NEWBERG GRAPHIC.

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

E. H. WOODWARD, EDITOR & PUBLISHER.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1894.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Newberg, Oregon.

BEGIN now to prepare for the fair.

DON'T kick the sugar trust it simply got what it paid for.

SEPTEMBER 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th. Don't forget that these are the dates for the Newberg fair.

NAUGHTY boys call each other names. That is what the Capital Journal and the Statesman are doing of late.

THE Keely Institute is to be moved from Forest Grove to Salem. A new building to cost $5000, will be built.

THE Senate tariff bill has finally passed the House and the prospects are that Cleveland will take his medicine in spite of his viscious letter to Wilson.

THE only fair to be held this year in the Willamette valley north of Salem will be held in Newberg. We ought to have a big display of products and an immense crowd.

IN CONSEQUENCE of the dull trade in lumber and general hard times, our populistic governor rides on a railroad pass all the same as the common herd who are so fortunate as to get passes.

THE Oregon Institute For the Blind will open for the years work in the new building at Salem on Monday October 1. Every thing is free. Parents furnish clothes and traveling expenses only.

THE Tillamook Headlight says it is understood that the prosecuting attorney will bring the Woods ferry accident to the attention of the grand jury, and fully investigate the cause of the accident when Mrs. Terrell lost her life, and if possible fix the blame where it belongs if anyone was to blame.

LAST Sunday's Statesman contained a two column article on Pacific College. This institution of which the citizens of Newberg are justly proud is becoming well known throughout the state for the work it is doing. No college president in the northwest stands higher in the estimation of educators than does President Newlin.

There are too many newspapers in Oregon. The people can't support them all, and they shouldn't be called upon to do it, either. Some papers demand support for themselves simply because they are living. This is not a good and sufficient reason. If they can't afford no other they should honestly and respectably die. —Statesman.

IF J. E. McCOY of Salem with his six men succeeds in constructing that fish ladder at the falls at Oregon City in thirty days at a cost of $800, as he estimates he will, tax payers will begin to wonder where that $10,000 that was paid out for the old ladder was swallowed up. The difference between $800 and $10,000 would be reckoned as a pretty fair stake these times.

BEFORE another issue of the Graphic will appear our citizens will have voted on the question of wate works. Considering the scattered condition of the town which must necessarily make piping very expensive if sufficient mains are laid so that consumers can take water, it would appear that the sum of $15000, is too narrow a limit to place as one of the conditions on which the vote is to be taken. We have very much doubted the paopriety of undertaking the scheme at present but if the majority of the people vote for it, never a kick will be heard from the Grapnic.

ADVICE IS CHEAP.

There are a number of town and city farmers in Oregon who farm with their mouths and who at sundry times and in divers manners are giving much free advise to the real farmers of the country about how they should diversify their farming, raise hogs, do this and that and thereby grow rich. We have had some experience in farming in Oregon—just enough to know that the fellow who farms with his tongue only is poorly prepared to advise the man who does the work. It is easy enough to sit in an editorial chair or on a goods box and theorize on farming and figure out large profits on new fangled farming but the fellow who gets out on the farm and proves his theories by actual success obtained may then go to the tillers of the soil and with better grace deal out advice.

The extremely low price of wheat will cause the thrifty farmer to look about for some more profitable way of marketing his crop than by selling directly in the market and the following from the Prairie Farmer may be of interest to our farmer friends:

Advices from Indiana say that in many localities the price of wheat has gone down so low that many farmers are feeding grain to their hogs. It is said to be the first time in the history of the state that this has been done. Farmers who are in the habit of making careful calculations say that so long as wheat remains at the present price they can make more money by feeding their wheat to hogs and selling their corn than by feeding the corn to hogs, as is usually done. It is estimated that one bushel of wheat in feeding hogs is equal to two bushels of corn. The highest price paid for wheat at the country stations in Indiana now is 43 cents. Corn is worth from 44 to 46 cents. Hogs are bringing a good price, and as the crop seems to be small the farmers expect them to go higher when the fall market opens. Hogs are now selling at from $5.20 to $5.35. Farmers say that with hogs at this price they can get about 75 cents a bushels for their wheat by putting it into pork. It is said that the wheat crop in the state will be 1,000,000 bushels more than the estimate. The average yield throughout the central part of the state is twenty-five bushels to the acre.

A Carefully Worded Ad.

He had a poor stock,
His prices were high,
He couldn't induce
The fair sex to buy,
Until an idea
Brought to him bliss;
An ad in the papers
He put, 'twas like this:
"Ladies, attention,
This notice please read,
To my new departure
Kindly pay heed,
No more will I sell,
From far and from near,
To any who've passed
Their twentieth year."
On his store did the women
Make such a grand charge
He quickly was forced
Its size to enlarge.
And now immense crowds
There seen every day,
Emphatically prove that
Advertising does pay.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Yamhill County Reporter.

Mr. A. H. Pape of West Chehalem has bought the insurance business of Rhodes & Rhodes. He is a young man with a good capacity for business, and is not without experience in the work of insurance, having been thus employed at one time in the city of Portland. He will occupy the present quarters of Rhodes & Rhodes, and will bring his family to town about October 1st.

A. S. Cooper, eldest son of Col. J. C. Cooper, left on Saturday for what will probably be a tour of a good part of the world before his return. He thrives best in a cool dry climrte, and this he will search for. He embarked the first of the week for San Francisco, in company with Dr. Frank Cross, who has been in Portland since leaving here, and we are as likely to hear of their turning up in Mashonaland as in Honolulu. We wish the boys abundant success.

