

NEWBERG GRAPHIC.

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

E. H. WOODWARD, EDITOR & PUBLISHER.

FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1894.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Newberg, Oregon.

Portland is to have a new daily and weekly newspaper published in the German language.

A few applications of road dust or ashes dusted over the foliage of your cherry slug trees will rid them of the cherry slug. The slug works on the leaf and the effect on young trees is very injurious.

The indications are favorable for a bounteous harvest throughout the state. In fact it is already assured. If farmers could only get a fair price for their crops the wrinkles would soon be removed from many faces.

The Minneapolis Tribune talks good common sense when it says: One experiment with a Waite, a Penroyer, a Lewelling or an Altgeld is enough for any community whose people are of fair average intelligence.

For fifteen consecutive terms Benton county elected the same man to the office of County Clerk, making thirty years the retiring clerk Wilson has served his county in that capacity. Pretty good evidence of faithful official work.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good. The strike has saved Oregon one calamity. The summer circus will not reach us this season and consequently busy farmers will not be compelled to take the children to town to see the parade.

Over at Centralia, Washington, the citizens have become so accustomed to solitude since the boom passed by that the most ordinary sound grates on the nerves and becomes unbearable. Even the cows are to be fined for wearing bells for neck-ties.

By a stroke of his pen our Penroyer says, "turn the rascals out," and the state penitentiary is being rapidly depopulated by this command from his excellency the governor. This seems to be his latest attempt to acquire notoriety and he appears to be succeeding well.

If the strike results in opening the eyes of Americans to the fact that this country is being rapidly populated by a class of foreigners who are a menace to our free institutions and generally dangerous to the best interests of the country when collected together, it will not have been in vain.

If that $10,000 fish ladder at Oregon City had been built, the Willamette and its tributaries would have had plenty of salmon.—Cap. Journal.

Don't know about that statement. Oregon built a $10,000 fish ladder at Oregon City in 1886 but we failed to get any salmon in the upper river. We are pretty sure some body got the $10,000 however.

A new seedling cherry has been propagated in a Salem garden which S. A. Clark, the pioneer fruit grower, thinks will prove to be something unusually fine. The fruit is a beautiful deep red color, about the size of the Black Republican, very firm, of excellent flavor, and Mr. Clark says it will bear shipping around the world.

D. D. LEEVENS, the newly elected sheriff of Douglas county resigned the office after having served five days. His mother who is nearly 70 years old had such fears that duty would kill him where his life would be endangered, and her health was being rapidly impaired, and out of consideration for her welfare Mr. Leevens resigned.

IN LOOKING UP facts with reference to the strike in order to draw conclusions, take note of the outlandish names of the strikers of foreign accent and the twist of the tongue necessary to pronounce them. We have foolishly opened our doors to the world, and free America has been made the dumping ground for the tongues of all nations. We are now reaping to the whirlwind.

AT THE Chautauqua Assembly to be held at Oregon City next week some excellent lectures will be delivered. President Chapman of the State University will give his famous Shakespearean lecture on "King Lear" on the morning of July 26th. In the afternoon of the same day Dr. C. E. Locke will give his popular lecture "Give the Girls a Chance." On the 25th Dr. A. J. Brown will deliver an oration on the life of "Abraham Lincoln." Three bands have promised to play at the assembly.

The Department of the Interior has arranged to hold a series of institutes during the summer at different points throughout the United States, in the interests of the education of the Indians. Such an institute will be held at Salem beginning July 23rd, and continuing five days. All persons interested in the education of the Indians are invited to attend. Any one having any knowledge of Indian schools and knowing the inefficient work and workers, so common to be found will see where much good work may grow out of these institutes.

An Ohio editor says hay fever is caused by kissing grass widows. A Missouri editor says it is caused by the grass widows kissing a fellow by moonlight. An Iowa editor says it is caused by kissing the hired girl while she is feeding hay to the cow. An esteemed Kansas exchange is of the opinion that it is caused by missing the girl and kissing the cow.

Wrong again. It is brought on from the severe spanking the young man gets for feeding away his time kissing the maid when he should have been feeding hay to the cow. Hey there now!

Mr. Werner Bryman, who was at one time a road supervisor, in Yamhill county is having a new walk laid along the front of his residence property on State street. It will be of concrete and six feet in width while the length will be 172. With his experience Mr. Bryman will build a good one.—Cap. Journal.

That's the way we do things in Yamhill. The soil and climate are such that a man's opportunities for rising in the world are wonderful. Here is Bowman who is only serving his second term as road supervisor who has built a new picket fence in front of his residence and now he is talking of making a pike road out to his farm. If Galloway had been elected governor from Yamhill, whew!

