We hereby serve notice on all parties using legal blanks that they need not go farther than the GRAPHIC office for supplies. We will keep a full supply of all kinds on hand.

Frank Vestal is home from Tualatin where he has been working in a hop yard during the summer. He will assist Luther Hill in the barber shop for a week or two after which he will enter college.

The farmer has to sell his stock cheap and it is cheap meat that you want, while it is your money I want. Take advantage of the supposed short life of the Central Meat Market and buy meat at hard times prices. J. S. BAKER.

Miss Mellie Douglas the Post Mistress at Scott's Mills has been spending the week with Miss Mabel Edwards. On last Tuesday evening a company of young people spent a couple of hours very pleasantly at the Edwards' residence in honor of Miss Douglas' visit.

Complaint is raised that parties who have no business on the public school grounds go there and take liberties in the way of marking up the buildings and in other ways. Such parties are warned that arrests will be made for trespass if such conduct is persisted in.

J. L. Hoskins president of the Newberg fair returned from Salem Wednesday morning where he had been in attendance at the state fair. He stated that he had completed arrangements for having the Yamhill county fruit exhibit now on exhibition at the state fair brought here for our fair next week.

George Christenson since trading his warehouse to Hans Miller for a farm up the valley is contemplating moving to the farm and assuming the role of a stranger again. Just when he will make the move he has not decided but not for some time. Mr. Christenson is one of our best citizens and we shall be loth to see him leave town.

Mr. Summers of the firm of Olds & Summers of Portland was in town the first of the week in company with his wife. Mr. Summers has been out for the past two months with horse and cart in the capacity of traveling man for the house and thus taking a breath of fresh air while transacting business in place of a trip to the seaside or to the mountains.

Rev. Post who owns land on an island in the Willamette river bottoms between Dayton and Wheatland was in town a few days ago with a big wagon load of very fine melons of his own raising. He also brought down several baskets of nice tomatoes. He is engaged in raising fruit and vegetables on his island farm and seems to be making a success of both.

The friends of President Newlin were glad to welcome him home again on last Friday evening from his trip to Okaloosa, Iowa. He speaks in the highest terms of the treatment he received while at the educational conference and reports a pleasant and profitable meeting. On Sunday night he preached an excellent sermon at the Friends church.

J. Rees arrived here from Scott's Mills Wednesday. He will do some carpentering for Joseph Wilson in the way of an addition to his residence. Glad to see Jim back again as a resident of Newberg.

Deputy Sheriff Conner was in town Monday, summoning witnesses to appear before the grand jury to tell what they know about the Mitchell-McCulley cutting scrape which took place here last June.

Jack Stevenson and wife in company with a gentleman named West arrived here from Indiana last week. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson are glad to get back to Oregon again, and are now prepared to make this their home.

The college ladies quartet was out by the light of the moon on last Monday night serenading. The editor of the GRAPHIC was awakened from sound slumbers by their singing at his window sometime during the still hours of the night. Thanks ladies.

The larger number of the hop pickers from town have returned while there are some who have come in could have picked longer if they had consented to go to other yards as the demand for hands has been very strong. It is reported that in many places hops that are not very first class will not be picked as pickers can't make wages at the prices paid.

J. C. McCrea has been hauling gravel from the river during the week with a four horse team for business men along First street who are preparing to prevent the accumulation of mud in front of their places of business during the rainy season. It is very hard to find a man now who said a couple of years ago that gravel was no good for making roads in Oregon.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drugstore. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by A. T. Hill, druggist.

Major and Mrs. Morton commanding North Pacific Division Salvation Army will visit Newberg next Monday in the interests of the rescue work among fallen women. Mrs. Morton will speak on the subject and the Major on the jubilee schemes. Capt. Milne of the tent brigade and Lieut. Conlon the powerful singer will be present and each will contribute toward making this one of the biggest times Newberg has ever seen. Armory Hall has been engaged and visitors are expected from Dayton, Dundee and the surrounding country. Admission of 10c. will be charged at the door and proceeds to go toward starting a Rescue Home at Portland or Seattle.

N. C. Maris is in attendance at the state fair this week with a dozen head of Short Horn cattle and several coops of fine chickens. Lee Stanley and Ira Hall went along to groom the cattle and feed the poultry and between spells blow in their hard earned money at the various side shows.

The Swedish Female Quartette, imported from Stockholm, is probably the best that ever sang in the city. The members all have sweet voices and they sing their national airs very melodiously. They just carried the audience away and the applause would not subside until after five encores had been responded to.—Seattle Telegram.

Eli Hadley, brother of Lon's, who has been teaching at Portland for the past two years has gone to the Hawaiian Islands to spend the winter. He has been threatened with Brights disease and his physician advised a trip to ex-Queen Liliuokalani's country for the benefit of his health. He resigned the position of principal of the Woodstock school to which he had been elected before he left.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, football players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains, and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required.—For sale by A. T. Hill.

The patter, patter of the little fellows feet on the walks and the merry shout and laughter of the youngsters as they come and go, proclaim to the world that the public school has opened again. The attendance is far short of the average, as some children are still in the hop yards and others are detained for various reasons. After another week has passed and all the public school and college students are in our streets will present a lively appearance of evenings and mornings.

Mr. Oscar Thayer of Beaverton, Washington county, was in town last Monday. Mr. Thayer was at one time connected with the now defunct News of Portland. He also launched the Beaverton Chronicle which survived for eight months. Mr. Thayer says a large stock of experience is all he has to show for his efforts in the newspaper field. He is a genial good fellow and with the stiff upper lip which he carries he will no doubt strike his gait yet.

John Hess who has been living at Eugene and Corvallis of late and who is here visiting his brothers had an experience with a horse the first of the week that came near being fatal. He with others had just started out of town when the horse began to buck and as the saddle turned he fell under the horse and was either kicked or trod on in a manner that left him in rather a bad shape. He was taken to Dr. Littlefield's office where his wounds were dressed. One rib was broken, a severe cut was received over one eye and the bones of his nose broken. He presented rather a frightful appearance but is reported as getting along all right.

Mrs. L. E. Hembree of Sheridan who was on her way to Ashland stopped off for a visit with Mrs. J. G. Hadley the first of the week.

Howard Williams has bought a team of big mares of Charley Hodson for his truck. When this team arrives Howard will probably be the happiest man in town.

Mrs. Lon Hadley received word this week of the death of her father Mr. Ayers which occurred at his home in Kansas, September 12. The deceased was well known to a number of Newberg people.

The young ladies of the Swedish Quartette when singing, wear the picturesque costume of their native land which combining with the melody of their voices and their artistic execution, makes them the favorites wherever they go.—N. Y. Graphic.

On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week the citizens of Newberg will have an opportunity to hear the Swedish Ladies Quartette. These ladies after traveling through Europe came to America last year. They have been taking a vacation at North Yamhill and are now preparing for an extended tour through California and on farther south. Our exchanges speak in the highest terms of their singing. They will sing at Armory Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings during the fair.

The school directors have arranged with Miss Sargeant the teacher of music in the college to give instruction in vocal music in the public school, the charges to be paid from the school funds. This is certainly a step in the right direction as every child should have proper instruction in music and this will give those who are unable to pay for private instruction in music an equal chance with others. The patrons of the public school will certainly be gratified at the action of the directors in this movement.

Warm Meals.

The ladies will run the eating house at fair next week and donate the proceeds to Pacific College. Those who have been solicited for assistance in the way of supplies of various kinds have been very generous, which insures loaded tables of good things. Now let the public be as generous in their patronage of the eating house. Leave your lunch basket at home and eat a square meal.