Messrs. Dee, Purcell and others returned to work on the Nestucca road Sunday. On the way they encountered two large black bears. Purcell came suddenly face to face with the first one, and was required to bring his pistol into active play. He is said to have emptied every barrel and one of the men came to the rescue with a couple of shots from a rifle, and yet old Bruin escaped. The bears are thick in this vicinity and are said to be attracted by a good crop of blackberries, for which they have a great relish.

The body of a man named Shirley was brought to town early yesterday morning to be embalmed for shipment east. He was drowned the day previous at the mouth of Slab creek, while attempting to cross on an incoming tide. Another man was in the buggy and as they entered the stream, someone on the bank warned them not to go over. Attempting to face about in mid-stream the buggy was capsized. Strange to say, the man who was drowned could swim, while the other couldn't. Shirley got taneled in a net, and even after he had hold of a rope thrown to him, he let go for some unaccountable reason, supposed to have been stepping off into deep water. His companion was saved by making a float of buggy cushion. Shirley was 23 years old and was accompanied to the coast by a wife and child. Their home was twelve miles above Portland. The drowned man's relatives live at Cincinnati, Ohio, to which point the body will be forwarded.

No Flag Save Stars and Stripes.

It is more than gratifying to know that at least one state has had the good sense to accept the oft-repeated suggestion in these columns, that no flags should be permitted on municipal buildings save those of the nation, the state and the municipality. That state is New York. A bill prohibiting the exposing of flags other than state, national and municipal, upon state and municipal builings, has been passed by two houses, and will, undoubtedly, receive the governor's signature and become a law. All other states should follow suit.

It is about time to cry halt to the demands of those citizens who, while casting the ballot with one hand, point across the sea with the other and cry: "There is my home!" Aliens have no right to demand the lifting of their flags over our national and state buildings, and naturalized citizens, in forsaking their allegiance to the land of their birth, have still less right to demand foreign flags to wave in American breezes.

Our politicians have done enough pandering to the "foreign vote," and the country has had enough of the recognition of foreign sentiments. Indeed, it is a significant sign of our times that certain alleged movements are formed about a principal wholly and totally European. Thousands of misguided men have an idea that the federal, state and municipal governments embrace a certain paternal power, and in the bitter hours of want, when despairs crouches in the human heart, and poverty distresses them beyond the description of pen, they turn their faces to these governments and demand labor and relief. Government has seen fit to take upon itself the gentle and kindly offices of charity in order to relieve distrest and ameliorate suffering, but it has no legal province, in theory or statute to create labor for any purpose other than in supplying its own necessities.

The exposing of foreign flags seem to the uneducated and un-Americanized alien not merely a compliment, but in part a recognition of the conditions of the foreign power from which the alien has fled—conditions which embrace in the transplanting of the flag all that is good, and rejecting all that is oppressive. It is well, therefore, that erroneous ideas be eradicated, and the best way to implant in the people the truth of the situation, is to exclude from public buildings the flags of foreign nations.—Illustrated American.

THE LAST CENSUS OF NEWBERG.

TAKEN AUGUST 14 AND 15, 1894, BY THE GRAPHIC.

Five Hundred and Six Males, and Five Hundred and Ten Females—Total One Thousand and Sixteen.

Almost every day the citizens of Newberg are asked to give the population of the town, but who has been able to give it with any degree of accuracy? Realizing that it would be worth no small amount to the public to know just how many people we have, we decided to take the census at our own expense and this we have done.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week A. M. Hadley and his daughter Miss Victoria made a house to house canvass and we give our readers the benefit of the results obtained. In order to prove the accuracy of the report and to be able to correct mistakes if any have been made, we publish the names of the heads of families and the number of males and females in each. Where we have been able to get it we give the birth place of man and wife. First we give the nativity of the man of the house then that of his wife, then the first figure denotes the number of males and the second the females.

From Scotts Mills.

The first session of the Summer School has opened very auspiciously. Fairly good representation from the various points where Friends are located. It is noticeable that the very class that it was thought would be the best represented is conspicuously absent—that is the young people. It is to be feared that many are making a great mistake by failing to avail themselves of this splendid and inexpensive opportunity for great improvement. A great many of our ministers are present. Perhaps when the young grow older they will appreciate more the advantages offered by a summer school for Bible study and Christian conference.

All Newbergers arrived safely, twenty-four strong at last roll call. No accidents of any note occurred. The pedestrians, who were six in number, made the best time. Some dust encountered by all, and twenty-four weak would no doubt better express their condition upon arival.

Representatives are as follows:

Pres. and Mrs. Thos. Newlin, Newberg.
Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Charles, Newberg.
Mr. and Mrs. Israel Osburn, Newberg.
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Colcord, Newberg.
Mrs. Elizabeth Miles, Newberg.

WHY NOT?

Yes, why not use home remedies when they cannot be excelled?

Dr. Wm. Ellis' Liniment

has never been excelled for many things. It cures Cancers (if applied in time,) Cancer Warts, Tumors in the flesh of man or beast, removes lumps from the bone, cures Corns and Bunions, Fistula on horses, bites and stings of poisonous insects etc. It is good for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Tooth-ache, Sprains, Bruises, Pleurisy and all aches and pains of the body, and almost invariably takes the place of the surgeon's knife in case of tumors etc.

It does not eat its way, and leaves no scar.