This editor has been denominated a moseback because he chooses to condemn social agricultural and mechanical fairs which are made the tail of the modern demoralizing horse race, and he has been called a crank because for years he has persistently denounced saloons, gambling dens and all that goes with them. So be it, for we propose to remain just that kind of a cranky moseback while life lasts. The writer was raised in the blue grass region of Kentucky among the finest stock of all kinds, and we admire such, fast horses included, but racing as conducted in connection with fairs has a strong evil tendency and its main purpose is not the improvement of breeding horses. Do not make it a horse race with a small vegetable and floral attachment and call it an agricultural fair.—Polk County Itemizer.

Come down to Newberg in September brother Wash and attend a fair that is a fair. We don't blow in anything on horse racing, nor do we allow saloons and gambling dens to prosper. Big pumpkins and watermelons, luscious fruits, fine chickens, well fed stock and the handiwork of the gentler sex make up our exhibits. Come down and we will do you good.

Keep Cool.

The prettiest streets in Newberg today are those where shade trees have been set along the walks a sufficient length of time to get well rooted and good tops started in growth. Everybody knows this of course. Well then why don't we have nice shade trees growing along all our streets? The question is easily answered. Go wherever you will, you will always find some who have no taste about them when building a home and consequently no effort is put forth to beautify or add comfort to the place called home. The cost of it did you say? What does it cost a man to go into the woods in Oregon in the fall of the year and dig up as fine maple trees as ever grew out of the ground and set them out again? If he has a front of one hundred feet about four trees will be required. The labor of hunting up the trees and digging and setting again, and properly protecting from the abuse of stock, will probably require a day's time. This is not a very heavy outlay, is it. No, it is not, but people will go on neglecting to set shade trees just as they have in the past unless there is something out of the usual order brought to bear on them. As to the power of the city council to pass an ordinance requiring property owners to set shade trees are not informed, but if they have such power the present council can get a good deal of glory into its name by passing such an edict.

Chautauqua.

A Chautauqua Association for northern Oregon and southern Washington has been organized and a three days' program has been mapped out for July 24, 25 and 26, 1894, at Gladstone Park, Oregon City.

Among the speakers already engaged are several of national reputation. Dr. R. S. Cantine, of Los Angeles, Dr. Selah W. Brown, of San Jose, Richard Wake, of Topeka, Kansas, and Prof. Straub, of Chicago, Doctors C. E. Locke, Geo. R. Wallace, Arthur J. Brown, C. C. Stratton and Roland D. Grant, of Portland, also President McClelland and the Pacific University faculty, have been invited to assist. Also H. W. Scott, of the Oregonian, Judge Caples, Abigail Scott Duniway, Senator Tongue, of Hillsboro, Governor-elect Lord, of Salem, and other eminent speakers, forming an array of talent together the most brilliant ever congregated at one time in the state. Various musical societies have volunteered their services, the East Side railway has given rates, negotiations are being made for rates on the various railroads and steamship lines centering in Oregon City and Portland so that the excursions can come from Independence, Salem, Vancouver, Astoria and other cities.

Opportunities are offered for all who desire to bring their tents and camp on the grounds. Tickets of admission for the entire three days, 50 cents; for single day, 25 cents; for all Sunday school children, 5 cents.

It is proposed to make Tuesday, July 24, a "Young People's Day," with excursions of Sunday schools, Endeavor societies, Epworth Leagues, Y. M. C. A., etc., from all parts of the state, with rousing music and a strong young people's program; Wednesday, July 25, "Patriotic Day," devoted to the discussion of national, social and economic questions, with the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, Woman's Relief Corps, various orders, etc.; Thursday, July 26, is "Education Day," for teachers, colleges, Chautauquas, etc.

Jerusalem.

The British consul at Jerusalem, in his latest report, gives some interesting details respecting the state of the Holy City. It appears that buildings of various kinds continue to be erected in the vicinity, and that the city is far outgrowing its former limits. On the western side houses have increased so rapidly within the last few years that quite a large suburb has arisen where formerly there were fields and vineyards. Every available piece of land is now being bought up by private persons or by benevolent societies and missions, and already the name of "Modern Jerusalem" has been given to this new quarter. Last year the first public garden was completed outside the Jaffa gate, and the trade is generally increasing, especially that in Jaffa oranges, olive wood work (now an important local industry), and olive oil. The export of colocynth declined in consequence of a tithe levied on it by the authorities. It is gathered by Arabs in the neighborhood of Gaza, where it grows wild. An interesting enterprise which has recently been commenced is the collection of the bitumen which rises to the surface and floats about on the Dead Sea. Two sailing boats were taken by train from Jaffa to Jerusalem, and then conveyed on carts to the Jordan, where they were floated down the river to the Dead Sea, and they are now engaged in picking up the bitumen, which is in much request in Europe. The consul thinks it would be advantageous to trade with the inland districts if a steam launch and several lighters were placed on the Dead Sea to ferry across the produce of Moab, which is a country rich in cereals, fruit, and cattle. At present it is conveyed by caravans round the north or south end of the Dead Sea, entailing a journey of from four or five days. Kerak, the chief town of Moab, is now garrisoned with Ottoman troops, and authority is established there, so that if rapid communication were established, the whole produce of Moab would find its way to Jerusalem and the coast.—Scientific American.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Yamhill County Reporter.

