella, the tree answering for the handle. At the bottom of the cone thus formed is placed a box to receive the fruit. An application for a patent has been made.