Jim Henry and W. E. Martin were up to Grand Ronde Saturday. The Siletz Indians came over to celebrate the 4th with the Grand Rondes, and had not yet gone home. They were still celebrating with games and races. The Siletz is the smartest Indian of the two, and got the hi-yu time on the 4th, both in extent of program and attendance. Martin secured a foot race with their fleetest runner, and beat him easily. He was presented on the trip with a two-year-old bear, which he expects to bring down to McMinnville.

The good news is announced that the Nestucca wagon road, on which a great deal of work was done last year, will be completed to a western connection within the next thirty days. Contract has been let to J. C. Cooper and A. M. Dee for the performance of the work, which will be begun next Monday. But two or three miles of grading remains to be done to reach McCale's on the Nestucca. The value of this road to McMinnville is not likely to be overestimated. It will open to us a rich agricultural and dairying section, only in the infancy of its development. Productive valleys lie to the west of us, destined to be rich in their products of hay, grain, honey, butter and beef, and no one knows but time may discover valuable mineral deposits in that region. It is well if McMinnville gets in on the ground floor.

Dayton Herald.

Fishing for crawfish has been a profitable employment at Dayton, for several weeks, to those who have been engaged in the business. The crawfish appears to be a favorite dish at some of the restaurants in Portland, and other cities and are in good demand, of course when the dish is served it is to those who are able and willing to pay big price for it. Notwithstanding the hard times there appears to be those who have money to spend on rare and high priced dishes for the indulgence of their appetites, as an instance: Last Saturday an order was sent here from Portland for crawfish, and also to send them by team to Portland at expense of the person who sent the order. They were taken forthwith to the metropolis.

Crop-Weather Bulletin No. 16.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING MONDAY, JULY 16. Weather.—The mean temperature for the week ranged from 68 to 70 degrees, being two degrees warmer than the preceding week. The temperature reached its maximum, for the year to date, on Thursday the 12th inst., when in the interior valleys it ranged from 88 to 94 degrees and along the coast from 60 to 70 degrees. Since last Thursday the temperature has fallen, and is now about the normal. There were thunder showers over the interior valleys on the evening of the 14th which culminated in a heavy rain, hail and wind storm in the vicinity of Molalla, Clackamas county, where some roofs were blown off and the hail cut vegetables. The rainfall was generally not sufficient to lay the dust.

Crops.—The warm weather was most beneficial to the growing crops. The hay crop has been secured in excellent condition. Hay is practically over, though some little yet remains to be cut. The crop is heavy, some fields producing two tons to the acre. In a few localities the fear of danger from the wheat aphid caused some wheat to be cut for hay. Some few are of the opinion that a small percentage of damage was done by the aphid, while others report that they do not see that any damage was done. The warm weather has hastened the ripening of grain and a few binders and headers have started in on the harvest. By the 23rd the wheat harvest will be in full blast and in some sections nearly finished. Barley is being rapidly cut. The cereal crop was never better than it is this year and a feeling of prosperity pervades the farming community. The hops are coming into bloom. Spraying for hop lice has commenced, the lice are so few that some growers do not anticipate that spraying will be necessary. Cherries and strawberries are about over. Rasp and blackberries are ripening, these will be a large crop. The fruit is growing and is becoming more promising.

EASTERN OREGON.

Weather.—The mean temperature for the week ranged from 66 to 76 degrees, being about the mean of the previous week and the normal. While the afternoon temperature has been high there has been no abnormal heat. A few thunder showers prevailed, in some localities the rain being quite heavy. At Baker City 0.63 of an inch fell. Crops.—The weather has been dry and warm, but it has done little damage if any to the cereal crop. Some fears were expressed that the warm period might shrivel the grain some, but so far it has but little affected it. The cereal crop is reported from every county as being the best that they ever had. The weather throughout the season has been very favorable to it. Grain is rapidly ripening and harvesting will soon be in full operation. Barley is now being cut and it is reported as being in first class condition. Volunteer wheat will be ready to harvest this week. The farmers are exercised relative to obtaining machinery extras for the same and the labor to allow of the grain to be secured.

In the country south of the Columbia river valley the season is not so well advanced, but from that section the reports for grain, hay and range food the reports are excellent. B. S. PAGE, Local Forecast Official, in Charge.

Ministers Meeting.

The meeting held at the Friends church on last Saturday eve for ministers and workers was a grand success. The subjects presented were, "The Office of the Ministry," and "The Preparation for the Ministry." The first was clearly set before us in a paper by Mrs. Catharine Osborn in her pleasant and quiet manner and then discussed by some of those interested. The next subject was presented by Pres. Thomas Newlin in one of his pleasant, practical talks which everybody enjoys. His first point was the divine call which is essential, then God's impress, then our duty. To use all our God given powers to do the work in the very best way possible. He said if agriculture, horticulture, and business, all need a college to better prepare them for their work, then how much more do Friends need a theological school, to prepare their ministers for work. His illustrations were such that you have to hear them to get the force of his argument. I want to say all that were not there missed a grand treat, but look out we will have another one in the near future. JAMES P. PRICE, Sup't.

Died.

Elizabeth Clemens was born in Clay County, Missouri, January 29, 1834, and died at her home near Newberg, Oregon, July 13, 1894. She was married to Robert Atkinson in the year 1850 and in 1870 they moved from Missouri to Yamhill County, Oregon, living nearly two years on a farm a little west of the present home, then moving to the place that was their home so many pleasant years, and from which she had bid adieu to the scenes on earth to take her place in the many mansions of the Father's home on high. More than two years ago her husband died, trusting in Jesus. She was the mother of twelve children, eight boys and four girls, all of whom except one son are still living. She grew up amid the influences of a christian home and joined the M. E. church when a little girl and was a faithful member of the same all her life. She was taken suddenly with paralysis in her last illness and was not conscious of much that was going on, but her whole life was spent in serving God which is the best testimony that all was well. We bid her a last and affectionate farewell, confident that our loss is her eternal gain, and that she is at rest at home in the Kingdom of Heaven.

The funeral services of the deceased were held at Grange Hall in West Chehalis. Sermon by Rev. Geo. F. Round the pastor, June 13, 1894.

Elisha Smith was born 7th month, 22nd, 1827, in Guernsey County, Ohio. Died at his home near Newberg, Oregon, 7th month, 14th, 1894, aged 67 years, lacking eight days.

He was married to Hannah Smith 10th month, 6th, 1852. To them was born eight children, four of whom preceded him to the better land. His wife, three sons, one daughter, two brothers, one sister and a large circle of relatives and friends are left to mourn his loss. He was a lifelong member of Friends church, and was happily converted to God when near thirty years of age, consecrating his life henceforth to his Master's service. He was recorded a minister of the gospel by Ackworth Quarterly Meeting, Iowa, twenty years ago. His life has been a consistent one. Faithful in the discharge of all known duties, and when able always attending divine service, taking a deep interest in the temporal as well as the spiritual affairs of the church. He was a strong advocate of the principles of right, truth and justice, and ever ready to testify to the goodness of his father and the cleansing power of his Saviour's love. He was an obliging neighbor, a faithful friend, a tender father and a loving companion. He had been a sufferer for years, but was patient in affliction, and seemed fully aware that his time on earth was short and the end near, but gave abundant evidence that all was well. And though the summons came suddenly we feel assured he was ready. And he "walked with God and he was not for God took him."

If the predictions of some of Mr. Debe's enthusiastic admirers are to be credited that gentleman will be the next president of the United States. In order to make the ticket complete John R. Sovereign should be vice-president. With Jacob S. Coxey as speaker of the house, Messrs. Tylman, Penroyer, and Waite in the senate, and Generals Frye, Randall, Kelly and Browne distributed through the departments, this should be a halcyon and victorious administration, and one which would drive the bellicose "Major" Moore to drink or the insane asylum.—Chicago Herald.

Unequaled cures by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

has never been excelled for many things. It cures Cancers (if applied in time), Cancer Warts, Tumors in the flesh of man or beast, removes lumps from the bone, cures Corns and Bunions, Fistula on horses, bites and stings of poisonous insects, etc. It is good for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Toothache, Sprains, Bruises, Pileury and all aches and pains of the body, and almost invariably takes the place of the surgeon's knife in case of tumors etc. It does not eat its way, and leaves no scar.
